BOGY RISES ON POWER

Muddies River Water Parley

States Unite in Warning to California on Asserted Rights to Payment

Arizona and Nevada Demand Equal Split on Electric Energy Developed

BY C. A. JONES
"Times" Staff Correspondent

DENVER, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Power, heretofore in the background of the Governors' conference on the Colorado River compact, broke loose today on a rampage that completely submerged water division between the lower basin States, the subject of discussion all last week.

A spirited attack upon the principles of river development, as fostered by the Young-Johnson group in California, was launched by United States Senator Pittman of Nevada and concurred in by spokesmen from Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming.

Substantially a warning was issued to the California administration that the power features of the former Swing-Johnson bill, which ignore State sovereignity, must be altered to allow compensation for the States, or else support of the measure will be withheld by the other six basin States.

After more futile discussion over water division between California and Arizona had taken up the morning and part of the afternoon in executive session, the conference was opened to the public. Senator Pittman started the fireworks by offering a resolution which affirmed the rights of States to their waters and the lands under them, and affirming their right to acquire hydro-electric energy generated from Federal-built dams or else the use of said dams, provided the States repay the cost of the works to the Federal government.

PRECEDENT FEARED

In a two-hour address he again affirmed the principle of States rights, and attacked the increasing encroachment of Federal bureaus in the Western States.

He said he believes the Swing-Johnson bill would have passed the

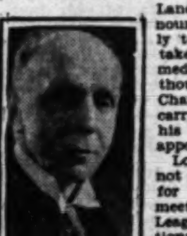
LORD CECIL QUITS POST

Geneva Failure Cause of Step

Member of British Cabinet Explains Resignation in London Statement

Onslow Expected to be His Successor at Meeting of League of Nations

LONDON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Viscount Cecil's resignation of his Cabinet post, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, is announced definitely tonight. It will take effect immediately, although the Chancellor will carry on until his successor is appointed.



VISCOUNT CECIL

Lord Cecil will not go to Geneva for the coming meeting of the League of Nations assembly. Who will take his place is not yet known.

The Westminster Gazette understands that the Earl of Onslow will replace Viscount Cecil at Geneva. Lord Onslow is Undersecretary for War.

Explaining his step, Lord Cecil said: "The reasons for my action are to be found in the general history of the disarmament question, culminating in the failure of the Geneva conference. I feel I shall be able to do better work in the cause of disarmament outside the Cabinet than in; therefore, I shall not go to Geneva as a British delegate.

"It is, of course, possible I may go to Geneva in the future as the representative of Great Britain without being a member of the government, but of that I cannot speak."

Then, alluding to the failure of the tripartite conference, he added: "I think success might have been achieved without any sacrifice of British interests. I was out of sympathy with the instructions I received."

LETTERS MADE PUBLIC

The letters which passed between Viscount Cecil and Premier Baldwin on the subject of Lord Cecil's resignation were made public tonight. Lord Cecil's letter to the Prime Minister, dated the 25th inst., intimaed he told Mr. Baldwin, in writing the 9th inst., of his intention to resign, but since the letter had only just reached the Premier, he would restate in the form of a minute his reasons for resigning.

The minute, which is a rather long document, assures the Premier that the resignation is not due to any personal difficulty or grievance against First Lord of the Admiralty Bridgeman, with whom he had worked at Geneva in the closest agreement.

"I cannot conceal from myself that on the broad policy of disarmament the majority of the Cabinet and I are not really agreed. I believe that general reduction and limitation of armaments are essential to the world's peace, and on that peace depends not only the existence of the British Empire, but even that of European civilization itself."

NEED OF AGREEMENT

Contending that this can be obtained only by international agreement, he declares the government's chief energies ought to be concentrated on attaining such agreement.

"I don't say that agreement should be bought at any price," he adds, "but I do say that it is of greater value than any other political object."

He went into the tripartite conference in the belief that an agreement would be reached, and he expressed the belief that the failure of that conference will be proved when Parliament meets.

"It is enough now to say I found

Will Rogers Remarks:

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. [To the Editor of The Times:] I see the custom authorities in England searched the round-the-world flyers when they landed. I guess they thought the boys had smuggled over a couple of baby grand pianos or some early Oklahoma period furniture.

I was there last summer when Gertrude Ederle swam in and they searched her. Figured she had brought in some cigars or cigarettes or millinery in the pockets of her bathing suit, I reckon. People tell you England has no humor, why they are funny even when they don't try to be.

TWO DEAD, TWO HURT IN WRECK

Railroad Men Victims in Pennsylvania Accident; Passengers Shaken

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29. (AP)—Two enginemen were killed and two other members of the crew injured, one seriously, when the Broadway Limited, fast Chicago-to-New York passenger train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, was wrecked this morning just east of Gallitzin tunnel, twelve miles west of Altoona, Pa.

The train was being pulled by two locomotives and the lead engine left the track, plunging over a 200-foot embankment. The second engine hung on the edge of the embankment, while the combination baggage and club car also went over into the ravine below, where there is a roadway. Three Pullmans were derailed, but railroad officials say they did not overturn. The passengers, it is said, were shaken up.

The large sampan sent out to search in the vicinity of Kauai has been out seven days and is expected to return before the end of the week.

DUKE LEFT BEHIND BY WIFE

D'Andria Frantic After Duchess's Departure Due to Fear That She Will Use Title Abroad

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—In the mid-Atlantic on the French liner France is the Duchess D'Andria, born Lucille Smith in England and more recently known as Lucille Zehring, following her marriage to and divorce from Llewellyn F. Zehring. Somewhere ashore is Duke Fabio Carafa D'Andria to whom she was married on July 25, last. When the Duchess sailed on Saturday the Duke was not at the ship to say farewell, but it is learned today that he reached the pier half an hour late in a state bordering on desperation because of his fears that his wife will use his title while she is abroad.

So eager was he that his wife, who says she is 25 years of age, drop her title that he asked officials of the French line to send her a radio instructing her to this effect. The French line officials convinced the Duke that such behavior was hardly in the list of their duties and suggested that he himself send the message if it was urgent. He left the pier without divulging his intentions.

Mrs. Valerie Vale of 120 West Fifty-eighth street, a sister of the Duchess, admits that the separation has taken place, but will not say whether this indicates the end of the month-old marriage. Mrs. Winifred Young of 120 West One Hundred and Eighteenth street and Miss Virginia Orsini, both witnesses at the municipal building marriage of the Duke and Mrs. Zehring, could not be reached. The Duke, registered at the Drake Hotel, 440 Park avenue, since before his marriage, checked out on Saturday. At the same time the Duchess and Mrs. Alice Edith Smith, her mother, checked out of the same hotel. At the time of their marriage it was reported the couple would go to Rome for a honeymoon.

The Duke, who once was a leader in the Fascist movement, has retired from political life, although he is but 38 years of age. He is the son of Duke Carlo Carafa D'Andria Castal Delmont and Duchess Giovanna Marineola di Petrizzi. He has been decorated with the Order of the Italian Crown, the Italian War Cross and other service medals.

The Duchess as Mrs. Zehring was a guest at the party conducted aboard the White Star liner Majestic less than a year ago when D. P. Davis, a Florida real estate man, fell through a port hole and was drowned. The British Board of Trade at that time pronounced the death an accident. Mrs. Zehring said on her return from that trip that she was with Davis in his stateroom when he went through the port hole.

On her marriage license she gave her address as Hollywood and denied having any occupation. At one time she was a Mack Sennett bathing girl.

MEXICO TO FREE TWO AVIATORS

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Capt. C. H. Reynolds and Staff Sergeant Gus Newland of the Second Division Air Service, who were forced to land at Presidio Oevada de Piedras, Coahuila, are free to return to the United States, but their plane is being held by Mexican authorities. This information was receied at Eighth Corps Area headquarters here late today.

The flyers made a forced landing on Mexican soil while returning to San Antonio from Phoenix, Ariz., where they assisted in the search for Alfred Z. Menard, World War veteran, who disappeared ten days ago.

Consul-General Carrillo took the case up with the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs Monday afternoon at the request of army authorities, but late tonight has received no answer to his communication.

Arkansas River Rising Rapidly

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Aug. 29. (AP) Downpours in Eastern Oklahoma and Central Arkansas have started the Arkansas River on another rampage, according to reports reaching the United States Weather Bureau here tonight.

The river here will begin rising tomorrow, it was predicted. Petit Jean River is emptying its surplus into the Arkansas near the Conway-Yell county line and the Arkansas already has reached a stage of 17.6 feet at Danville, a rise of 13.8 feet in twenty-four hours.

DETROIT FLYERS HOP OFF FOR CONSTANTINOPLE

Round-World Pair Leave Munich After Passing Up Receptions to Obtain Needed Rest

MUNICH (Germany) Aug. 30. (AP)—The monoplane Pride of Detroit took off at 6:35 o'clock this morning for Constantinople on a continuation of its flight around the world.

Perfect weather conditions prevailed when the aviators took to the sky carrying 900 litres of benzine. There was a clear sky and no wind to a height of 6000 meters. They expected to make the 1600 kilometers in twelve hours and reach Constantinople around 9 o'clock.

MUNICH (Germany) Aug. 29. (AP)—America's latest trans-Atlantic flyers, William B. Brock and Edward F. Schlee have concluded the second lap of their round-the-world air flight. The Pride of Detroit reached Munich from the Croydon airdrome at 4:05 o'clock this afternoon.

The flying men were in fine spirits and reported a satisfactory voyage, particularly so after the adventurous flight over the Atlantic Ocean. Leaving London shortly after 8 o'clock in the morning, the Pride of Detroit flew before a favorable wind, but over Germany a sudden violent east wind arose, which retarded their speed. Their arrival at Munich, therefore, was somewhat delayed.

The welcome extended to the airmen was most enthusiastic. After the manner in which Chamberlin and Levine had been treated in various German cities, Brock and Schlee were each presented with a large stein of Munich beer as they stepped on land.

Beyond accepting the hospitality of Lufthansa, the German Aerial League and Charles B. Curtis, the American Consul, who gave a dinner in their honor tonight, the flyers kept in the background. They seemed more concerned about the next lap, which will be to Constantinople. It is estimated that twelve hours will suffice for this flight. In the meantime the aviators intend to get as much sleep as possible, for they have not yet made up on what they missed while speeding over the sea. They hope to continue their journey at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Numerous Bavarians followed the example of Londoners and inscribed their names on the tail of the airplane. They were permitted to do this, but no "souvenirs" were allowed.

Many telegrams awaited the flyers, among them one from Lieut. Otto Koennecke at Cologne, Herr Koch, Minister of Communications, and the Detroit Abend Post and Harmonie Society.

CARLING PLANE STARTS, FORCED BACK BY FOG

LONDON (Ont.) Aug. 29. (AP)—The monoplane Sir John Carling is again at the Crumlin airport tonight, awaiting favorable weather for a flight to London, Eng. Five hours after a start at 5:30 this morning the plane returned, having found its path obscured by heavy fog.

"We ran into heavy fogs just east of Kingston, so dense that we could not see our way, either at 200 feet or at 5000 feet, to which we went to cross the mountains," said Capt. Terry Tully, copilot with Lieut. James Metcalf. "I do not mind fog in crossing the ocean," Tully continued, "but it is a very different matter when you are crossing mountains. Your instruments are of no use to you and you cannot navigate. We simply decided to use a little common sense and come back."

Capt. Tully said a second attempt would be made whenever Sir Frederick Stuart of the Dominion Meterological Office says the weather is fit for another try.

Can't Get Down at Croydon

Passenger Slips from Paris as Pilot, Alone in Plane, and Nearly Crashes

Thinks Now He'll Fly Back to America by Himself as Sequel to Escape

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—In the midst of scenes of the wildest excitement the quixotic Charles A. Levine, the world's first trans-Atlantic passenger, flying his machine, the Columbia, for the first time, suddenly appeared over Croydon airport this afternoon, lurched drunkenly in four desperate attempts to make a landing and finally succeeded in making a lucky descent with the aid of a pilot sent up to help him after he had come within an inch of breaking his neck.

"I guess I'm pretty good," grinned Mr. Levine half an hour later at the customs house when the petrified officials had come to life and the formalities had been cleared away. "Anyway, I am no longer a mere passenger. Maybe I will hop off for New York alone in a couple of days. The Drouhin deal is off."

It was about 4 o'clock when the Croydon officials suddenly were startled to see the Miss Columbia fluttering clumsily over the field, making a horrible effort to land and then taking to the air again.

FLIRTS WITH DEATH

It was realized that the green flyer stood an excellent chance of crashing to earth in his next attempt, setting the machine in flames and burning himself alive. Without delay an alarm was spread and the airdrome fire and police departments rushed apparatus to the field while the frenzied officials prepared for one more air death.

The next attempted landing sent the machine bouncing into the air and swerving perilously before Mr. Levine realized that it was advisable to try again.

By this time it was realized that the flyer's only chance was with the aid of a skilled pilot and the Surrey Flying Service rushed a pilot into the air in order to shout directions and

HOPE FOR REDFERN RISES

Airplane Reported Seen Over Orinoco River in Venezuela on True Course of Flyer

CARACAS (Venezuela) Aug. 29. (AP)—It was reported here today that an airplane was sighted over the delta of the Orinoco River at 3 p.m. Saturday, flying in a southerly direction.

The government telegraph operator at Tucupita City, in the center of the delta territory, wired the operators at Ciudad Bolivar Saturday that a mail carrier who left Barrancas for Tucupita that day had informed him he saw an airplane at 3 o'clock flying over a small river in the delta, called Macareo Cano. It was proceeding in a southerly direction toward the Boca Grande, main outlet of the Orinoco.

The Orinoco delta is on the course mapped out by Paul Redfern, young aviator, who left Brunswick, Ga., Thursday afternoon in a lone attempt to establish a world's nonstop record by flying 4600 miles to Rio Janeiro, Brazil. His route lay over the path of the Gulf Stream, east of the Bahamas, across the extreme tip of Porto Rico and thence over the eastern part of the Caribbean Sea to the Venezuelan coast.

Redfern planned to continue over Dutch Guiana and the northeastern part of Brazil until he reached Macapa, on the north bank of the Amazon estuary. If conditions were favorable, he planned to continue to Pernambuco, 1300 miles farther down the coast, or to Rio, another 1200 miles.

Since his start there has been no authenticated news of his being sighted, although it was reported from the Bahamas that a steamer had seen his plane, progressing southward.

PRESIDENT'S AID TO BE SOUGHT

Will Hear Columbia Basin Delegation Today

Senator Jones Proposes Early Senate Call

Coolidge Cuts Visitor List to Clear Desk

RAPID CITY (S. D.) Aug. 29. (AP)—Approval of a project to irrigate a vast area in the Columbia River basin will be asked of President Coolidge tomorrow by a delegation of Washington State citizens, headed by Senator Jones.

The delegation will be received by the President in the morning and will explain the project, which Senator Jones described as "probably one of the largest reclamation proposals in the United States, whose ultimate development is of vital importance to the State of Washington."

Arriving late today by automobile, Senator Jones declared that he also might suggest an extra session of the Senate to Mr. Coolidge, to give plenty of time for disposal of the Smith and Vare election contests. He said he sees no reason for an extra session of Congress, but that time would be saved by convening the Senate about a month ahead.

The Washington Senator reported that the people of his State have come to regard the President's statement that he does not choose to run for re-election as an emphatic disavowal and added that in Washington there is no move to draft Mr. Coolidge in spite of his pronouncement.

WERE DISAPPOINTED

"We were disappointed and surprised," said the Senator, "but Washington people have reached the conclusion that the President intends to retire from the White House, no matter what happens."

Senator Jones said Washington is overwhelmingly for Secretary Hoover for the Republican Presidential nomination. The Washington delegation to the national convention, he feels, will be for Hoover, but will be uninstructed.

In a general way Mr. Coolidge indorsed the Columbia River project three years ago in a message to the American Mining Congress, and while the delegation realizes he has not definitely committed himself, they hope to obtain his approval and promise of support in the next Congress. The project, it is said, would reclaim thousands of acres of land for agriculture.

CUTS CALLING LIST

Mr. Coolidge also will confer with Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, this week.

Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader of the Senate, was expected, but has found it impossible to make the trip here.

Thursday the President and Mrs. Coolidge will attend a county fair and inspect a reclamation project in the northern hills at Newell and Nisland.

Coming to his desk today after a week's absence in Yellowstone Park, Mr. Coolidge found an accumulation of work and cut his calling list to dispose of it.

Meanwhile, plans are going ahead for the President's departure for Washington September 9. He will have an opportunity to discuss any reactions to farm relief he may have gained from his summer in the West when he speaks at Brookings, S. D., September 10, dedicating the Lincoln Memorial Library at the State Agricultural College. The present plans call for his arrival in Washington late Sunday, September 11.

Atlantic Race Looms With Royal Windsor

come true, a dream that seemed to go glimmering when the rival plane, Sir John Carling, took off from London, Ont., for London, Eng., this morning.

Wood and Schiller had hoped for a three-cornered race, but all hope of that was lost when Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, hopped off from Harbor Grace Saturday, to land at London yesterday and proceed to Munich today.

That left only the Sir John Carling as a potential rival for Wood and Schiller. The Sir John Carling took off from London, Ont., at 5:50 o'clock this morning, with the Royal Windsor still unready.

But over Lake Ontario, Terry Tully and James Medcalf, the pilots, ran into dirty weather that caused them to turn back to their starting point.

With the return of the Sir John Carling to London, Ont., after five hours and ten minutes in the air, the race became a real likelihood again.

Earlier in the day the crew of the Royal Windsor planned to take off at 4 o'clock this afternoon to begin a tail-end chase of their rival, but with that rival's return with its report of rain and wind and fog, all thought of a take-off for either plane was postponed until morning.

MAY START TODAY

It was considered probable that if the weather is good tomorrow, the dawn will see both ships cutting their way toward the rising sun.

Wood first broached the subject of a trans-Atlantic race when the Royal Windsor, the Sir John Carling and the Pride of Detroit were at Curtiss Field, N. Y., last week.

Shortly before the Pride of Detroit took off for Harbor Grace, Wood approached Brock with the proposition.

Brock declined, however, saying the trans-Atlantic hop was just one leg of his long flight and must be undertaken as soon as weather permitted.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles evangelist, today was made defendant in a $100,000 libel suit filed in Superior Court by Bert Kelly, proprietor of "Kelly's Stables," a cabaret.

Kelly charged slander and defamation of character by Mrs. McPherson when she was here last June.

At her home here last night Mrs. McPherson declared the suit was an old story by this time and that she would pursue the same policy toward it as she had when Kelly first threatened to file suit last summer—that of absolute silence.

The evangelist, to date, has made no answer to Kelly's charge, has employed no attorney to handle the case and "doesn't intend to do so," she stated.

When the Orpheum management refused Sunday to pay more than two of the four men, all of whom had followed union orders and reported regularly for duty, the strike against the circuit was called.

BALTIMORE DISPUTE NO NEARER SOLUTION

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29. (AP)—The dispute between moving-picture machine operators and theater owners was no nearer solution here tonight following a conference between representatives of the two groups.

Both sides refused to comment on the results of today's meeting other than to say no settlement had been reached.

Further attempts to settle differences, which have grown out of demands for an increased wage scale by operators in the larger theaters, will be continued tomorrow, it was announced.

New Delay Won by Wattersons in Funds Case

INDEPENDENCE, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—W. W. and M. Q. Watterson, Owens Valley bankers, appeared in Superior Court here today before Judge Dehy to plead to more than forty counts of embezzlement against them, and were granted a continuance of hearing until September 6. The brothers appeared without counsel and were given the stay to obtain legal advice.

While the Wattersons were appearing in court bank examiners, who still are going over the books of the five Inyo county banks and other enterprises which the brothers control, are said to have discovered additional shortages which may raise the figure beyond $1,200,000, the latest amount given, although no definite figure will be determined for some time yet.

TRAIN PASSENGERS HELD FOR RANSOM

LONDON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Evening News Tokio correspondent says the boldest bandit exploit of recent years was perpetrated over the week-end when a gang held up a train east of the Japanese capital, shooting the members of the crew and all others who resisted.

Fifty passengers were held for ransom. Special trains bearing troops have been ordered to the vicinity.

JINX STRAW HAT RAISES CAIN

Disgusted Owner of Old Lid Tries to Get Rid of It and Then His Troubles Start, Including Tears, Fights, Fires, Jails and What Not

DON'T LET 'EM CATCH ME!

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—The cat with nine lives has nothing on a straw hat owned by Peter J. Murray of Edgewater. He had a hat, just an ordinary lid, burned to a fine old cordovan color by the sun, dirt and pespiration, soot, dust and handling with greasy fingers, so when chill weather appeared, Murray thought to dispose of the old bonnet.

He bought a nifty collegiate cap and on the way home in a taxicab, he took off the straw kelly and threw it out of the window. Just at this moment the red lights stopped the cab and a small boy ran up and returned the hat. Mr. Murray gave him a quarter and tried to leave the hat in the cab, but the driver turned back and left it at his home.

The next day he threw it in the river and same home to find his wife in hysterics and a squad of police at the door. The hat had been floating and his wife feared he might have committed suicide. Eventually the tumult and the shouting died and after darkness fell, Murray threw the hat out of an upper window. Unfortunately the wind carried it into another open window, the home of Thomas Gordon. When Mr. Gordon got home a moment or so later, he found the hat with Mr. Murray's name inside so he stormed over to the Murray flat and demanded to know what Murray had been doing in the Gordon home, leaving so hurriedly that he neglected to take his hat.

High words ensued and shortly Messrs. Murray and Gordon were mixing it furiously. The police came and escorted them away, failing to notice a smouldering cigarette stub on the living-room rug.

When Mr. Murray was released on bond at midnight, he hastened back to his flat, but there was no flat—or rather there were no contents in the flat. Fire had obliterated everything, including the jinx straw hat.

LEVINE TRIES ROLE OF PILOT

lead the way to a safe landing. The fourth landing was followed by a forty-foot bounce and then a twenty-foot bounce before the mad machine finally was calmed into rest and the ashy-pale Mr. Levine stepped nimbly out and coolly found his way to the officers' mess, while the stupefied spectators wondered whether it was a ghost.

In a few minutes, however, the red tape was mended and the temperamental millionaire flyer was escorted before the immigration and customs officers to explain what it was all about. Lack of a passport did not help matters and it was a good half hour that Mr. Levine was closeted with the officials.

At length all was straightened out, a limousine backed up to the door and the hatless and unshaven Mr. Levine, dressed in a gray lounge suit, stepped out to receive the press.

"Everything is great," he announced smilingly. "I had trouble finding Croydon after getting my bearings over the glass roof of the Olympia Exhibition Hall, and my landing was a little troublesome, but I guess I am a pretty good flyer."

When asked what the folk back in Paris, including Lieut. Drouhin, throught of his impromptu air jaunt, Mr. Levine smiled blandly and declared he does not believe they knew about it. He decided a channel flight would be an excellent test for his trans-Atlantic hop and now he is satisfied that the machine is working great.

"What about Lieut. Drouhin?" queried a correspondent.

"Simple enough," was the answer. "I have wanted to take off several times, but he has always held back due to the weather. Well, you can't expect to wait for perfect weather reports, and I am willing to take the risk. He is not, so I guess I will go on ahead. The terms of our contract permit me to break it, simply paying him $4000, which I will do."

Mr. Levine intimated negotiations with several British pilots to take Lieut. Drouhin's place are under way, but he insisted that it is possible that he will hop off alone in a couple of days direct from England to New York.

"If anybody followed me in an airplane from Paris I did not know it, and I do not care," was Mr. Levine's answer to a report of an air chase.

The Croydon officials declare the landing was the most dramatic in the history of the field. They believe the flyer's greenness courted almost certain death, which was made still more inevitable by a faulty stabilizer. The machine and the owner, however, both are unscratched and the authorities are prepared for Mr. Levine's next revel by holding the Columbia ready for him to dash off at a moment's notice, if necessary.

PARIS AGOG OVER SURPRISING FLIGHT

PARIS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Charles A. Levine's surprising jump today from Le Bourget flying field here to London, in his trans-Atlantic airplane Columbia, is the talk of Paris tonight.

All the afternoon newspapers strung great headlines across their front pages to let the public know the Columbia had flown from her coop, leaving Maurice Drouhin, the French aviator, behind with no present means of achieving his ambition to fly to New York. Even those who openly have expressed a dislike of Mr. Levine's methods in getting ready for the return flight, complimented him on his cleverness in slipping away unannounced as pilot of the plane which he was supposed to know only as a passenger.

There was consternation among the pilots at Le Bourget when they learned the American business man had gone away in the Columbia. In the fraternity of French airmen, it had been more or less understood when Levine and Drouhin first began to disagree that none but Drouhin be "allowed to take the Columbia off the field." Other flyers, it was said, would see to that.

A few minutes after Levine took to the air today, two French pilots, Delage and Bodin, set out with the avowed intention of catching him.

They failed, however, and Mr. Levine went straight to London.

Drouhin announced he is thinking of suing Levine in America for breach of contract. Some of his sympathizers suggested he take another airplane and go to London to see Levine, but Drouhin replied he fears he "would feel like killing" Levine if they met.

CHAMBERLIN SAYS ITS LEVINE'S FIRST SOLO

INDEPENDENCE (Iowa) Aug. 29. (AP)—Charles Levine's solo flight from Le Bourget Field, Paris, to Croydon Air Field, Eng., is the first he has made, as far as Clarence Chamberlin, his associate on his New York-to-Germany flight, knows.

Chamberlin, here visiting at the former home of his wife, said Levine handles a plane fairly well in the air. He added that he "must have had additional training by the Frenchman."

HOPE REVIVES FOR REDFERN

American countries today were asked to begin a search along a 4600-mile course for Paul Redfern, missing Brunswick-to-Brazil flyer.

With no definite news concerning his fate since Redfern took off in his monoplane Port of Brunswick Thursday noon, and only two reports of airplanes along his proposed route, Paul J. Varner, chairman of the flight committee, requested assistance.

Mr. Varner asked the Navy Department and Coast Guard officials to cover the section between Brunswick and Trinidad, and asked the State Department to enlist the aid of the South American governments in the hunt from Trinidad south.

The report today from Caracas, Venezuela, that an airplane had been seen over the delta of the Orinoco River brought renewed hopes to his wife and friends here. It was their first news, inconclusive as they recognized it to be, since a vessel reported sighting Redfern a few hundred miles on his course the afternoon of his departure.

LACK OF WARSHIPS PRECLUDES SEARCH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Lack of warships in the vicinity of the route Paul Redfern intended to follow on his Brunswick-to-Brazil flight makes it impossible for the Navy to assist in searching for the lost aviator, Assistant Secretary Warner, in charge of naval aviation, late today advised friends and backers of the missing youth. Indications were given, however, that the Coast Guard, which has a number of vessels off the Florida coast, will lend aid.

The co-operation of both the Navy and Coast Guard in a systematic search was requested today by Paul J. Varner, chairman of the flight committee.

VESSELS NOT NEAR

The nearest naval vessels available for a search, officers at the Navy Department said, are at Newport, R. I., 1500 miles from Porto Rico, where backers of the flight had suggested that the search might start.

"It would require three days more for these ships to reach the nearest end of the search, and six days more to the Amazon, covering an extremely small portion of the possible locations of a forced landing," Mr. Warner wired Mr. Varner. "Any possible search would, therefore, have only a meager chance of success.

"In view of this and the further strong probability that the plane would not then be afloat, the Department, therefore, considers with regret that to attempt a search at sea under the conditions would be futile. There is, of course, the possibility that Redfern has made a forced landing on one of the small islands on his route, or on the northern coast of South America."

Approximately ten Coast Guard patrol boats from the Fort Lauderdale (Fla.) base have been out since yesterday, hailing all passing fishermen's craft and other boats in an effort to obtain information as to the course of Redfern's flight. They are working in the area between Florida and the Bahamas, and southward to Cuba. They will be aided by two similar craft from Key West, and probably by the cutter Tallapoosa, which is based at Mobile.

myself out of sympathy with the instructions I received," he continues, "and I believe that an agreement might have been reached on terms which would have sacrificed no essential British interests."

Lord Cecil then asks: "What of the future?" and adds:

"The hope of the future lies in an aroused and instructed public opinion. That is an object which may employ all, and more than all, the energies that remain to me."

Ship's Crew and Passengers Ill

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—When the Cunard liner Tuscania docked tonight 100 passengers and twenty-five members of the crew were recovering from indispostions, the causes of which were in dispute, but there was no disagreement as to the roughness of the voyage from Havre.

Hardships of the passengers and crew were aggravated by a broken turbine which left the vessel wallowing helplessly for forty minutes in a heavy sea with only one propeller turning. The ill voyagers described their trouble as ptomaine poison from water or shellfish, while ship's officers denied this and attributed sickness to sudden changes of temperature between 80 and 50 deg.

ASHES OF REDS TO BE DIVIDED

Half of Sacco and Vanzetti Remains Go to Italy

Sister of Executed Slayer Vetoes National Tour

Forty Injured in Radical Riot at New York

BOSTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The ashes of Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti will be divided into two parts, half of each to be carried to Italy for burial there and the other half to be returned to the ground in a Malden cemetery, the Sacco-Vanzetti Defense Committee announced tonight.

The latest plan for final disposition of the remains of the two executed radicals still hinges on Miss Luiga Vanzetti's consent, the committee explained, but it has been definitely decided to forego any national tour of the ashes in this country. Miss Vanzetti vetoed the idea, it was said, although Mrs. Sacco was reported as willing to go through with the original plan of a national tour.

Miss Vanzetti was resting in seclusion today in Plymouth, near her brother's former home, where she was taken yesterday in a state of utter collapse following the ordeal of the funeral procession through Boston and the cremation of her brother's body at Forest Hills Cemetery. Until she has recovered fully, a date for the division of the ashes and her departure for her homeland will not be decided.

FORTY INJURED IN NEW YORK SACCO RIOT

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Forty Sacco-Vanzetti sympathizers, including a number of women and children, were injured when the mourning party attended by some 3000 radicals in Union Square early tonight became riotous and police, in dispersing the meeting, charged the crowd.

Armored motorcycles, mounted police and riot squad automobiles bore into the frenzied mob again and again, and met considerable resistance before succeeding in their purpose. Many were severely trampled. The ashes of the electrocuted slayers had been expected to reach the meeting. Nicola Sacco's widow did, but the ashes did not.

STATE'S ATTORNEY SAYS TRIAL WAS FAIR

BUFFALO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Publicly announcing his official views on the Sacco-Vanzetti case for the first time since taking office, Atty.-Gen. Reading of Massachusetts today told the National Association of Attorney-Generals, in convention here, that in his opinion the fairness of the trial given the two principals was beyond question.

POWER BOGY RISES AT MEET

Senate last winter had it not been "unfair" to Arizona, in that it robbed her of her right to benefit from the power developed at the proposed dam. He declared the bill set a precedent which would harass every State in the Union within ten years.

Nevada, he declared, wants an agreement on the allocation of power now from California, before passage of the bill, because California could take all the energy developed and leave Nevada with no benefit.

It is understood that Nevada wishes a third of the horsepower developed at the proposed Boulder Canyon dam, to be given her at cost for use or resale.

EVEN SPLIT DEMANDED

He maintained that Arizona and Nevada, between which States lies the dam site, are entitled to an even split on power, and urged the upper basin States to stand with him in maintaining that principle.

W. B. Mathews, California commissioner, asked that consideration of the resolution be deferred until he has acquainted himself with its meaning. He launched upon a discussion of the Swing-Johnson bill until halted by Gov. Emerson, who, while concurring with the sentiments as expressed in the resolution, brought the conference back to the first question of division of water. These remarks were confirmed by representatives of other States.

Consideration of the power angle was postponed on the suggestion of Commissioner Francis Wilson of New Mexico, who termed the resolution "the magna charta of the Western States."

STATE'S RIGHTS UPHELD

"Under the Swing-Johnson bill the rights of the States are not recognized as to benefits from their waters and lands," he said. "If a State wishes to waive her rights to benefits, that is all right, but Utah will not recede from this position."

Asked if the other basin States will join with Arizona in opposition to the power features of the bill if State's Rights are ignored, he replied that they will.

Gov. Dern made it clear that he has no objection to the construction of the dam and plants by the Federal government so long as the States were recognized and permitted to share in the benefits.

A resolution requesting President Coolidge and Secretary of State Kellogg to notify the Mexican government that she cannot look forward to deriving any waters from storage on the Colorado River, in addition to the rights now secured, was adopted. It also proposed a special commission to treat with Mexico on the matter or else the enlargement of an existing commission to include two river basin men.

SEEK NEW BASIS

Another resolution asked the Interior Department to continue a gauging station at Lee's Ferry, inasmuch as the Southern California Edison Company, disgusted with the chaotic condition of river development, has withdrawn its men.

It is understood that Arizona will agree to the upper basin Governors' water division, if made contingent on a settlement of the power question, while California refuses the offer because it is 400,000 acre feet short of her minimum demands.

The upper basin Governors met again tonight to try to draw up still another offer for Arizona and California on water.

Date of adjournment of this session still is unsettled. The upper basin people wish to decide the water allocation here. Today's discussion made it clear that the power angle must be aired well before Congress assembles.

POLICY OF BAR OUTLINED

Present Methods of Radio and Aviation Will Be Given Test of Further

BUFFALO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Adoption of a waiting governmental methods of radio and aviation longer time to function, will be proposed to the American at its fiftieth annual convention at Buffalo, the 31st inst.

Committees of the association have completed a year's investigation in both fields.

While admitting that the radio commission may adequately handle the situation, the committee declares opposition to the creation of additional Federal commissions, and maintains that the Department of Commerce is the logical instrumentality for radio control.

PROPOSAL TO STATES

Passage of uniform air laws by the various States is less important, now that the government has taken hold of the subject, the association's special committee has reported.

Passage of uniform air laws by the various States is less important, now that the government has taken hold of the subject, the association's special committee has reported.

It suggests, however, that States might provide that Federal licenses be recognized for all purposes.

Some of the world's most noted jurists will address the gathering. The Lord Chief Justice of England, Lord Hewart, will speak September 1. M. Maurice Bokanowski, French Minister of Commerce; William D. Mitchell, Solicitor-General of the United States, and Chief Justice William Howard Taft will be other speakers.

NEW QUALIFICATIONS

The association will be asked, in reports of other committees, to indorse further qualifications for a legal education and for admission to the bar and to authorize employment of an official to devote his full time to the problem of legal qualifications.

A draft of a proposed code of insurance regulatory laws, particularly dealing with investment of company funds, will be submitted by the standing committee on insurance law.

URGE PEACE TREATY

The committee on international law will suggest that the United States "evince an active interest" in the Briand proposal for a treaty between France and the United States for the peaceful settlement of all disputes between the nations.

New canons of professional ethics will be recommended. The association will be asked to disapprove the formation of law firms with partners who are not lawyers, the misleading use of partnership names, and the division of fees for legal services except with another lawyer and based upon a division of service or responsibility.

Spotty rains fell in the forest but they have had little effect on the flames burning in dead, dry snags and in fallen timber, John D. Guthrie, assistant district forester, said today.

YOUNG CABINET ENDS MEETING

Co-operation for Enforcing Law Session's Keynote

Better Understanding of State Needs Gained

Department Directors Give Outline of Problems

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29. (AP)—With the need of greater co-operation between the State Departments and the counties of California in law enforcement and in protecting the lives and interests of the public developing as its keynote, the first session of Gov. Young's executive council was concluded late this afternoon with the Council members and other State officials in attendance possessing a much clearer conception of the work done by the several departments in administering the State government.

In the past the directors have known only of the work that has come under their departments, and have had no general knowledge of the duties or activities of those men and women at the head of the other sections. Expressions of the advantage of greater co-operation between the several departments also were made.

COUNCIL MEMBERS

Lieut.-Gov. Fitts and State Controller Riley were in attendance.

The need for greater co-operation between the State and its political subdivisions was developed by the directors while outlining the activities of their departments to acquaint the others with work with which they have been unfamiliar in the past.

Mrs. Saylor was the first to stress the greater co-operation needs, which now are being developed by her department in supervising the orphaned and half-orphaned children, as well as those coming before the courts for adoption. Mrs. Saylor now is enlisting the welfare societies in much of this work, deputizing them and then acting on their recommendations.

Director Stevenot of the natural-resources department likewise made clear the need of greater co-operation, especially in the suppression and control of forest fires. Much cooperative work along this line already is being done, but Stevenot holds there is room for even greater service

Director McGilvray, who for several years has been working in behalf of the laboring class, joined Mrs. Saylor and Stevenot in a rebuke of the county forces for their laxity in cooperating with the State. He declared that if the county authorities would co-operate to the fullest extent the work of his department would be materially aided, as others would take cognizance of past action and would not be so loath to comply with restrictions.

Director Meek of public works, in outlining the work of his department and its several divisions, disclosed that future needs of traffic on the highways and also in State buildings are being considered.

WATER RESOURCES

The State's supervision of the water resources under Director Meek also will be revolutionized, so that applications can be listed according to the use for which the water is sought.

Director Hecke, in explaining the functions of the agricultural department, held it up as a model of co-operation in which no activity of either State, county or Federal organizations are duplicated, and the work of which is greatly facilitated by co-operative agreements.

Director Cooper, who was the first to feel the results of the Governor's reorganization program, his department having had to be completely reorganized immediately after July 29 so that the work of preparing for the fall school term could proceed without delay, told of the changes made in his forces, and explained their effect.

HARD IS RIGHT

"I be thinkin' the same ivery time I put my pick in it," remarked his friend Moriarity.—[Capper's Weekly.

SINGH SUIT PAPERS SERVED

Mrs. Miller Handed Copy of Complaint After Talk Before Penwomen's League at Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—"Crashing the gate" at a fashionable gathering of women in the Mark Hopkins Hotel this afternoon, a process server waited patiently until Mrs. Elizabeth Miller had completed an address before the League of American Penwomen and then served her with a complaint in a $10,000 damage action brought by Swan Singh, now in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Miller, a nationally known figure, is a Cleveland philanthropist, club and political leader and a "New Thought" student. It was in connection with her last-named activities that she met Singh, first in Cleveland and later in Los Angeles.

Some places in the process, Singh acquired the "title" of "prince," a title to which Mrs. Miller avers he has no legal right. He also acquired the desire to produce a great motion picture and a conviction that he ought to marry Greta Nissen, actress. One by one, his schemes fell flat until he was pulled out of his predicament by a Los Angeles friend and then began an action to recover $10,000 which he avers Mrs. Miller owes him for publicity, taxicab fares and several gifts.

"Well, it has happened," commented Mrs. Miller as she received the copy of the complaint. "While I have been embarrassed and harassed by this matter during my trip, it is probably best to have it come out in legal proceedings. The whole thing is a fabrication. I owe Singh nothing. I never promised to back his motion-picture schemes nor anything else."

The papers were served through the law firm of Cantillon & Hamilton of Los Angeles, after Mrs. Miller had previously denied any knowledge of the suit.

CURRICULUM COMMISSION DESIGNATED

State Education Director Names Board on Revision of Study Courses

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Appointment of the commission to study and make recommendations for the revision of the curriculum of the public schools was announced today by William John Cooper, Director of Education. The members include:

L. E. Chenoweth, Bakersfield, Superintendent of Schools, Kern County; Fred M. Hunter, Superintendent of Schools at Oakland; Morton E. Hill, principal of Ontario High School and Junior College; John A. Hockett, University of California; Miss Nell Breen, San Diego school principal; Miss Gladys E. Morehead, Los Angeles teacher; Miss Julia L. Hahn, director of kindergarten-primary education in San Francisco; Miss Willa M. Marsh, mathematics instructor in the Fresno Junior High School; Miss Ethel Salisbury, director of the Los Angeles department of course of study, and Mrs. Katherine Barnett, music instructor in the Santa Barbara Teachers' College. Cooper will serve as an ex-officio member.

The law creating the commission, enacted by the last Legislature, specified that there must be one county superintendent, one city superintendent, one college professor of education, one high-school principal, one elementary school principal and one classroom teacher.

State Will End Rent by Buying

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Plans of the State administration to purchase the Strub Building here, which now is housing the highway, motor vehicle, criminal identification and a part of the printing department, were officially announced today by Alexander R. Heron, director of finance. The building was erected by Dr. Charles Strub of San Francisco.

Under a contract, the State is to pay approximately $138,000 in annual rent, but is given a ten-year option to buy the building for $670,000, the estimated construction cost.

When Gov. Young took office, his control board reported the lease not to be advantageous and also that the option figure was too high. As the result of negotiations with Dr. Strub, a new contract was closed, in which it is agreed that the State can take possession of the building at the end of the ten-year period for the rent, without any additional payment, or title will be surrendered at the end of three years if the annual rental payments are increased 40 per cent.

THIRD JURY IN STRIKERS' CASE FREED

One Talesman Refuses to Convict Bay City Pair in Carpenter's Death

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Because one juror refused to be moved over a period of forty-one and one-half hours, Superior Judge Conlan today dismissed the third jury which has heard evidence in the asserted murder of MacIvan Campbell, nonunion carpenter, during a strike riot last October.

Eleven of the jurors believed Gus Madsen and George Peace, the accused, guilty of the beating which caused Campbell's death. The twelfth was the foreman, Hamilton S. Wallace, retired British army officer.

Considerable feeling at the asserted arbitrary attitude of Wallace in the jury room was evident in the attitude of the other talesmen when the jury reported its inability to agree. Even when the eleven were willing to compromise on a verdict of manslaughter Wallace refused to enter the discussion, it was declared.

Whether or not a fourth trial will be demanded is not yet known. The matter comes before the court again Saturday for further disposition.

In all three trials, the preponderance has been for conviction. The first jury stood 8 to 4 when discharged and the other two 11 to 1.

CAMP SITE LEASED FOR NATIONAL GUARD

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Leasing of 3000 acres of land adjoining the Morro Beach highway near San Luis Obispo as a permanent camp for the California National Guard is announced today by Alexander R. Heron, Director of Finance, and R. E. Mittelstaedt, adjutant-general of the guard. Heron's announcement was made at the first meeting of Gov. Young's council. The land was purchased by public-spirited citizens of the San Luis Obispo district at a cost of $150,000, and is held by them. The State's lease will run twenty-five years.

TWO BURNED AS GAY PARTY ENDS

Illinois Celebrants Victims in Early-Morning Blaze

Dawes's Niece, Host's Bride, Among Those Present

Apartment Dwellers Forced to Flee to Street

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—A gay party in the exclusive Abbey Garth Apartments at 931 Forest avenue, Evanston, climaxed early this morning with the outbreak of a fire in which two of the celebrants were badly burned. Other dwellers in the apartment-house were forced to the street while firemen prevented the flames from spreading.

Samuel Gold, 22 years of age, son of Egbert R. Gold of Evanston, received severe burns about the body and was taken to a hospital in a serious condition.

Alexander Nicoll Jerrems, host of the party, also was burned, though not as severely as Gold.

DAWES'S NIECE IN PARTY

Jerrems recently married Miss Mary Dawes Hoyt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Hoyt of Jacksonville, Fla., and a niece of Vice-President Dawes. She was one of the members of the party as were at least two other guests whose names were not learned.

Young Gold is a junior at the University of Chicago and is prominent in the social life of the university. His father is president of the Vapor Car Heating Company.

The apartments house many members of Evanston's younger set. Jerrems, after his marriage April 4, last, came to Chicago with his bride and leased an apartment in the building.

The party started early Saturday night and began to get noisy shortly before midnight, according to other residents in the building. Annoyed by singing and playing of the piano and radio, several tenants called up the Jerrems Apartment and complained, and finally the police were called. Members of the party were warned to be quiet.

FIRE ALARM GIVEN

Shortly before dawn, flames were noticed and screams of a woman were heard. A fire alarm was turned in and several companies responded.

They found that young Gold, who was lying on a davenport, had apparently dropped a lighted cigarette and started the fire. The flames had severely burned him before Mrs. Jerrems awoke and gave the alarm. Jerrems, it is said, was burned when he attempted to tear down blazing curtains and draperies.

Include Music in the Day's Routine

Oliver Wendell Holmes voiced the opinion of the world's greatest thinkers and teachers when he gave the following advice:

"Take a music bath once or twice a week for a few seasons. You will find it is to the soul what a water bath is to the body. It elevates and tends to maintain tone to one's mind. Seek, therefore, every clean opportunity for hearing. Purchase some kind of instrument for the home and see that its beneficial harmonies are often heard. Let music be as much a part of the day's routine as eating or reading or working."—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Officials of United States and Canada Confer

Consular Invoice System Adoption Proposed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) Members of the Royal Canadian Customs Commission and United States State and Treasury departments officials met today for a two-day conference on plans to combat liquor, narcotics and merchandise smuggling across the border. Revision of anti-smuggling treaties and closer co-operation between the customs services of the two countries were discussed in detail.

American officials pleaded for a more drastic supervision of liquor shipments in Canada, and while the conference was held in secret, it is understood that Newton Wesley Rowell, a member of the Canadian commission, countered with the assertion that Canada has a difficult problem of its own in controlling the illegal traffic in liquor and dope from the United States into the Dominion.

Prior to the repeal of the Ontario bone-dry law, according to Mr. Rowell, large quantities of recooked alcohol were smuggled into Ontario, and constant vigilance is required to keep the traffic in narcotics from the United States at a minimum. The Canadians discussed the feasibility of reducing the number of Canadian ports of entry, pointing out that the United States has only half as many ports of entry to watch.

The Canadian commission also urged the adoption of the consular invoice system as a method of defeating fraudulent invoices on merchandise shipped to and from the United States. Certification of shipments by consuls would make impossible the frauds now practiced which enable dishonest shippers and consignees to realize huge profits, according to Mr. Rowell.

The American officials participating in the conference include Assistant Secretary of State Johnson, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman, in charge of prohibition, customs and the Coast Guard; Prohibition Commissioner Doran and Rear-Admiral Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard.

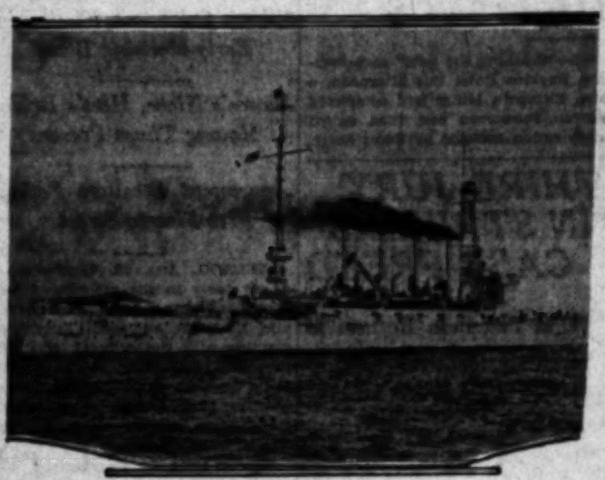
FAMOUS CRUISER IN LAST PORT

Long Naval Career Ends for Seattle



U.S.S. Seattle

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The second-line cruiser Seattle, former administrative flagship of the United States fleet, was warped into a pier at the Brooklyn Navy Yard today to be scrapped after a busy career of twenty-two years.

The cruiser was built in 1905 at Camden, N. J., and was christened the Washington. At that time it was the last word in fighting ships of its class, but during its most recent duty as the Hughes flagship in the Cuban maneuvers last spring, it was the only coal burner in the whole fleet with which it was engaged.

The first important cruise of the Washington was the year after it was built, when it was appointed to act as escort to President Roosevelt on his trip to Panama. The following year it steamed to France and President Fallieres was given a reception on board. Later in the same year it formed one of the advance guard of the battleship-fleet cruise to the Pacific.

In 1916 the Washington was renamed the Seattle, and in the succeeding years figured chiefly as a troop transport between this country and France. In 1925 it served as the official umpire ship in the Hawaiian army and navy maneuvers.

Reno's License Bureau to Close

RENO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Reno's marriage license bureau will not be open next Sunday, nor on Monday, Labor Day, it was announced here today by the County Clerk, when he heard that many Californians are planning coming here over the holiday to escape the three-day wait in that State.

County Clerk Beemer and his deputies, however, always have been noted for their accommodating ways, and it is said that if any California swains come here and are able to find the clerk or his deputies at home they will undoubtedly make a trip to the clerk's office and issue the licenses.

Huge Liquor Tax Plot Thwarted

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—A conspiracy to remove more than $500,000 worth of liquor and merchandise from a bonded warehouse without payment of taxes has been balked by the arrest of two wealthy importers, police said today.

George Spirou, fur and tobacco importer, was arraigned today before a Federal commissioner and held in default of $100,000 bail as one of the figures in the plot. Socrates Moschhiades, importer of Greek, Syrian and Italian footstuffs, was held in the same amount of bail last Saturday after arraignment.

INTERNAL TAX GAINS IN YEAR

Playing Cards Show Jump; New York Leads

California Reports Total of $139,488,418

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Total internal revenue receipts for the year ending June 30, last, aggregated $2,865,683,129, according to tax-collection figures made public by the Treasury Department. This was an increase of 1 per cent over the previous year.

The principal increase was from tobacco manufacturers, amounting to $5,508,766.

An increase of $529,054 in collections on the tax on playing cards brought this item to $4,742,468. Taxes on admissions to cabarets and other places of amusement fell from $23,980,676 the preceding year to $17,940,636. This decrease is accounted for partially by the 1926 Revenue Act, increasing the exemption price on admissions from 50 to 75 cents.

COLLECTION COST LOWER

Administration of the tax law for the fiscal year 1927 cost $32,955,373, a reduction from $1.23 last year to $1.15 this year being effected in each $100 collected.

New York, with $755,079,237, led in total collections, both from income and miscellaneous taxes, while Pennsylvania was second with $256,763,804.

Illinois was next in line, with collections of $217,378,698, followed by North Carolina, which, largely as a result of the tobacco tax, had collections of $205,651,675.

PARIS, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Tales of adventure in Europe are being exchanged in the boulevards of Paris tonight by members of the American Farm Bureau delegation now touring Europe and the advance guard of the American Legion, encountered when the farmers arrived in the French capital from Brussels.

With a whole week in Paris ahead of them, the farmers expect to be able to get away from sightseeing part of the time so that they may study the mass of agricultural statistics they have gleaned in five countries of Europe.

"Naturally we are on the alert for any new markets, and I think Europe ought to absorb more midwestern grain this year, in view of the bad weather and backward crops in Europe," I. H. Thompson, president of the bureau and head of the delegation said.

New York Three and One-half Games Behind Cubs

McGraw's Athletes Cop First by 8-to-7 Count

Turn Around and Thump Root in Second, 4 to 1

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The New York Nationals hacked a big chunk out of the Chicago lead today, defeating the Cubs twice, 8 to 7 and 4 to 1, before 40,000 fans. The difference between the first and fourth-place contenders was reduced to three and a half games. The Giants are a single contest behind the Pirates and Cards, who are in a tie for the second position.

CHARLEY ROOT

The first fracas was a stubborningly-fought affair marked by New York's seven-run drive in the third inning. Mueller led off with a home run and coming up later in the session with the bases full he drove in two more runs with a single. Chicago worked hard to overcome the lead and in a frequent shifting of pinch hitters came within one of a tie. Thirty-one players were used, seventeen by the Cubs.

PITCHING DUEL

Charley Root was matched against Benton in a pitching duel in the second game but the Cub hurler weakened in the seventh when the Giants thumped out six hits for four runs. A sacrifice fly by Pinch Hitter Ott sent across the tying run and Mueller added to his big day by driving in two more runners with a single.

RUSHING THE SEASON!

It may be a little premature for football, but local grid enthusiasts are all agog over what kind of a team U.S.C. is going to have this year, so here's a photo of a young man who is scheduled to wreak havoc all over the greensward. He is Harry Eddelson, late plunging fullback of the 1926 Freshman team, who is scheduled to take up the difficult task of filling Manuel Laraneta's capable shoes. Eddelson hails from Jefferson High School, which Laraneta made famous not so many years ago, so if coincidence means anything. Coach Howard Jones may not have to look far for a fullback. Don Moses is reported ineligible, and Nate Barrager is scheduled to be converted into a center, which leaves the fullbacking practically entirely to Eddelson.

NEW YORK BOY EARNS VERDICT

Ring Idol of San Bernardino Easily Outclassed

Californian is Wobbly, But Sticks to the Finish

Willie Ritchie Wins Nod in Go With Dick Hoppe

BY PAUL LOWRY

Painting Johnny Adams's body the color of an over-ripe tomato, Sergt. Sammy Baker doled out a terrific lacing to the San Bernardino youth and copped an easy ten-round decision at Wrigley Field last night.

SERGT. SAMMY. BAKER.

Adams was game and absorbed a horrible beating without being knocked out, but he wound up with his body puffed and bruised, his mouth cut and spouting blood and a bad gash under his left eye.

From the very start it was Baker all the way, and although Adams rallied ever and anon, there was never a minute that the ex-soldier boy from New York was in any serious danger.

Adams won two rounds—the third and sixth. Baker took the rest by miles.

ADAMS WOOZY

His right beat a sledge-hammer thump on Adams's left side whenever they came to close quarters, and his long lefts and rights crashed to the stomach with sickening force.

While there were no knockdowns Adams was so woozy in the final session that he only kept his feet by falling into Baker's arms after receiving a barrage of lefts and rights to the face.

A terrific right which landed flush on Adams's whiskers in the second round gave every indication of an early ending of the bout, but thereafter Adams managed to keep his head out of a direct line and Baker seemed to be content to pile up a big lead with his body punching.

The fight lacked the thrill of the Hudkins-Baker bout because of its one-sidedness. It was not Baker's best fight. Neither was it Adams's best. The attendance was estimated at 7500.

HUDKINS INTRODUCED

Baker weighed 145½ pounds for the scrap and Adams 141½. Before the main event started Ace Hudkins was

International Boxing Board Meet Called

HARTFORD (Ct.) Aug. 29. (AP)—A meeting of boxing officials from every State in the Union and from foreign countries has been called by Thomas E. Donohue, president of the National Boxing Association, for Toledo, O., December 14. Donohue, who is athletic commissioner of Connecticut, recently assumed the presidency of the association and at the same time said that he intended to put life into the body.

President Donohue said that he was of the opinion that a national boxing body should control boxing nationally as baseball is controlled. In calling the meeting he will propose legislation to bring all promoters, fighters and managers under one national commission with a uniform set of rules to govern contests, to eliminate judges and to provide for removal of incompetent referees.

TORONTO (Ont.) Aug. 29. (AP)—Exorbitant prices demanded by boat dealers for renting rowboats for use next Wednesday in the $50,000 Lake Ontario marathon swim is forcing many of the contestants to go to outside points for them.

One of the New York entrants was greatly surprised today when $45 was demanded of her for the use of a boat to accompany her in the race.

All-British Doubles Finals for American Cup

BY ALAN J. GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 29. (AP)—Helen Wills, 21-year-old Californian, and Betty Nuthall, 16-year-old English girl, will match their youth and skill tomorrow in an international battle for the American women's tennis championship.

HELEN WILLS

Blond and blue-eyed Betty, sensation of the tournament, fought her way to the final today by overcoming Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin, conqueror of Mrs. Molla Mallory, in three sets, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, while Miss Wills crushed her California rival, Miss Helen Jacobs, in the same relentless fashion she has disposed of all her other opponents so far. The scores were 6-0, 6-3.

Miss Nuthall will be in the thick of two title battles, for with Miss Joan Fry as her partner, she reached the doubles final by defeating two countrywomen Miss Gwynneth Sterry and Mrs. John Hill, 6-3, 6-3. In an all-British final for this American championship, they will meet Mrs. Kitty McKane Godfree and Miss E. H. Harvey, who put out the last native team today when they defeated Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. Chapin, 6-4, 7-5.

In the singles final, the two youthful aces of British and American tennis will meet for the crown that Miss Nuthall is seeking for the first time and Miss Wills is hopeful of wearing for the fourth time in five years.

PHIL WEINERT SOLD TO CHICAGO CUBS BY BELLS

BY BOB RAY

Phil Weinert, husky Mission southpaw who is the Bell's leading hurler, was sold to the Chicago Cubs yesterday and will report immediately, it was announced by Howard Lorenz, secretary of the San Francisco club.

PHIL WEINERT

William M. McCarthy, president of the Mission club, agreed to the deal, for which the Bells will get cash and players to be delivered next spring, which was handled for the Cubs by Scout Jack Doyle. Doyle then long-distance-telephoned the terms of the deal to President William Veeck in Chicago, who put the final okay on the transaction.

TO LEAVE IMMEDIATELY

Weinert will leave immediately to join the Cubs in Chicago so that, should the Windy City squad win the National League pennant, he will be available for world series play. Players joining clubs after September 1 are not eligible to perform in the big series.

Weinert came to the Coast League first in 1924 from the Phillies, the Angels purchasing him on option. Phil failed to show anything with the Seraphs and the Angels did not exercise their option on him, sending him back to the Phillies.

In 1925 Weinert came back to this circuit to the Vernon Tigers as part payment for Walter Kimmick. Once

Jack Played Golf

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Jack Dempsey cast aside his boxing gloves for eighteen holes of golf today, disappointing a crowd of 4000 that gathered outside the gates of Lincoln Field race track, willing to part with $1.10 each to watch the former world's heavyweight champion take healthy socks at his sparring partners.

Dempsey did no boxing, in accordance with the orders of Leo P. Flynn, his manager, who figured that too much work and no play would be harmful.

ROVERE'S STOCK IS GIVEN BOOST

Umberto (Bert) Rovere, Los Angeles' only entry in the second Wrigley marathon swim at Toronto tomorrow is conceded by eastern critics to be one of the four chief contenders in the twenty-one-mile $50,000 race. Sports writers have given George Young, winner of the Catalina swim, the best chance of winning the first prize, which is to be $35,000. Byron Summers, who later lowered Young's record across the channel; Bill Keating of New York and Rovere are the others who are expected to come in the prize money.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Pounding Alvan Crowder for five runs in the third inning, the Yanks sewed up the final of a three-game Browns' series, winning out by 8 to 3. It was the eighteenth triumph over the St. Louis club this season and the home club has yet to defeat the New Yorkers. Lou Gehrig crashed his forty-first homer to tag behind Ruth by one run in the third. Crowder was the victim and two were on the sacks. Score:

SOLONS RAINED OUT

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Washington's desperate effort to break a losing streak of thirteen games was frustrated today when rain broke up the contest in the last half of the second inning, with Washington leading Chicago, 2 to 1.

Having tried all other possible remedies, Manager Bucky Harris chose his line-up and his batting order today by lot, and four of the regulars, including Harris himself, drew blanks. Others benched by the draw were Muddy Ruel, regular catcher; Tris Speaker and Oscar Bluege.

The shake-up seemed to work, for the Senators put across a run in the first inning. Rice singled, McNeely sacrificed him to second, an infield out sent him to third and Conally's wild pitch let him home. The Sox tied it up in their half, when Hunnefield singled, Kamm sacrificed him to second, Metzler singled and Reeves's error on Barrett's grounder let Hunnefield tally.

Undaunted, the Senators grabbed another run in the second. Reeves tripled and Goslin singled. The Sox had two men out and none on base when rain ended the play.

The game will be transferred to Washington on some open date there, as the Senators leave tonight, to return no more this season.

TIGERS LOSE AGAIN

DETROIT, Aug. 29. (AP) — Jack Quinn shout out the Tigers here today, holding them to three hits and Philadelphia won the closing game of the series, 5 to 0. It was the sixth successive defeat for the Detroit club. Only three Tigers advanced as far as third base.

Whitehill opposed Quinn for the first seven innings, and was hampered by poor support. It was the third time this season that the Tigers have suffered a shut-out. Score:

OBSERVATIONS

BY THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER BILL HENRY

OUT at U.S.C. the boys are making no secret of the fact that they are looking forward to a tough and possibly successful football season. Thanks to the loss of every line player with the exception of "Handsome" Hibbs and the disappearance of Messrs. Laraneta and Kaer out of the backfield, the Trojans face the 1927 season as underdogs for the first time in several years. Stanford, which has rejoiced in the pre-season booming of the Trojans for several seasons past, is now in the other boat, and Pop will have to emit greater clouds of gloom than ever to prevent his team from being horribly inflated as the result of preseason championship predictions.

The first factor in favor of Bro. Jones, then, is the psychological advantage of being regarded as a possibility rather than a cinch. There is a lot of other good stuff in the air, also. For instance, while Jones has no first-string veteran back except Hibbs for the line, he has plenty of large, lumpy and experienced material. Al Sheving was a very capable tackle last year, Schaub started most of the varsity games at guard, and McCaslin and Moser saw considerable experience at end. In addition he has Heiser, who will unquestionably fit in well at guard; Charley Boren, a star end, and Morley Drury, who can play any and all positions well.

And, while everybody is worrying about who is going to take care of Cravath's position at center, what's the matter with Drury? Far be it from us to try to run Bro. Jones's team for him, but Drury was a bang-up center in high school, and Jones might go farther and do worse in that important strategic position. Anyhow, it is perfectly clear that while Jones lost a lot of good men, he can line up a big, fast and heavy line, composed entirely of veterans with experience, without calling at all upon the graduates from the fine freshman team of last year.

A lot of Trojan rooters, among them T. Carle, the demon publicity man, think that the addition to the staff of Leo Calland is going to make things tough for everybody, particularly Stanford. Bro. Carle points out that Calland is a good man on psychology, and that he made a specialty of being on football teams that beat Stanford during his rah rah career. He also points out that the Cards are to be hit early in the season, when Pop Warner's well-known "precision" will not be as great as toward the fag end of things. It seems to us that we heard something to that effect about the Stanford games of 1925 and 1926, also, but in any event it may work out this time.

JACK DEMPSEY PLAYS ON LINKS

Dempsey has engaged in strenuous boxing four days in a row.

The former title-holder hoofed seven miles on the road this morning with a better runner than Dempsey ever hoped to be. His companion on the road was Joie Ray, one-time holder of nearly every middle-distance running record in America.

Dempsey was in a facetious mood on his day off, if seven miles on the road and eighteen holes on the links constitute a day off. He took a look at the big crowd outside the gates and said to Flynn:

"Leo, guess we better work today. Look at all the dough we are missing."

"No work," said Flynn. That settled it.

Flynn announced tonight that there would be boxing tomorrow and Wednesday with Oak Till, who aided Tunney last year, and Marty Cutler, new men on the receiving end. Cutler has boxed with Dempsey off and on for eight years.

BEAR-CARD GRIDDERS PRACTICE TOGETHER

BERKELEY, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—The very unusual sight accorded football followers of Bakersfield this summer was a training siege in which California and Stanford football players conditioned themselves for the coming season in practice together.

Employed in a Bakersfield bank during the summer months, Harry Bruno, stellar halfback on the winning frosh team of 1926 at California, worked out each evening on the Bakersfield High School athletic grounds. But that was not the particular odd bit alluded to in the foregoing.

Practicing with Bruno were "Spud" Harper, Stanford end of last year, and his brother George, expected to enroll for freshman football at Stanford this season. The trio passed, kicked and underwent a number of routine exercises of the gridiron together. It will be little wonder if California and Stanford grid secrets are widespread over the two rival campuses this year.

BRITTON OUTPOINTS LEVINE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Jack Britton, former welterweight champion, outpointed George Levine of Brooklyn in a ten-round bout tonight. Britton piled up points at will. There was little real punishment.

rounds of punching at the light bag, the champion worked three speedy rounds with the New Jersey youngster.

Fear of overdoing after the lay-off that has kept him out of the ring since last Thursday held the workout down to six rounds. Gene weighed in at 192 pounds before the drill, about six more than his fighting weight last fall when he won the title from Dempsey at Philadelphia.

The workout tomorrow probably will wind up the champion's training here as he intends to motor to Utica, N. Y., Thursday afternoon in time to catch a train for Chicago, where the final three weeks of intensive training are scheduled at the Cedarcrest Country Club on Lake Villa.

Cincinnati Wallops Boston for Two Wins

BROOKLYN, Aug. 29. (AP)—Brooklyn forced the world champion Cardinals to an even break in a pair of 2-to-1 ball games here today, toppling St. Louis into a tie for second place with the Pirates. Pittsburgh played a six-inning tie with the Phillies when rain halted the engagement.

Jess Petty won the opener for the Robins, vanquishing Alexander in a mound duel and driving in the deciding run with a single in the seventh. The victory broke a losing streak that had tagged Petty on his last four starts.

Jess Haines hung up his twenty-first triumph in the closing fray at the expense of Jim Elliott, who allowed the Cardinals only two hits in eight innings. He was removed for a pinch hitter and the run that eventually won for the Cards was made in the ninth off Clark on Hafey's single and Blades's double. Hendrick hit a homer for the Robins in the ninth. Scores:

REDS COLLECT

BOSTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cincinnati pounded five Boston pitchers for a total of twenty-six base hits to win both games of a double-header today. The scores were, 4 to 2, and 6 to 5. Rixey pitched air-tight ball for the Reds until the ninth inning of the first game, when he lost a pop fly in the sun and gave way to a relief hurler.

The relief pitching of Red Lucas in the second game was largely responsible for the Cincinnati victory, although Art Nehf got the credit in the box. News of Nehf's unconditional release reached Boston while the game was in progress. Ed Brown, Boston outfielder, ran the number of consecutive games he has played in to 539 this afternoon.

The double setback compelled the Braves to relinquish sixth place in the standing to Brooklyn. Scores:

after the light-heavyweight crown.

With Taylor's abdication the bantamweight diadem will be open to squabbling along with the flyweight and featherweight crowns. Fidel La Barba has retired as the flyweight king to become a collegian, and many months ago Kid Kaplan left the featherweight division flat on its back because he put on weight. No successors have been selected. If both Taylor and Walker make good their threats an unprecedented situation will be created—a situation in which four champions of the nine recognized divisions voluntarily relinquished their titles within a few months of one another.

The loss yesterday of a double-header by the Cubs to the New York Giants sets the stage for one of the greatest races in National League history. With only four games and a half separating the leaders from the fourth-spot team the Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburgh and New York teams, which lead in this order, are all very much in the race.

The ensuing nine days will just about tell the tale of the Cubs' chances. They have a road trip under way and they are meeting their three bitterest rivals in eight games—at New York today, Pittsburgh tomorrow, then two games at Cincinnati, three games at home to St. Louis, three games at St. Louis—and then the Cubs return to Chicago to open a four-game engagement with the Giants. If the Cubs crack on their road trip they probably will go farther because the Giants are coming with blood in their eyes.

BUD TAYLOR IS SET FOR BOUT AT CULVER

Bud Taylor is taking no chances on his health or reputation at Culver City Thursday night where he meets Midget Smith in the ten-round main event of Jimmy Murray's card. Smith, too, for the first time since he arrived in Southern California, is taking his profession seriously and is rapidly getting down to the 126 pounds he must scale Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Murray has cooked up a whale of a semi-wind-up between Jimmy Fox and Manuel Martinez. Fox is a Boyle Heights youngster, who carries the solid support of the Jewish colony, and Martinez was a big hit at Culver City for two straight weeks by great battles he staged against Young Joe Rivers.

Another six will bring out Ray Billalobas and George Lopez and two fours will complete the card.

RIVERS AND MARAT TO CLASH SATURDAY

Georgie Rivers, one of the best known and most capable bantams in Southern California, hooks up with Barney Marat in the feature event of Promoter Carlo Curtis's Main Street Athletic Club card Saturday night. Marat hails from Philadelphia, and plans to make his first start a winning one. Sam Aguerre, who has scored four consecutive knockout victories at the Main-street club, is to take on Larry Hamilton in the six-round special event.

There are all the elements of youthful skill, drama and color involved in this test, the first time they have met, but it will be regarded as nothing short of a tennis catastrophe if Miss Wills does not emerge the victor.

The American girl not only is the favorite because her play has been the most impressive of the entire tournament, dominating all others, but because she has reached the peak with one of the most powerful attacks any woman player ever has possessed.

The five years' difference in their ages represents a vast store of experience and development that Miss Nuthall, in spite of her brilliant rise, has yet to gain. The English girl is reaching her first national final at the same age that Miss Wills did—16—and five years ago the Californian was not yet up to the task of winning a big championship. Now, with three titles to her credit, as well as this year's Wimbledon crown, Miss Wills is meeting for the first time a younger opponent in the final test.

It will be the second British-American contest for the title in three years and the second time Miss Wills has been called on to meet a foreign challenge. Then at the height of her game, Kitty McKane, now Mrs. L. A. Godfree, extended Miss Wills to three sets before losing in 1925. This year Mrs. Godfree, decisively beaten in the Wightman Cup matches by Miss Wills, defaulted in the singles tournament, while the "baby" of the British team has carried to the final.

"Bounding Betty," as she has been called because of the grace and speed with which she romps all over the court, may give Miss Wills a keen and interesting tussle, even if the odds are heavily against her. The English girl has displayed a dash and confidence as well as a knowledge of tactics and resourcefulness usually associated with players of much greater experience. Her three-set victories in succession over two of America's best players, Eleanor Goss, third in the ranking list, and Mrs. Chapin, fifth on the national roll, demonstrated the English girl's ability to withstand pressure and return her best shots under fire.

Miss Nuthall's underhand service, delivered from as far as ten feet back of the base line, has handicapped her at times, not only through numerous double faults, but because of disadvantages in position. It was an unusual lapse in this service that contributed to her loss of the second set today to Mrs. Chapin and threatened to cost the English girl the match. But, as she has done on other occasions, she brought her driving power to the rescue, mixed her pace craftily and won.

Neither Mrs. Chapin nor Miss Nuthall, except in streaks, appeared at their best today on turf that was treacherous and slippery after two days of rain. Both seemed over-cautious. As a result the rallies were never so prolonged or so exciting as they had been expected.

Mrs. Chapin, in particular, was considerably below the form she showed in eliminating the English star, Joan Fry, and then Mrs. Mallory, the defending champion, in successive matches last week. The American was no wilder than her opponent but she lacked the ability to regain control at critical moments. The following stroke analysis reveals how important a part Miss Nuthall's slashing placements played in deciding the match.

Miss Nuthall—Aces, 3; placements, 27; nets, 12; outs, 47; double faults, 7; earned points, 11; errors, 73.

Mrs. Chapin—Aces, 0; placements, 8; nets, 27; outs, 34; double faults, 3; earned points, 8; errors, 64.

In contrast with Miss Nuthall's rather streaky performance was the machine-like, irresistible power behind the strokes of Miss Wills as she overwhelmed Miss Jacobs.

It was the second "battle of Berkeley" between the two California Helens this season and its result was even more decisive than the first.

Miss Jacobs made the tactical mistake of attempting to match baseline drives with Miss Wills at the start. Unable to do so against the hardest hitter of her sex on the courts, Miss Jacobs was forced into a steady streak of errors. She dropped six games in a monotonous row before shifting her attack. Coming to the net and varying the length of shots, Miss Jacobs made a plucky fight of it for the first three games of the second set, winning two on her own service and forcing the other to deuce twice before yielding. This spurt was short-lived, however. To check it, Miss Wills simply lifted her game a notch or two, ran off 11 points in succession and took five straight games to settle the issue.

Miss Wills—Aces, 6; placements, 12; nets, 8; outs, 17; double faults, 1; earned points, 18; errors, 26.

Miss Jacobs—Aces, 0; placements, 3; nets, 13; outs, 34; double faults, 6; earned points, 3; errors, 45.

The last American doubles team, Mrs. Chapin and Miss Goss, passed on out of the tournament only after a gallant fight in the second of two matches they were called on to play today, after defeating Miss Eileen Bennett of England and Miss Helen Jacobs in a postponed third-round match, 6-4, 6-0, the Goss-Chapin combination gave Mrs. Godfree and Miss Harvey a tussle in the semifinals. Trailing at 2-5 in the final set, the American pair pulled it up to deuce with a fine rally but tired and lost the next two games.

The doubles title will go overseas as a result for the second time in its history. Mrs. Godfree; then Miss McKane, and Mrs. Phyllis Covell carried it over in 1923.

FOREST HILLS (N. Y.) Aug. 29. (AP)—Since Betty Nuthall and Helen Wills have never met before, their games, perhaps, may best be judged by their performances in reaching the finals of the national women's tennis championships. They show Miss Wills to decided advantage, with a "batting" average of .822 to .632 for "Bounding Betty."

be permitted, it has been learned that with a very few exceptions the women swimmers prefer to wear the regulation woolen suits.

One of the women exceptions is 28-year-old Dr. Charlotte Gantz of Philadelphia, who will represent Rameses Temple of the Mystic Shrine in the swim. A Shrine officer asked permission to have the emblem of the order sewn on Dr. Gantz's suit, so that it might be displayed in the race.

"Bathing suit?" exclaimed the Philadelphia woman. "What good would that do? If you want me to carry that emblem you had better tattoo it on my back or paint it on my cap. I'll start with a bathing suit, but that bathing suit will be at the bottom of the lake before I go a mile."

YOUTH STARTS ON CATALINA ATTEMPT

Wilbur Goldsworthy, 19-year-old San Pedro swimmer, started at 10 o'clock last night from Point Vincente in an attempt to lower the record of thirteen hours and thirty-four minutes for the cross-channel swim set last spring by Byron Summers of Oakland.

In young Goldsworthy's convoy boat as observer is Kenneth Pollard, former U.S.C. track star, and representing the A.A.U. He expects to finish this morning shortly after 10 o'clock in the vicinity of the Catalina Isthmus.

EXENDINE RETURNS EARLY TO LOOK OVER OXY GRID LAYOUT

Football interest at Occidental took a big jump yesterday morning when Coach A. A. Exendine dropped in unexpectedly after a two weeks' auto trip from Tulsa, Okla., where he spends nine months of each year practicing law. Exendine was not expected on the scene until the 10th inst., and his sudden arrival has awakened the Oxy football players and followers.

(ALBERT A. EXENDINE)

The coming year will be his second at Occidental and he is out for blood this year. Last year his team lost two conference games, but made a very respectable showing against U.S.C. and Stanford, but he will be satisfied this year with nothing less than a conference championship.

He explained that he was beginning to get worked up over the U.S.C. game, which is less than four weeks off, and decided to get on the scene a little earlier than usual in order to get lined up for that game. U.S.C. has taken Whittier the first game of the season for the last two years and beaten them by scores of 74-0 and 74-0. Exendine is confident that U.S.C. can not run up any such score on his team, but realized that a lot of preseason work is necessary to make a good showing in that game. Last year the Tigers held U.S.C. to a score of 28-6 in a hard-fought game, and if Exendine can develop a couple of ends to hold down the positions left vacant by Teachout and Godett, he feels confident that his men will do better against U.S.C. in the curtain-raiser this year.

Exendine is very enthusiastic about the new football rules and undoubtedly will use the lateral pass a great deal the coming year. While at Georgetown he always used the lateral pass with a large degree of success, but since then has practically eliminated it on account of the hazards in connection with it, but this year he will undoubtedly dig up some of the old plays which worked so well against the Navy, Princeton, etc., and use them to great advantage against U.S.C., U.C.L.A. and Pomona. Exendine's most important job for the next few days will be the selection of an assistant coach, which will be done some day this week. After this job is completed he will take a short trip to San Francisco, returning here by September 6 or 7, to again tackle things in earnest. Football suits will be issued on September 12, while official practice will not begin until September 15.

HUNTING IN SOUTHERN END OF SAN FERNANDO IS OVER

An exhaustive survey of the San Fernando Valley last Sunday proved to Pete Peterson, hunting authority of the B. H. Dyas Company that hunting days in the south end of the famous hunting ground are over.

Bent on looking the dove situation over in the valley, Peterson cris-crossed on the roads in the territory and came to the conclusion that there are too many houses for safe shooting. However, in the northern end of the country, there are still many wide open spaces and game appeared fairly plentiful.

The dove season opens in California Thursday, and should find hundreds of local hunters in the field and along the foothills. Despite the fact that San Fernando's southern end is about shot out, there are many good dove hunting locations left in Los Angeles county.

Good hunting for dove will be found along the foothills on the desert side of the San Gabriel mountains, near Ontario, Winerville as far as San Jacinto.

Two more trophies will be placed up by the Dyas company for the hunters on the opening day of the season. A case of Peters high velocity shells will be awarded to the gunner who arrives first at Dyas's with the dove limit. A second prize, consisting of a half-case of the Peters shells will go to the hunter second in with the limit.

One of the best dove seasons in years is predicted by Peterson. The birds seem fairly plentiful at most of the old-time locations.

Outside of Los Angeles county, the hunters will find many good hunting locations in Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego counties.

GRAPPLERS END WORK FOR BOUTS

Rival Matmen Set for Tomorrow Night's Show at Olympic

Jim Londos and George Kotsonaros, the two best Greek heavyweight wrestlers in the country, and Dick Daviscourt and Hassan Muhamed, their respective oponents in the double main-event "Carnation" Lou Daro has scheduled for the Olympic tomorrow night, will hold their final workouts this morning.

Londos has probably been the most active of the quartet during the past two weeks, for he knows that although the referee gave him a draw with Daviscourt in their hour bout here two weeks ago, the Wichita giant nearly had his shoulders to the mat on several occasions. Unless the little Greek has more success in reaching Daviscourt with his reverse headlocks, Londos is due for the second defeat he has received here in six years.

Daviscourt is one of the toughest men in the game to get a headlock on. Ed "Strangler" Lewis, a master with the hold, has tried it time and again, without much success. The Wichita grappler perfected his defense against the hold in preparing for his Lewis matches, and he finds now that it stands him in good stead against Londos.

Muhamed, the "Terrible Turk," will outweigh "Kotsy" by several pounds when they clash in the second event. The Turk does not appear to be a powerful grappler when attired in his ring outfit, but he certainly looked rough in his workouts. Kotsonaros will have nearly as tough an evening as Londos.

The official document follows:

"To the State Athletic Commission of California, August 29.

"Gentlemen: On August 23 Fidel La Barba, flyweight champion of the world, engaged in his last professional boxing contest and defeated Johnny Vacca of Boston.

"As manager of Fidel La Barba, I hereby officially announce to the State Athletic Commission of California that Fidel La Barba has retired as the undefeated flyweight champion of the world. His reason for so doing is that he intends to enter Stanford University, where he will pursue a four-year course.

"Thanking the members of the commission for their considerate attitude toward Fidel La Barba and myself, I beg to remain, yours truly,

"GEORGE V. BLAKE."

JAKE SCHAEFER IN LEAD OVER COCHRAN

Jake Schaefer drew first blood in an exhibition of 18.2 balk-line billiards with Welker Cochran, world's champion, at the latter's billiard parlors last night. Schaefer won by 800 to 462.. The winner averaged 47 1-17 to Cochran's 462 in seventeen innings. Schaefer had a high run of 263 unfinished while Cochran took 170. Play will be resumed today.

Paulino and Heeney Mix

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Paulino Uzcudun, Spanish heavyweight boxer, was matched today with Tom Heeney of New Zealand for a fifteen-round bout at Madison Square Garden here Thursday, September 8. The fight is a return match as Paulino defeated Heeney in ten rounds at the Garden April 1, last. It will mark the Spanish fighter's first ring appearance since he lost to Jack Delaney on a foul at the Yankee Stadium on the 11th inst.

introduced as the foe of Joe Dundee in a bout for the world's welterweight championship in October. Hudkins was referred to by Frank Kerwin as the most sensational welterweight in the world, a statement to which Johnny Adams in his corner gave vigorous applause but which passed unheeded by Baker.

One of the big features of the evening was the victory of Willie Ritchie over Dick Hoppe in the six-round semifinal. Ritchie, lightweight champion from 1912 to 1914, was riotously applauded for his triumph by a Buick (adv.) delegation headed by Bob Thompson of San Francisco, Hal Tuttle, Bob Roberts and George Stanley of the Los Angeles forces.

The ex-lightweight king won by planting a series of right-hand uppercuts to the region just under Hoppe's heart. Hoppe was unable to fashion a defense for this attack and round after round he was pegged as he strove to tie up Ritchie in the clinches. Ritchie also set the natives on their ears with three beautiful right crosses to the head in the fourth, and displayed the same crafty headwork that he did when he beat Bobby La Salle at Hollywood recently.

ATKINSON WINNER

Billy Atkinson defeated Jimmy Laventhal in the six-round special event; Leo Claro won a four-round decision from Clyde Davis, and Pete Saaveda defeated Eagle Thomas in four rounds, to complete the preliminary card.

Ad Wolgast, who dropped the lightweight crown to Ritchie on a foul in sixteen rounds in 1912, sneaked into the park long enough to see Ritchie win from Hoppe. Ritchie was a 140½-pounder last night.

FEARARDEN BATTLES TONY TOVAR AT BEACH

A return bout between Johnny Feararden and Tony Tovar, a rough and rugged pair of 150-pound wallopers, will be served up as the main-event fracas at Ocean Park Athletic Club tomorrow evening. Wendell (Red) Humphreys, who has enjoyed meteor-like success at the beach arena, will be matched in the six-stanza semi-wind-up against Johnny Cruz, the El Paso sensation.

COLLEEN ANNEXES FIRST OF INTERNATIONL STAR EVENTS

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Aug. 29. (AP)—Colleen, the Ctnatral Long Island Sound fleet entry in the championship races of the International Star Class Yacht Racing Association, won the first race of the 1927 series sailed off Warwick in Narragansett Bay this afternoon, leading Mackerel, the Chesapeake Bay challenger, over the line by sixteen seconds.

The 1925 and 1926 champions, Ace, of the Central Long Island Sound fleet and Rhody of the Narragansett Bay fleet finished third and fourth, Ace finishing fifty-one seconds astern of Mackerel and nineteen seconds ahead of Rhody.

The race was started at 2:30 in an easy sailing breeze from the south-southwest. The first leg was a reach with the wind over the starboard quarter. Gavilan, the Havana boat, got the weather end of the line and for a time held the lead.

Nearing the mark, Ace and the Honolulu boat Hoku were neck and neck when Hoku blanketed the Iselin boat and rounded first. Dream Star from Lake Michigan followed Ace around, and Colleen was in fourth position.

On the beat to the second mark, Rhody and Colleen worked into the lead and Colleen rounded first by thirteen seconds. Rhody overtook her on the run to the end of the first round and crossed first, Rhody held her lead on the reach to the fourth mark, but, the wind lightening on the second windward leg, was third at the turn, and lost one place to Ace on the run home.

LOMSKI GETTING HEAVY

Leo to Blossom Out at 170 Pounds in Fight With Owens

Leo Lomski will probably weigh 170 pounds when he boxes Ernie Owens at the Olympic a week from tonight. The Aberdeen boy, who has always been a middleweight in previous bouts here, arrived yesterday and is now a big fellow headed for the heavyweight division.

Lomski took his first workout at the Manhattan gymnasium and is in fine condition. He knocked out Fred Lenhart in a couple of rounds last week. Lenhart holds a decision over Owens.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams is giving the fans something new for the Taylor-Sanger bout on September 13. He is showing two semi-wind-ups—if that is possible.

He has Dario Barron and Joe Medill signed for six rounds and Mike Watters is paired with Jimmy Fox for another six. Medill is new here. He has won thirty-seven straight fights in Chicago.

The boys will probably be asked to toss a coin at the weighing to decide their position on the card.

MIDNIGHT MATINEE OF FIGHT "FILUMS"

"Si" Masters, manager of the Olympic, announced in a breathless voice last night that so numerous have been the requests, that the Dempsey-Sharkey fight film and other fistic celluloid masterpieces will be run tonight immediately after the regular Tuesday-night boxing show. The midnight matinee will start off at approximately 10:30 o'clock.

SHEA-HILL FIGHT OFF

Joshua Little ON BASEBALL

BASEBALL is the great American game, affording all a chance to work off steam, and excuse for being uncontrolled and Hooliganish.

Football is more cut and dried. People yell in chorus and without individuality. But baseball provides a vent for all emotions. If full of enthusiasm, you can howl patriotically for the home team. If you've a grouch to work off, there are the "umps."

If you long to feel noble and superior, applaud every keen play by the visitors and enjoy the consciousness of being an exceptional sportsman. If you want to insult somebody without being whipped, snarl perfectly fearless things at those same visitors, secure in the protection of the police and the wire netting.

Baseball also gives thousands of us a chance to feel extremely witty. If all the really clever things howled by pro bono publico humorists at baseball games, from coast to coast, were collected and put in a little book they would fill almost three pages in a single year.

Some people imagine baseball players are overpaid. But think of all they have to listen to.

Yes, Palomine, baseball "fans" originally were called "fanatics" but they dropped the last part because so many appear to have something wrong with their "attics."

Humdrum. It's toll is youth and nerves and joy-of-living. And a little of change will make endurable a great deal of humdrum.

Change. "Well, mother, where'll we go? Say we run down to New York!"

Thrill of dragging down the old suit case with the ten years of dust on it that has accumulated since the Niagara Falls wedding trip. Excitement of telephoning into Chillicothe for grandmother to pack a bag and come over and stay in the house with the youngsters for the ten days of the trip. Pullman reservations. Closing down the roller top desk in the office and turning over the key to Miss Minnie, the stenographer, in case . . .

Miss Minnie, who has been with you for seven years, is secretly delighted at your going. Those brackets around the lips. Tightening lips. Your nervous way of barking at her. You haven't been easy to have around.

Mother backing out three times as she packs.

Mother sliding her hand into yours precisely as she did on the first jerk of the train on the wedding journey to Niagara Falls.

"Jove, mother, we're going to do this kind of thing every year from now on. A fellow is crazy to let himself get into a rut. I feel ten years younger already."

"Me, too daddy."

"You know, mother, if New York looks as good to me as I think it is going to look, I'm not so sure, with the children growing up and all those eastern universities and things; I'm not so sure I can not find just as good an opening for carrying on a hardware business there, as right back here in this one-horse town. A fellow's a fool not to get himself right in with the big guns—"

Chillicothe! Indianapolis! Dayton! Pittsburgh! Philadelphia! New York!

Room and bath, if you please, on the twentieth story of a twenty-story hotel.

"Fellow don't take a trip every day. Might as well do it up brown."

After ten years of lighting the gas heater down in the basement and then bathing in four inches of lukewarm Missouri River, luxury of the fierce plunge of boiling Croton-dam into a porcelain tub that makes the new one you installed last year look like a sauce pan.

Luxury of sliding into bed with never a thought of changing the upper sheet on Saturdays. Night after night off the shiny new ones. Soap in little scented packets to be slid into the suit case for the children. Why, just to pore over the telephone book! Names of all the people you've read and read about. . . .

Busy, banging mornings snooping around in Wall street or down among the hardware boys or doing the shops with mother. Matinees. Concerts. Dinner in grottoes, at five dollars a throw. "Don't take a trip every day. Might as well do it up brown!" Cabarets. Lohengrin to neck-ache. The Aquarium. Battery to Bronx on the top of a Fifth avenue 'bus. "Greatest ten-cent show in the world!" Chinatown by night. Ziegfeld Follies. Oh, boy! Picture cards back home. Coney Island. Statue of Liberty. Woolworth Tower. Only one New York!

"It's a great town, mother."

"Yes, daddy, but I wouldn't want to live here unless I had a lot of money."

"Couldn't hand me this town on a silver platter. A fellow in my line has about as much chance as a fly in molasses."

"Did you notice, daddy, the way mother referred to Bobbie in her letter this morning? 'Restless little youngster, he keeps me jumping. Restless little youngster! I hope she didn't mean he's been feverish."

"There you go again. That's the fifth spell of sickness you've wished on one or the other of them since we left home."

"It'll be a week tomorrow, daddy. Of course, I'm willing to stick out the ten days, but this is an awful big town and it's mighty far away from the kiddies."

Philadelphia. Pittsburgh, Dayton, Indianapolis, Chillicothe!

"Next station is Chillicothe Heights, mother. Look out there, will you. Some early spring this year."

"Begins to smell like home, honey."

"Mother, I wouldn't change this here part of the country for all of Mr. Astorbilt's frontage right smack bang in Fifth avenue. No siree, this is good enough for me!"

"Daddy! daddy! Isn't that mother on the platform—and the children—Bobbie—Eda—daddy—there's Tom—there's the kids!"

Blessed kids. Blessed Sam and the blessed old trolley bumpety-bumping out toward the Queen Anne house on the terrace and the niche in the cement sidewalk that leads from the gate to the house.

Music of the children pillow-fighting before they go to bed.

"Tell you, a little trip is a good thing to have out of one's system. Hey, you kids up there! The chandelier! For cripes sake, cut out the rough-house. Wait daddy's coming up and get in on that row himself!"

Home!

Blessedness of waking up to that view of the red shingles on the Parson's house showing through the maples and Toby crowing off his old fool head.

TOLL OF STRIFE IN INDIA CITED

SIMLA (India) Aug. 29. (AP)—Between 250 and 300 people have been killed and more than 2500 injured in less than eighteen months past as the result of religious conflicts between Hindus and Moslems in various parts of India, Lord Irwin, the Viceroy, stated in addressing the legislative assembly here today.

Calcutta was one of the storm centers last year and Lord Irwin says that from April to July the city seemed to be under the mastery of an evil spirit to such an extent that the law had to be reasserted by drastic methods. The same sinister influences were at work elsewhere, he declared.

The Viceroy says that there is much in Indian social life that cries out for remedy and reform, but the task will be sorely handicapped so long as the country is distracted and torn by the present animosities.

ATHEISM GAINING HEAVILY IN GERMANY, CENSUS DISCLOSES

BERLIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—Atheism is on the increase in Germany.

The 1925 census report shows that persons professing no religion has increased from 200,000 in 1910 to 1,551,000 in 1925. Of these, 640,000 are women.

There are 40,000,000 Protestants compared with 20,200,000 Roman Catholics.

As compared with 1910, when the previous census was taken, Protestants have increased by 1,900,000, or 5 per cent, and Roman Catholics by 1,300,000, or 7 per cent, while the population as a whole shows an 8 per cent increase.

Jews in Germany numbered 535,000 in 1910 and 564,000 in 1925, the increase being mainly in Prussia and Saxony. The number of Jews in Bavaria, where anti-Semitism is strong, has decreased by 5000.

Una Maestra de Ontario se Escapa de la Muerte en un Tris

Fue piadoso el destino con la señorita Louise Rider, maestra de escuela de Ontario, que venía a los Estados Unidos de regreso de Méjico, adonde fue con la excursión organizada por el Colegio de Pomona. La mañana del martes próximo pasado, en el viaje de vuelta, perdió la vida su compañera, la señorita Florence Anderson, maestra de Pomona, durante un ataque de bandidos mejicanos al tren en que viajaban los excursionistas.

Antes de salir de la Ciudad de Méjico convinieron las dos muchachas en turnarse los lugares de la litera que ocupaban en común. A la señorita Rider le tocaría una noche dormir junto a la ventana, y a la siguiente, ése sería el puesto de la señorita Anderson. El azar decretó que el lado de la ventana le tocara a ésta la noche del martes. Una bala disparada por la carabina de un forajido mejicano penetró la pared del coche e hirió mortalmente a la señorita Anderson.

Regresa Listo el Defensor de Jacobson

"Estamos ya apercibidos para el juicio," dijo ayer tarde el señor W. V. Anderson, abogado del concejal Carl I. Jacobson, al regresar de una excursión de fin de semana, durante la cual ha completado sus pruebas de que el lío en que se ha envuelto a Jacobson fue premeditado y preparado.

"Traigo conmigo los documentos y estamos listos para la investigación del gran jurado y para todo lo que se desee," declaró el defensor. "Cuando terminemos con esta causa disminuirá notablemente el número de esa clase de complots en esta ciudad, y me atrevo a creer que en mucho tiempo no osarán tenderle lazo semejante a ninguna otra persona. Los documentos a que me refiero contienen larga información, que será sobremanera interesante para el público."

LINCOLN

Wide Open
the First Mile

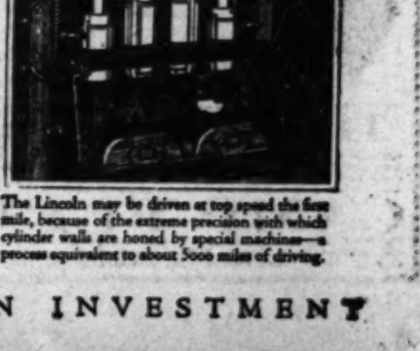
A LINCOLN may be driven at top speed the first mile, if the owner desires, with the assurance that no damage will result. ❨To understand this remarkable performance it is necessary to recall, first, that precision manufacturing in America reaches its highest development in the Lincoln car. For in the Ford Laboratories are devised and constructed the finest precision instruments in the world, Johansson master gage blocks. Every part of the Lincoln motor is built so precisely that it will function perfectly with every other part from the very first mile. For example, exactly the correct clearance is allowed between bearing surfaces to permit of proper lubrication from the very moment the car is delivered to its owner. ❨Moreover, one should note the exhaustive testing and re-testing to which the Lincoln car has been submitted. Many hours of block tests are conducted at both low and high speeds. Then the motor is partially dissembled, adjustments made, and all working parts painstakingly inspected for accuracy. Later the chassis itself is put through every phase of performance while each detail is carefully observed and checked. ❨Consequently, the Lincoln eight-cylinder motor is ready to respond instantly to any demand one may care to make—not only during the first mile, but after many thousands of miles and many years of satisfying service



The Lincoln may be driven at top speed the first mile, because of the extreme precision with which cylinder walls are honed by special machines—a process equivalent to about 5000 miles of driving.

WALL OF WATER SWEEPS VALLEY

Eight Hundred Periled by Dam Break

Flood Covers 10,000 Acres in New York

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—The breaking of a dam in Wappingers Creek near here today sent a twenty-five-foot wall of water rushing down the valley, flooding 10,000 acres of Dutchess county farm lands and driving 800 men, women and children from their homes.

Fears were felt this afternoon for the safety of several farmers and their families, who possibly may have been caught in the flood. No fatalities so far have been reported.

Sheriff Close and sixty deputies, hastily summoned, raced along the edges of the valley, warning farmers and rescuing hundreds of persons just before the water came sweeping down on them.

The district is in the back hills and few of the farmers had telephones. As a result, when the rising water broke over the dam at Clinton Hollow, at the north end of the valley, it was impossible to warn the dwellers down below.

The flood broke in the early hours of the morning. The sudden swirl of water alarmed farm workers who live in shacks along the creek channel. Their shouts warned neighbors, who ran from their homes for higher land, driving cattle and horses ahead of them.

As the morning wore on, more water descended on the valley. Soon it was racing fast and furiously over farmhouses and barns, sweeping dead animals and debris on the crest. In places the water spread for a mile and a half to two miles, until 10,000 acres were covered.

Bay City Gets Traffic System

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—A comprehensive new system of traffic control for downtown streets, prepared by Dr. Miller McClintock and based partly on the same system which Dr. McClintock recommended for Los Angeles, now in use in the southern city, was passed to print in the form of an ordinance by the Board of Supervisors today.

It provides for the installation of several score control signals in the business district, including the "gore" intersectional on Market street, to control pedestrian as well as vehicular traffic. The study on which the ordinance is drawn has been under way for more than a year.

STAFF RETAINS 'STAR' CONTROL

Editor's Death Not to Affect Kansas City Paper

Kirkwood Stock Will Go to Other Employees

Art Gallery to Get Life Estate of $2,000,000

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—The death of Irwin Kirkwood, editor of the Kansas City Star, in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., early today, will bring no newcomer into the Star organization.

Under the terms of the organization of the Kansas City Star Company and by agreement with the trustees, the stock held by Mr. Kirkwood, a slight majority, will revert to the organization to be distributed to the other stockholders, all of whom are employees of the Star.

When the Star was purchased by Mr. Kirkwood and his associates in July, 1926, under the terms of the will of William Rockhill Nelson, its founder, provision was made that on the death of any stockholder or if any stockholder left the organization, his stock would go back to the company to be distributed to other stockholders.

No stock is or may be held outside of the organization.

Almost $2,000,000, Mr. Kirkwood's life interest in the estate of his wife, Mrs. Laura Nelson Kirkwood, only child of Mr. Nelson, is released to the people of Kansas City by Mr. Kirkwood's death, under the terms of her will. Mrs Kirkwood died in February, 1926. This will go to the construction of the William Rockhill-Nelson Gallery of Art, provided for under the terms of the will of Mr. Nelson.

The estate of Mr. Nelson, including $11,000,000 received in the sale of the Star, is to be used for purchase of works of art for the Nelson Art Gallery.

SEWING GIRLS SHARE PRIZE

PARIS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Fifty sewing girls in the workrooms which produced a mauve dress and cape voted the prettiest at a recent "personal elegance" contest got a share in 50,000 francs prize money.

A Paris jeweler gave the cash, which averaged about $40 for every girl who worked on the dress.

The gown designed by Jenny was worn by Mlle. Pepa Bonafe, a dancer, whose award was a year's possession of a gold and ivory cup.

Father Aids in Son's Defense

STREATOR (Ill.) Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Defense preparations for Harry Hill, 21 years of age, of Streator, Ill., who is charged with the murder of his mother, started today with the suggestion by the youth's father that the killing may have been accidental.

Dr. H. C. Hill, who divorced Mrs. Hill seven years ago, came to the aid of his son at a time when he was reported as seeking to arrange for his surrender. His statement of today is the first he has made since a week ago when he and others found his former wife's body buried in the basement of her home.

OUR HOME—PRESENT AND FUTURE

Why is the Seaboard not on a corner? This question is asked frequently. Our present home between Sixth and Seventh on Spring Street, at 612, is in the exact financial center of the City—convenient, substantial, but not on a corner.

A little later we plan to occupy our own home on one of the prominent downtown corners, for which negotiations are now in progress.

Believing that Banks—the preachers of economy—should be the first to practice economy, the Seaboard, as a new bank, adopted the policy of occupying temporary quarters until a volume of business was gained to justify elaborate and permanent quarters. A continuous, rapid growth brings this time near.

The practice of conservatism and economy has placed the Seaboard National in a strong liquid position, qualified to aggressively participate in the development of Southern California's domestic and foreign trade.

They were shown in forest green, hunter's red and leather shades and retail at $12.50.

GOLDEN COTTON FLOOD IMPENDS

Value of $40,000,000 Set on Southwest 1927 Crop

Increase Over 1926 Returns Over 50 Per Cent

Market Conditions Point to 25 Cents for Staple

Cotton growers of California and the Southwest territory should receive over 50 per cent more for their crop this year than last, although the acreage planted to cotton is below that planted a year ago and the estimated production is expected to be correspondingly less, according to a statement made yesterday by a leading Los Angeles cotton merchant.

With October prices yesterday passing the 23-cent mark and with reports from the cotton belt showing increased damage and indications pointing to a further reduction in production, cotton prices, this authority states, are expected to continue upward until picking is on in full blast. At least 25-cent cotton is predicted before the end of the coming month.

RETURN ESTIMATED

Growers of the Southwest territory are expected to receive approximately $40,000,000 for the coming crop, as compared with a return of approximately $26,000,000 from the 1926-27 crop. This is figured on the basis of a production of 350,000 bales last year and an estimated output of 325,000 bales this year, and an average price of $75 a bale a year ago and $125 a bale for the coming crop.

On the same basis for prediction, California cotton growers are expected to receive approximately $15,000,000 for 120,000 bales this year, as against a return of $9,600,000 for 128,000 bales produced in the past crop year.

Cotton picking in the Southwest territory began in the Yuma Valley last week and to date about 1000 bales have been taken from the fields. The first cotton sold to a Los Angeles cotton merchant last Saturday brought 23 cents a pound. The first cotton from the San Joaquin Valley is expected to be picked about September 15, and the harvest throughout the Southwest territory will probably be at the peak near October 1.

Because of the shortage of staple cotton in the Mississippi delta, due to the flood condition and other damage experienced there, it is reasoned that the domestic consumption of staple cotton from the Southwest territory will be greater this year. Last year approximately 75 per cent of the crop of this area was exported to European countries and only about 25 per cent was consumed by American mills.

There is an exceptional demand, it is reported, for California cotton because of its superior quality. California growers receive approximately 2 to 3 cents a pound more for their crop than growers of the cotton belt.

Success in the cultivation of an excellent quality of flax on 1000 acres in Manchuria last year has caused the planting of much more land to the seed this season and the making of plans for the home manufacture of linen goods.

UNION AND RICHFIELD LEAD DROP

Giannini Shares Close at Higher Prices; Rights of First National Off

Prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday again moved in irregular fashion with the oil shares showing the greatest weakness and the banks what little strength was evident. Richfield declined on a large turnover to a low at 18 5-8 and closed 3-8 of a point net lower at 18 3-4. Union and Associates sold off 1-8 and 5-8 of a point to closes at 41½ and 42, respectively. Standard at 53 1-4, was off ½ point. California Petroleum lost 1-4 to 21 1-4.

Bank of Italy closed ½ higher at 186½, after opening at 187 and selling up to 187½. Bancitaly Corporation closed fractionally higher at 89 3-8, after touching 89 3-4. First National rights were off a point to 15¼ and the new stock lost 1-4 to 84 3-4.

Edison common on a light turnover sold 1-8 of a point net lower at 36 3-4, while the 6 per cent and 7 per cent preferred issues were firm at 25 3-4 and 28½, respectively. Los Angeles Investment held firm at 2.80. Caterpillar Tractor brought 33¼ and Pacific Indemnity 150 in the unlisted division.

Idaho Metals led the mining activity with a gain of 2½ cents to 1.45. Big Jim closed firm at 34, after receding to 33 in the morning. Boundary Cone held steady at 3½ and Western Apex at 10.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive) The cotton market made more sharply new high records this afternoon attended by wide fluctuations and heavy trading. Most of the business, however, was confined to trade commission houses here and also Liverpool and southern interests, there being still little from the outside trading public, except some of the larger Wall-street operators.

The market broke 20 to 25 points from Saturday's closing in the early trading on the better weather conditions in the cotton belt over the week-end than had been expected, and a large amount of profit-taking selling orders that had accumulated from the high record prices made in Saturday's bulge, when prices closed with a net advance of 60 to 90 points to new high records from those of Friday.

On this decline October reacted to 22.15 cents; December 22.43 cents; January, 22.45 cents; March, 22.57 cents, and May, 22.65 cents. Before 2 o'clock the market had gone up in somewhat excited trading 125 points on the average from those quotations, or the equivalent of $7.25 a bale. This was due to a wave of buying orders coming into the market on covering of shorts and new speculative buying influenced by "alarming reports" of the spread of boll-weevil damage.

This pest, according to many advices, is doing great damage in so many parts of the cotton belt it is more active than in the boll-weevil year of 1921.

The trade is accordingly anticipating another bullish boll-weevil report today and another government crop report for the September 1 condition due 12 o'clock, our time, September 8. The present tendency is to expect it will be below 13,000,000 bales, without linters, against last year's record-breaking crop of nearly 18,000,000 bales.

The last government report, which appeared the 8th inst. for the 1st inst. condition, made the indicated yield 13,492,000 bales, against 14,550,000, the average of thirteen of the estimates of crop experts, statisticians and other recognized authorities.

Some of the estimates then were as high as 15,000,000 bales. The present tendency is to go to the other extreme in lowering estimates on the crop at this time on the boll-weevil damage more than anything else, which may ultimately prove to be exaggerated.

Present prices for the contract list here of 23 3-8 cents to 23 7-8 cents for October to next May compare with 17½ to 18 cents at this time last year and 22 1-8 to 22 3-4 cents two years ago.

MAY STORE DEAL REPORTED

Purchase of Control From David May Estate by Dillon, Read & Co. is Rumor in Stock Market

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Possibilities of the Dillon, Read & Co. interests entering the department store business through the purchase of a substantial block of stock in the May Department Stores is a conjecture receiving some attention in the stock market. Buying of the stock from Los Angeles recently is understood to have been predicated on reports of negotiations looking toward this end.

Since the death of David May, chairman of the board and founder of the company, speculation has been active concerning the future management of the business. Three of the heirs, Morton J., Tom and Wilbur May are all active in the business, and each was left stock in the company under the terms of the will. One-fifth of the shares left to Wilbur May and Florence E. Straus are placed in trust for a number of years. The whole probably represents control of the company, and it is this stock that probably figures in whatever negotiations are under way.

Whether the May brothers wish to continue in the management, or dispose of control at an attractive price is a question that has received neither confirmation nor denial. Possibly the negotiations center around the sale of a minority interest to Dillon, Read & Co., leaving the May brothers in the management, assisted by representatives of the banking group as financial advisers.

With the exception of the Broadway Department Store financing in Los Angeles, the Dillon-Read interests have not been particularly identified with the department-store business. The May chain of stores, however, is a sufficiently large proposition to attract any of the large banking groups, perhaps with the ultimate intention of working out a combination with other chains. Or, the idea may be entertained of tying the Broadway Department Store into the May system.

In most of the large trades undertaken by Dillon-Read, the propositions have involved the purchase of control, a plan of recapitalization, and later distribution of the securities to the public. Because of the creditable record of the May Department Stores, the securities of this company under a new capital structure undoubtedly would meet with a ready reception.

Similar ventures along this line by Dillon-Read include Dodge Brothers, National Cash Register, Amerada Oil and others.

In the stock market, May Department is regarded as the bellwether of the department-store group. It is the oldest department-store listing on the big board, and in the last fifteen years has always performed to the satisfaction of stockholders. The original holders of the $100 par value stock have received, through stock dividends and the recent reduction in par value, a total of 693 shares, now worth nearly eighty, or almost equal to the old par value.

Sales last year totaled $100,522,928, compared with $97,117,891 in the previous fiscal year. Net profits last year after preferred dividends were $6.36 on the new stock, compared with $6.19 for the previous year. The preferred stock was retired in April of this year at $125 a share, leaving the common stockholders owning all the assets.

ACTION OF SECURITIES HEAD STIRS

Ban on Oil Stock and Sudden Recall Cause of Hubbub in Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Obscured by a complete lack of explanation on all sides, the removal of securities of the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company from the San Francisco Stock Exchange on Saturday and their restoration today had the financial district in a turmoil this afternoon, with indications that the matter is not at an end and may lead to a sensation.

The stocks of the company, which is an organization representing several millions, were taken from trading Saturday on the strength of a letter bearing the signatures of J. M. Friedlander, State Corporation Commissioner, and Howard C. Ellis, his chief deputy. The letter read:

"It is the order of J. M. Friedlander—that for the best interests of the mining industry, the mining exchange and the people of the State of California, that the following mining stocks be removed from your exchange:

"Best and Belcher mining, Honolulu Consolidated Oil, reorganized Rosetta Divide, American Foundation and National Merger gold mines."

Officials of Honolulu Consolidated, whose securities never have been questioned, and Deputy Ellis engaged in heated remarks when the order had become known. However, the only thing approaching an explanation offered was an order from Ellis reinstating the stock with the statement that a "serious error" had been made.

A. C. Dierickx, president of the oil company, declared tonight:

"We will take this matter up with our attorneys for drastic action. The reputation of this $60,000,000 company must not be permitted to be dragged in the mud for very mysterious and suspicious reasons."

London Daily Radio

BY ARTHUR W. KIDDY

[Copyright, 1927, New York Evening Post, Inc.]

LONDON, Aug. 29. (By wireless)—Markets were mostly idle today except the artificial-silk group. Led by British Celanese, which went above 56 shillings, the artificial silks continued their boom.

Other markets were of the hesitating kind, with some disposition to await a statement explaining the reported rumors of the retirement of Lord Robert Cecil from the Cabinet.

A favorable point in the industrial situation is the strengthening condition in shipping. The freight markets with heavy exports of grain from South America are the primary cause of this revival, while the removal of selling-price restrictions has stimulated inquiry for tonnage to load nitrate in Chile.

Money rates were comfortable at the close with stocks cheerful, investments steady, and the boom in British Celanese stronger than ever.

Most of the tipping papers are now advising caution on these shares. The caution is undoubtedly justified, but judging from the reports of profits and the nature of the buying the shares indicate that they are going considerably higher. Brazilian exchange was steady and reports were current that arrangements are impending for coffee credits here, with possibly some foundation.

Pierce Arrow Drops Dividend

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Aug. 29. (AP)—The board of directors of the Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company decided today to suspend the company's preferred dividend.

President Myron T. Forbes, said: "Passenger-car sales for the year have been about equal to last year's sales. During the year, however, we made a drastic reduction in our prices with corresponding decrease in our profit per unit. The demand for heavy trucks has had a falling off which, however, we believe to be only temporary. This has resulted in throwing an extra burden of overhead on our passenger-car business which is reflected in current earnings. We, therefore, deem it the part of conservative management to omit the preferred dividend."

PIG IRON SALES IN WEEK ON INCREASE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Pig iron sales in the New York market last week are estimated at 5000 tons, about the same as the week before, but demand in other eastern markets was better, sales in the New York-Philadelphia territory being about 20,000 tons. Prices are firmer in the Buffalo district, producers holding to a minimum of $16.50, but sales have been made in the Eastern Pennsylvania area as low as $19, a drop of 50 cents from nominal levels.

FRENCH REVENUES TAKE BIG JUMP

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Revenue of the French government in July from all sources except postal receipts jumped to 4,747,187,400 francs from 2,994,093,000 francs the month before, the Bankers' Trust Company of New York reports. Total receipts from normal and permanent sources for the first seven months of 1927 were 5,946,991,000 francs more than the same period of 1926, and 1,033,357,600 francs more than the budgetary estimates.

Bankers Hopeful for Owens Valley

People in the Owens Valley are hopeful that the present situation will work out in a satisfactory manner, L. O. Ivey, vice-president of the Citizens' National Bank, said yesterday upon his return from a vacation trip into the mountains beyond Bishop. He reports good fishing and some sage-hen hunting.

"The Owens Valley has splendid natural resources," he said. "Water is plentiful and almost any kind of crops can be produced. Corn, barley, apples and pears all do particularly well, and with excellent ranges in the mountains beyond, there is opportunity for successful live-stock raising."

Tanker Lines in Fight for Trade

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—A sharp fight in tank steamship rates for crude and refined oil has developed between Pacific and Gulf coast ports to North Atlantic ports. Three charters were made late last week for 65 cents a barrel from Los Angeles Harbor, to North Atlantic ports. Gulf coast charters for movement from Philadelphia and New York were made for 25 cents a barrel and later offerings were 22 cents a barrel, Gulf coast to New York.

Last February, rates for intercoastal traffic, California to New York, were at a maximum of $1.25 a barrel and Gulf coast to New York, a maximum of 52 cents a barrel.

BUYING IMPROVES

Sales in Electrical Lines on Coast Reported Better

Business in the electrical industry on the Pacific Coast for the past week has shown an unusually good volume in small-motor sales, while several large orders from the Hawaiian Islands have been reported covering switchboard and transformer apparatus.

Business in the electrical industry in general is quiet throughout the country, although inquiries have been in fair volume. Central-station companies generally are purchasing in good volume, but the industrial market has declined.

UTILITIES HOLDING COMPANY REPORTS

Utilities Power and Light Corporation and its subsidiary and controlled companies reported net earnings for the twelve months ended June 30, last, after expenses and fixed charges, of $4,507,193. After dividends on preferred stock of subsidiary and controlled companies, and other deductions, including surplus net earnings of properties prior to acquisition, net income accruing to minority interest, and after depreciation and provision for Federal income tax, there remained a balance of $2,867,217 available for dividends on stocks of the corporation. Gross revenues amounted to $18,654,111.

ANGLO LONDON BANK EXPANDS

Capital Increase Announced of $2,500,000

Stockholders Offered Half of 25,000 Shares

Move Seen as Step to Entry of Chain Field

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Entry of the Anglo & London-Paris National Bank into the branch banking business was indicated today in an action of the board of directors and a statement by President Herbert Fleishhacker revealing that the capital stock is to be increased from $5,000,000 to $7,500,000.

Ostensibly the move is for the purpose of increasing capital to a proper ratio with deposits which have been out of line due to the recent expansion of business. The action was taken at a meeting on the 17th inst. and the letter to stockholders seeking their ratification was mailed today.

The new issue of stock will be offered at $160 a share, or $50 below the present market value. Half of the new issue of 25,000 shares will be offered to the stockholders as rights and the remaining half, provided rights are waived, will be sold to the Consolidated Securities Company at a price to be mutually agreed upon at the forthcoming stockholders' meeting on October 28.

It is the general belief that all new banks will be acquired through Consolidated Securities Company, which is similar in purpose and structure to Bancitaly Corporation. This is permissible under the McFadden bill which increases the scope of national bank activities.

In order to make it possible to do this, the capital of Consolidated Securities will be raised from $500,000 to $750,000. All of the stock of this latter company is jointly held by stockholders of Anglo & London-Paris National Bank. The securities company also holds all capital stock of the Anglo-London-Paris Company and the Anglo Corporation.

Rights will be given to the shareholders, under the contemplated plan, of one new share for each four held, which makes the rights valuable.

RAIL BOND OFFERINGS RUN HEAVY

Close to $90,000,000 of New Financing on Sale for Three Systems

Approximately $90,000,000 in new railroad financing, announced for offering throughout the nation in the first two days of this week, gives evidence of greater activity in the bond market for the balance of the year. A number of other large offerings are scheduled for flotation shortly.

The issue of $30,942,000 Boston and Maine Railroad first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, offered yesterday by a group headed by Kidder, Peabody & Co., Lee, Higginson & Co., Mitchum, Tully & Co., and Harris Trust and Savings Bank at 98 1-4 to yield 5.41 per cent, was heavily oversubscribed.

Blair & Co., Inc., and associates will offer today an issue of $40,000,000 government of Argentine nation external sinking fund 6 per cent gold bonds at 99½ and interest to yield more than 6 per cent. The proceeds of the issue will be applied by the government to the funding of the floating debt of the Argentine State Railroads. The liens are a direct obligation of the Argentine government and will be issued under authority of the budget law of 1927.

Public offering today of $17,000,000 participation certificates of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company 6 per cent collateral notes marks a further step in the plan for adjusting the government obligations incurred by the railroad during the time it was operated under government control. The certificates are offered by a Halsey, Stuart & Co. banking group at prices to yield 4.50 per cent to March 1, 1928, and 6 per cent thereafter.

Rail Head Sees Good Crops Here

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Agnew T. Dice, president of the Reading Company, back from a western trip, says crops appear to be in splendid condition and the farmers are much better off than they have been for some time. "I notice in the West a feeling of confidence as to business prospects, both among business men in general and railroad men, he said. Some districts in Canada will have the largest crops in their history." Reading's earnings for August would make a good showing, he added, exceeding August, 1926, in both gross and net. The pick-up was due to a better anthracite movement and improvement in general freight.

BONDHOLDERS ACT TO PROTECT INTERESTS

Formation of a bondholders' protective committee at the request of the owners of a substantial amount of the Penn Steel Castings Company first 7 per cent sinking-fund fifteen-year gold mortgage bonds, dated December 1, 1922, after default in the interest due on these bonds on June 1, last, is announced. The committee consists of Chester F. Ericson of Gorrell & Co.; Stephen O. Duncan of Janney & Co.; Harold E. Aul of Gorrell & Co.; Erwin Smith, secretary, Roberts & Montgomery, Philadelphia, and Jerome Simmons, New York, are counsel for the committee.

BARBER'S RECORD

Edward Cordon, Asbury Park (N. J.) barber, claimed a record when he sheared the heads of fifty-four inmates of an orphanage in six hours. "The clippers helped," he said modestly, when congratulated.

SWEDEN EXPANDING TRADE

Appointment of Mission to Brazil Cited as Example of Intense Activity in Other European Quarters

BY PAUL WILLARD GARRETT

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—European nations are sparing no effort to increase their trade with the world as is indicated by reports from various countries. Of particular interest to the United States is the remarkable gains shown in Sweden's trade relations with South America. To investigate further possibilities for expansion the Minister of Commerce of Sweden has designated a special commission which will be the guests of the Brazilian government.

The commission is due to arrive in Rio De Janeiro early next month and the members are Prof. Nils Wohlein, a former Minister of Commerce, Erik Nylander, head of the Swedish export association and a member of the Swedish Riksdag, and Consul-General Sandstrom of Gothenburg, an expert on shipping.

An inquiry will be made into the possibility of investing Swedish capital and technical experience in South American industries will be made. The commission also will survey regions suitable for Swedish settlers.

Sweden is prepared to import more South American raw materials and export finished manufactured goods. Special attention will be paid to Colombia where Swedish exports have quadrupled in the past three years. The principal demands have been for machinery. Sweden now has three shipping lines to Central and South America.

The autumn fair at Prague, Czechoslovakia, which will be held September 18 to 25, is attracting unusual attention this year. More than 2400 entries from exhibitors have been received up to this date, or 300 in excess of last year. In many groups all space available already has been allotted and new exhibitors had to be refused.

The French exhibition at the fair will not only be the largest but also the most costly representing France at a foreign fair. The exhibition will be a miniature of the grand-opera district of Paris with its brilliant shops of the French luxury industries. Even such faraway countries as Brazil and India will exhibit.

The American pavilion is the only pavilion representing American manufacturers at any of the European fairs since the war. More than fifty American manufacturers will be represented. All of which points to the intense competition English and American manufacturers are facing from countries that were not factors before the war in foreign trade, but which have become highly industrialized since the war.

SANITARY ACQUIRES PIGGLY WIGGLY UNITS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Sanitary Grocery Company of Washington, D. C., has bought the forty-nine Piggly Wiggly service stores and meat markets operating in Washington and vicinity. They will be operated through a subsidiary, Piggly Wiggly Eastern Company of Delaware. This acquisition gives Sanitary Grocery Company 361 stores.

Foreign Buyers Seek New Rams

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—Prospective buyers from Canada and Russia and practically all of the western States were in Salt Lake today for the twelfth annual ram sale. The sale will continue through Wednesday.

Not for several years has there been such a high-class aggregation of pure-breds entered, and the presale interest of buyers for the past two days has been such that it is predicted that the sale will go down as a record one in the history of the event.

It was estimated Sunday that upward of 400 prospective buyers visited the yards, making an inspection of the flocks dressed up for the opening. Rambouillets lead all other breeds in number, with Hampshires holding second place.

What is an INVESTMENT TRUST?

Every Investor Should Have These Two Interesting Booklets

What is an Investment Trust? How does it operate? Has it had a long and successful history? What are its attractive features? What advantages does it offer me?

The organization of a steadily growing number of Investment Trusts in the United States has brought every careful investor face to face with these questions.

In response to the inquiries of many of our clients, we have prepared two booklets designed to explain clearly and concisely what an investment trust is, how it operates, and what it offers all classes of investors.

The first, entitled "What is an Investment Trust?," employs the popular question-and-answer method to tell some of the basic facts about trusts, their successful history, and attractive investment features. The second gives excerpts from a talk by Henry S. McKee, President of the Pacific Investment Corporation, describing the operations of that strong investment trust which is organized in accordance with the most successful British and American trust principles.

We believe you will find these booklets both interesting and profitable reading. Copies will be mailed you gladly, without obligation. Just send us your name and address below, or phone MUtual 7171.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Losses and gains vied with each other in the curb market today, with the result that the list presented a ragged appearance. Purchases were of selective character, while selling was largely of a profit-taking character, centering in a number of issues which recently have enjoyed a rapid rise into new high ground.

Standard Oil of Indiana was again a favorite, selling at a new peak price, despite sagging tendencies in other sections of the petroleum group. Curtis Aeromarine and Motor continued to reflect the growing interest in aviation, crossing 34 to a new top price.

Operators for the advance, scouting around for a new leader when some of the old ones faltered, selected New Mont Mining and bid it up to 97 3-4, the best price this year. Johns Manville attracted renewed support, recovering a part of last week's loss on heavy realizing.

The outlook for good fall business in the retail field was responsible for further increases in the quotations on chain-store shares. Metropolitan 5 and 10 "B" was among the recent favorites to display strength, and Kinnear Stores went up 5 3-4 points, both issues reaching new 1927 tops.

Lackawanna Securities, under heavy pressure, broke nearly 9 points to a new low record of 65, and closed a point above that figure. Public utilities generally lost ground, especially Blackstone Gas and Electric, which slumped 7½. Other weak spots included Celotex preferred, Glen Alden Coal, Hood Rubber, Mavis Corporation and New Jersey Zinc.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

MOODY OPTIMISTIC

Statistical Expert Sees No Sign of Danger on Stock Market

Moody's weekly review of financial conditions in its current issue says in part:

"Stocks, although high priced, are still in a strong position. Brokers' loans are more nearly deflated than inflated when taken in comparison with the lending power of our banks. Owing to the large growth of savings and capital, it would require a further expansion of brokers' loans to suggest danger.

"During the autumn capital always flows from New York to the interior in payment for farm products, and we are already witnessing the first signs of this flow. Money rates habitually begin to harden, even in years of very easy money, some time in September; but this year the hardening process is pretty sure to be quite slow.

"Bond prices this fall are likely to be more indifferent to any probable advance of interest rates than stock prices for two reasons: First, bond prices are the less inflated; and, second, time money, commercial paper, etc., are better fortified against any large advance during the remainder of the year than is call money."

PURPOSE: The proceeds of this issue will be applied by the Government to the funding of floating debt of the Argentine State Railroads included in the amount of total debt stated below.

SINKING FUND: Beginning March 1, 1928, and semi-annually thereafter on September 1 and March 1, in each year, the Government covenants to pay to the Fiscal Agents as a Sinking Fund an amount equal to one-half of 1% of the maximum amount of these Bonds at any time theretofor issued plus an amount equal to accrued and unpaid interest on all Bonds previously acquired through the operation of the Sinking Fund. All Sinking Fund payments are to be applied to the purchase of Bonds below par through tenders or if not so obtainable, to the redemption of such Bonds by lot at 100 and interest on the next succeeding interest payment date. Sinking Fund payments may be increased by the Executive Power if considered advisable.

FINANCES: The national debt of Argentina as of June 30, 1927, at gold parities of exchange amounted to the equivalent of $1,090,525,643 U. S. Gold, or about $109 per capita. A substantial portion of this indebtedness was incurred for the acquisition of revenue producing properties and public works. According to the Government's census of 1914, the total value of Government owned property at that time amounted to $1,125,000,000 including revenue producing properties valued at $530,000,000. The national wealth, based on the figures of the same census, was in excess of $14,500,000,000.

A gold reserve equivalent to approximately $435,900,000 U. S. is held against notes in circulation, representing a ratio of about 78%.

Unlimited convertibility into gold of the Argentine National currency was officially established by virtue of a presidential decree effective August 27, 1927, thus placing Argentina on a gold basis.

All conversions of pesos into dollars are made at par of exchange

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Although the volume of trading was close to the lowest level of the year, there were few active spots in today's bond market, chiefly among mortgages of the secondary, or semispeculative order. Easing tendencies were apparent in the list of high-grade liens, especially among the rails, but easy money continued to supply a solid foundation and declines were limited to small fractions.

The market as a whole was again reflecting the reluctance of bond owners to relinquish their holdings, even at current high prices, so long as no expectations of any early credit stringency arise. Bond men generally believed that gilt-edged investment securities are likely to remain at a practical standstill until details of the Treasury Department's refinancing program become public early next month.

Convertibles were the leaders in the dull session, particularly International Telephone 5½s, which jumped 2 points to 116½. This issue has been active for some little time, following the movement of the stock, into which the bonds are convertible at the rate of $100 par value of stock for each $125 par value of bonds. Southern Pacific 4s also displayed some activity around their high price for the year.

Six per cent mortgages of both Anaconda Copper Company and Barnsdall Corporation displayed strength, but industrials otherwise inclined to heaviness. General Motors acceptance 6s rose to their previous peak price, but later lost ground.

A few South American securities were in moderate demand. Peruvian 7½s sold as high as 102 7-8, nearly a point above their previous maximum for the year. Uruguayan 6s gained fractionally. Berlin Elevated 6½s also made a new peak, but later relinquished the gain.

United States government obligations were quiet.

Prompt oversubscription was reported of $30,942,000 Boston and Maine 5s, offered this morning on a 5.41 basis. Tomorrow's offerings will include $12,000,000 Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power 5½s, priced to yield about 5.20 per cent.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Trading was rather slow in getting under way, but when it did start a good clean-up was made. A fair assortment of good grade steers and she stock was included in yesterday's liberal supply; however, the majority of offerings were in-between grades, mostly common and medium kinds, including a liberal supply of Mexican steers and cows. Around 400 head arrived from the intermountain States, with a few loads from Arizona, while the balance came from California, including quite a few from the Imperial Valley. Prices were uneven, closing values being generally weak to 15c lower, most of the loss being incurred by the in-between grades, while in several instances, especially on the better grades on the morning session, sales looked fully steady. All cutters closed weak to 15c lower, while bulls were very slow sellers at 10@15c lower prices, a big portion of these still remaining unsold at a late hour.

A three-car string of good 1037-pound Wyoming steers and a four-car string of 1216-pound Californias topped in load lots at 9.40. A small lot of 1136-pound bullocks made 9.75. Most of the decently finished steers, mixed medium and low good kind, cashed from 8.75@9.25, while the majority of Mexican steers, Imperials, went over from 7.50@8.00, with a few making 8.25. Very common steers in a small way sold down to 7.00 and below. Two loads of light stags realized 7.25.

Odd lots of heifers sold for 7.75 and better, while the best in load lots topped at 7.50. Two loads of 1032-pound California cows and heifers turned for 7.50, while two loads of 937-pound Utah cows made 7.35. Other good cows and heifers were fairly numerous from 6.85@7.25, while the price spread of 5.75@6.75 took in the bulk of she stock, including several cars of Mexicans around 6.00. Very common kinds sold down to 5.25. Cutters cashed mostly from 4.00 @4.75, with low cutters around 3.00. Good bulls sold mostly from 6.00@6.25, with medium kind down to 5.50 and common bulls around 5.00.

CALVES—The good and choice kind were most sought for, while the small supply of plain kind and heavies were slow sellers. Prices generally were steady. A load of choice 191-pound California vealers topped at 12.00. Odd head and small lots of good and choice calves and vealers sold from 10.50@11.50, while the small supply of plain and heavy calves moved from 7.00@9.50.

HOGS—About half of yesterday's estimated supply was late in arriving and with narrow demand a slow and draggy market resulted, with only a partial clean-up being made, six loads of butchers still remaining unsold at a late hour. Yesterday's top was 12.50, paid for a load of 180-pound averages. Four loads of mixed desirable weight butchers, including a small lot of local fed trucked-in butchers, turned from 11.75 @12.25, while a load of choice 250-pound Nebraskas cashed for 11.50. Half a load of local fed trucked-in butchers averaging 246 pounds went over for 10.50. Packing sows cashed largely from 8.50@8.75.

SHEEP—Yesterday's supply, all lambs, were cleaned up readily at around 25c higher prices. Offerings consisted of two decks of good 80-pound Arizonas at 12.50 straight. Choice light weight lambs were quoted up to 13.00, with medium to choice wooled ewes from 5.25@6.75.

Heavy Selling Turns Futures on Grain Down

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Liquidation was on in the grain markets, and with a lack of support, wheat broke 3⅛@4⅛c, corn 3⅝@ 4⅝c, oats 2@2⅝c and rye 3@4⅝c from the finish of Saturday. Wheat at the inside showed 8⅝c under the high of the previous week on the December. There was a noticeable lack of support and the finish was within a fraction of the bottom, with wheat 3¼@3⅝c lower. September was 1.34@1.34⅛ at the last, or 4⅛c under December, against 3⅝c on Saturday. Corn lost 2¾@3⅝c, with September 1.07⅝@1.07½, the discount under December being 4⅝c, against 4⅛c on Saturday. Oats lost 1⅝@2⅛c and rye 3⅛ @3⅝c.

It was the gossip of the trade that a leading local professional, who has been talking bullish on wheat for some time, went out of his line during the day, and there was also general selling on the better weather in Europe, an increase in estimates on the Canadian crop, and a decided slackening in the export demand. Sellers of bids were forced to protect themselves on the way down. Support came largely from shorts, while there were free selling on stop-loss orders on the way down. Winnipeg was weak and 3⅛ @3⅝c lower. Minneapolis reported around 1,000,000 bushels of wheat hedged there early, and closed 3@3⅛c lower. Receipts at that market were 1177 cars, and the big increase in the movement in the Northwest was a factor in inducing free selling of futures in all markets.

Clear weather prevailed in Europe and the forecast indicated that harvest would progress. As a result there was an utter absence of export business even at the decline, in striking contrast with the aggressive buying which prevailed last week, and no sales were reported. Crop Observer H. C. Donovan, who has returned from an inspection trip in Canada, said that the three provinces had a prospective wheat crop of over 400,000,000 bushels, and had it not been for damage by frost, rust and other causes, they might have secured 500,000,000 bushels.

An increase of 2,673,000 bushels in the domestic visible supply had little effect.

Several leading local traders were credited with liquidating liberal sized lines of corn, and with better weather conditions over the West, there was less aggressive support than of late, and instead commission houses sold freely on stop-loss orders. On the break there was a fair class of buying, but largely in the way of short covering, as a majority of the bulls were not inclined to take hold. Spot basis showed little change. Somewhat more optimistic crop comments were received during the day from various parts of the belt. Oats and rye broke in sympathy with other grains, with the recent best buyers of rye aggressive on the selling side. No export business was reported at the seaboard.

Trading in lard was good and the market stronger and higher early, but later weakened and finished irregular, due to liquidation pressure from longs and a little short selling. At the close near-by futures were 5@7½c lower, with January 2½c lower and May 5c higher. Foreigners were said to have been on both sides of the market.

Short ribs were 2½c lower to 2½c higher and bellies unchanged, with light trading.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—A reported decrease in the London stocks temporarily served to halt further liquidation in the outside crude rubber market today. New York spot changed hands at 34½, unchanged, while London cables displayed a slightly easier tone with spot at 16⅛d, a decline of ⅛d from the previous close.

London stock on hand for this week was 64,249 tons, a falling off of 583 tons from last week.

Rubber experimentation in Haiti is being continued by United States specialists, according to a report made by the Department of Commerce. It has been reported that the hope of large scale plantation developments could not be realized, although tapping experiments were remarkably good, particularly considering the northern latitude of Haiti, any future for rubber in Haiti, it is stated, must be by garden production "scattered" through small plots as in Java.

the 6 and 8 per cent preferred stocks and Goodrich. The demand for tire stocks was accelerated by reports of increasing production at Akron.

Shubert Theaters advanced 3 points to a new top on the publication of a report showing $10 a share earned in the fiscal year ended June 30, last. International Telephone, General Railway Signal, Du Pont, American Machine and Foundry, Reynolds Tobacco B and National Cash Register also bettered the previous peak prices.

Rails were still under the depressing influence of the poor July earnings statements now being published. Delaware and Hudson, which broke 9½ points Saturday, recovered nearly half its loss, but most of the others showed only narrow and unimportant changes.

Continued rain in the cotton belt, coupled with expectations of a bearish government report on the boll-weevil situation, accounted for the strength of cotton prices. The break in wheat, on the other hand, followed reports of favorable weather and fears of a heavy unexportable surplus of the commodity. Sugar and coffee prices held fairly steady.

Foreign exchanges were firm in quiet trading. Demand sterling was quoted around $4.85 13-16 and French francs just below 3.92 cents.

Cash Dividends Disbursed by Pullman Company Over $290,000,000 Since 1875

BY WILLIAM RUSSELL WHITE

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. — Working while its patrons slept, the Pullman Company has rolled up profits in its sixty years of operation sufficient to pay cash dividends of more than $290,000,000 and stock dividends aggregating $64,000,000.

A study of its expansion—to which attention is directed by segregation of its manufacturing operation from its sleeping-car service—cannot but impress the investor with the importance of conservative management. Its record of earnings is remarkable. Since its first statement was issued for the year ended July 31, 1875, the company has failed to earn its dividend requirements in only two years, 1921 and 1922, the period marked by industrial depression. It has never failed, since the first year of its existence, to pay its quarterly dividends.

If payments received from the government in 1922, in settlement of claims arising from Federal control, had been included in earnings, the showing would have been almost perfect.

Indications of a more liberal dividend policy as a result of the readjustment incidental to formation of the new holding company are seen in the upward revision of book values of the operating and of the manufacturing companies.

"As the values at which the stock of the Pullman Company and that of the manufacturing corporation have been entered on the books of Pullman, Inc., exceed the net worth of these companies as carried on their books, an explanation of the manner in which these values were arrived at is necessary," according to an analysis prepared by Clark, Dodge & Co.

"The increased values are based on an appraisal of the various properties as of April 30, 1927 and, in the judgment of directors and officers, represent a conservative valuation of their assets. According to its balance sheet of April 30, the net worth of the Pullman Company, exclusive of the manufacturing corporation's stock, was $140,668,653. After giving effect to the adjusted values the net worth was increased to $197,086,020.

"The net worth of the Pullman Car and Manufacturing Corporation, which was $67,860,952, was increased to $72,759,726 after appraisal. The total increase of both properties was $61,016,141. However, the manufacturing corporation declared a dividend of $18,016,141 to the Pullman Company from its surplus, thereby reducing its net worth of $53,969,149 and increasing that of the Pullman Company to $215,876,597. These are the values at which these assets have been entered on the balance sheet of Pullman, Inc.

"It has been generally accepted that the book values of the assets of the Pullman Company and of the manufacturing corporation were far from being reflective of actual values. This discrepancy, therefore, is being corrected to a conservative degree through this adjustment on the books of Pullman, Inc.

"The segregation effected by the reorganization will permit earnings of the carrier business to be clearly distinguished from earnings from manufacturing operations. In addition, it is believed the large surplus of cash assets can be more advantageously utilized. Finally, by increasing the number of shares outstanding and thereby reducing the price, the reorganization will make possible a larger participation in the ownership and a broader market for the stock."

WALL STREET PARAGRAPHS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—For a time in the forenoon it appeared as though the big speculation in General Motors had reached a point of temporary exhaustion. The first reaction of consequence in weeks came in the forenoon, and at the bottom a loss of 4½ points was recorded. But, as later events proved, this drop was caused by the selling of traders who had followed their activities in the stock with stop-loss orders close to the market. Speculators who sold for the decline enjoyed only a short respite, as the stock more than recovered its loss before midday and soared to new peak prices in the afternoon.

Steel Big Feature

The remarkable demonstration in Steel common tended to check any attempt by the bear element to use the temporary weakness in motors as a basis for a drive against the general market. Steel never hesitated, even when pressure against motors was at its height. The usual run of rumors was abroad to explain the rather spectacular rise in the old-line leader to new record levels. Report of a new and powerful pool taking the stock out of the market was one. But Steel's strong position and its ability to weather any moderate recession in business without danger to the dividend, doubtless told the story. Current prices equal better than 200, giving effect to the stock dividend.

Money Remains Easy

Though preparations to handle the usual month-end demands on banks went ahead, money continued apparently in plentiful supply. Banks called another $15,000,000 in loans, making a total of upward of $30,000,000 since Friday, but funds for speculative purposes appeared ample, with new loans being made throughout the day at 3½ per cent, the renewal figure.

Juggling the Billions

In these days of high and mighty finance, theoretical billions it seems are tossed around without causing any more confusion than might have been aroused by discussions in trifling millions not so many years ago. Just now much is being made of figures calculating the likely increase in the value of this year's crops over those of 1926 at about $1,000,000,000. Naturally much is heard of the great increase in farm buying power which is to result. But, as it was pointed out in certain quarters today, the shares of one corporation, namely, General Motors, have appreciated about $1,000,000,000 in the last fourteen months.

An Active Inactive Issue

Though the shares of Vulcan Detinning have been grouped with the so-called "inactive" shares, they are more active momentarily than some of the more favored issues. But just what caused this sudden burst of speed is rather puzzling, both to the head of the company and the stock-exchange officials alike. Trading is done very largely in odd lots, but the pace since a week ago today has been fast and furious, the stock doubling in value within the space of three days last week. The bulk of the 40-point rise, however, was lost before Saturday's closing and at one time today, following the request of the stock exchange for full details of recent trading, the stock was back virtually to where it started from a week ago.

Oils Under Fire

Renewal of pressure against the oils developed early in the day and selling continued through the session. The drive converged once again on the Pan-American issues, which dropped to new lows. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that at least a cut in the present $6 rate is due at the September 10 dividend meeting. But today reports had it that a large payment was due the government in settlement of its suit quite soon. Phillips, Marland & Barnsdall were freely sold.

Du Pont's G. M. Investment

On the basis of current market figures for General Motors the Du Pont investment represented at the close of 1926 by 1,996,240 shares, of the big motor company's stock, is carried at very conservative values on the company's books. Du Pont carried the stock in its balance sheet on December 31, last, at $56.88 a share, or a total of $93,590,000. This was raised to $60 a share or $118,774,640 as of June 30, last. But figured at current values of around $250 these holdings of General Motors had an open market value of more than $499,000,000. Du Pont continued to move with General Motors today, reacting when the latter declined and subsequently moving to new high levels.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: "Sheet-mill operations in the Mahoning Valley have dropped to the lowest level in about eighteen months. Prices, however, are holding firmly, due in large measure to the expectation of brisker demand when automotive requirements expand.

"Steel ingot production averages under 60 per cent of capacity in the Youngstown district. Pig iron buying has slackened at St. Louis, but heavy inquiries indicate large potential demand. Good rail buying is pending. Car-building shops in the Chicago district are heading up steel specifications. The iron and steel scrap market is gaining strength in the West.

"Copper is firmer, with more metal being held for 13.25c, delivered Connecticut. Lead is stronger at 6.25@6.30c, St. Louis. Zinc is unchanged at 6.25c, St. Louis. Tin is higher at 68.75c, New York."

Prices at Sidney are reported to have advanced 2½ to 5 per cent over the closing rates of the last sales in the spring. Offerings were largely of the shorter type of fine wool suitable for manufacturers in Europe. Buyers for the continent were reported to be operating most heavily.

Also Rounds Quarter Century Mark With Company

Veteran Executive Recipient of Numerous Tributes

Wilmington and Wrigley's western companies passed a milestone with David P. Fleming yesterday. For it not only was his forty-third birthday, but Dave was rounding out a quarter-century with the Santa Catalina and associated companies, of which he is now secretary and treasurer.

The history and growth of the man is the history and growth of the companies, and their expansion is another of the Southland's romances in business.

Dave began as a stenographer at 18 years of age, when the Bannings owned Catalina Island. The little Hermosa was the only liner, and when a crowd of 500 sought passage the towboats Warrior and Falcon, comprising the fleet, had to be pressed into service. Fifty thousand passengers were hauled yearly to or from the island resort, regarded as a great record.

Business climbed along with Dave, through office clerk, ticket clerk, timekeeper, cashier, chief clerk, purchasing agent and a lot of odd jobs to his present post as secretary-treasurer.

From one little liner and two tugs, the Wilmington Transportation Company now has four liners, a dozen modern tugs, and a score of other craft. Its management thinks nothing of hauling 10,000 sightseers on a busy day, last year transporting more than 700,000.

That, however, is a modest part of Fleming's responsibility. The Santa Catalina Island Company and Wilmington Transportation Company alone employ 1500 men and women. Then there are mines opening on the island, and a new tile plant, and the Los Angeles baseball club, and half a dozen kindred outfits to claim part of his attention. Six months ago, having "nothing to do" he and "Boots" Weber took $1,000,000 of Wrigley's money and formed the Fleming-Weber Company, now building blocks of beautiful homes in Wilmington and soon to make investments in neighborhood cities, for Wrigley told them "there are more millions where that came from."

Yesterday great masses of flowers from friends and the staff greeted the veteran executive when he opened his office. Then a platinum watch and chain were presented him by the employees who likewise have been twenty-five years in the company's service. Inside the back was engraved the following:

"Presented to David P. Fleming in honor of his first twenty-five years of service with the Santa Catalina Island Company and allied interests, 1902 to 1927. Keep going, Dave."

The inscription bore the names of L. A. Civill, Harry Allen, A. H. Splittstoesser, Tom Polhamus, Otto Lund, Fred Hildebrand, Harry Crowell, Capt. Louis Black, Edwin Stanton and Al Fraser.

As he works fast, Dave always has plenty of time for callers, menial or magnificent; he is the staff's confidant for all their personal problems, and he still likes to slip out and take up tickets at the liners' gangplanks or hand out baggage to the travelers with his corps of colored help. And the imprint of Dave Fleming's personality is reflected throughout Wrigley's western organizations.

EXPANSION OF NIPPON YUSEN KAISHA LINE SEEN

Extension of Nippon Yusen Kaisha's trans-Pacific passenger service to Los Angeles, as well as to San Francisco, the present terminus, is seen in orders for the Tenyo Maru to come to Los Angeles September 21, via San Francisco from the Orient.

Officials here understood some such expansion policy had been decided on, but did not know the details, or whether all five liners now in the service would continue to serve Los Angeles.

Two of the vessels have been regular callers here the last year, the Siberia Maru and the Korea Maru. They have gone out with increasing offerings of Southland freight, and with anywhere from 100 to 400 passengers each.

The service would traverse much the same route as the recently inaugurated Dollar "horseshoe" fleet, whose nine liners now call here on Sundays, touching San Francisco before and after calling here.

Nippon Yusen Kaisha also maintains a fleet of liners which touch here en route from the Orient to South America, and recently have dispatched every other one homeward bound from here direct without touching San Francisco.

As the ships are official mail carriers, any variation from present routings must have the approval of the Department of Communications of Japan, and it is understood this has been assured.

Establishment of lights to aid navigation on the north end of Santa Catalina Island and on Begg Rock, which projects from the ocean floor of San Nicolas Island, were requested by the directors of the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce in a communication to the Department of Commerce. The latter long has been held a danger spot in the steamer lane to and from Hawaii and the Orient. Lighting of the former would be of chief convenience to war vessels and the great fleet of fishing and yachting craft. Automatic lights operating nine months without attention are suggested as advisable. It is understood the suggestion will be considered by the Greater Harbor Committee of Two Hundred and other civic bodies soon.

Bethlehem Steel Corporation's new twelve-ship fleet of Calmar cargo carriers will begin the intercoastal service with the arrival of the 12,000-ton steamer Cubore at Los Angeles September 10 with 7000 tons of steel for the Pacific Coast. Williams, Dimond & Co., will handle this ship, but it is understood Moore & McCormick, which represent the new line on the east coast, shortly will establish their own agencies on this coast. The Garland vessels, which will comprise part of the fleet and now are known as the Albert Jeffress, Edgar Bowling, George Allen, James B. Luke, William Campion and William Perkins, will be renamed, respectively, the Calmar, Penmar, Massmar, Oakmar, Reximar and the Yorkmar.

United Dredging Company has completed filling Cabrillo Beach for the Playground Commission, and will move their dredge up channel to the turning basin, whence silt will be deposited on Terminal Island east of Fish Harbor. The company has completed the southern third of the government job of deepening the main channel to thirty-five feet, which called for moving about 3,000,000 yards of earth.

Bids will close today for the purchase of the old lighthouse tender Madrona, and will be opened by Supt. H. W. Rhodes at San Francisco September 1. A new craft will replace the Madrona which has been in service almost fifty years.

Halfhill Packing Company has purchased the schooner Glendale and the latter was towed from San Francisco yesterday by Mahony Lumber Company's schooner Santa Inez. It is understood the craft will be repaired and outfitted as a tender in the offshore fishing trade.

The Admiral liner Ruth Alexander will change schedule slightly next week to permit the Labor Day excursion to Ensenada. She will arrive from the north Thursday, September 1, and depart at 9 p.m. for Ensenada, returning here Monday, September 5 at 6 p.m. and sailing north at 11 a.m.

The Transmarine-type steamer H. J. Lawrence, damaged at Panama in collision with the American Pioneer steamer Hanover two weeks ago, is due here today for a survey of damages and repairs. She has been sold to Japanese interests and is expected to pick up cargo en route.

GOEBEL HAS PUBLIC FETE CALLED OFF

Dole Flight Winner Urges San Francisco to Abandon Dinner Due to Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Reluctance of Arthur C. Goebel of Los Angeles and William V. Davis of Atlanta, winners of the $35,000 Dole race to Honolulu, to take part in congratulatory festivities as long as the mystery of the seven flyers lost at sea remains unsolved, today led to the cancellation of a public banquet scheduled for them Wednesday night.

Goebel and Davis are en route to San Francisco on the Matson liner Manoa and are due Wednesday morning. They cabled from the steamer today to Frank A. Flynn, secretary of the local chapter of the National Aeronautic Association:

"We request public banquet be called off because of loss of seven other flyers."

Accordingly, the winners of the air marathon will be greeted by an official welcoming committee and escorted to the City Hall for a formal reception, in sympathy with the fate of their fellow-flyers.

The United States Navy's search for the lost aviators and Miss Mildred Doran, is entering its last stages. Admiral Richard Jackson, commander in chief of the battle fleet, reported today that a flotilla of submarines left Honolulu this morning for San Diego with instructions to watch carefully the area of possible drift. The destroyers which were sent across the sea to Hawaii, reached Pearl Harbor at 10:30 a.m.

After refueling they will start back on the San Francisco ship lane, until halfway to this city and then will turn toward San Diego.

Meanwhile, plans are going forward for a memorial service to the missing flyers September 16 at sea.

CHINA NATIONALISTS FAIL TO BOOST DUTIES

LONDON, Aug. 29. (AP)—The British government is informed from China that the Nationalist regime has decided to postpone application of tariff autonomy.

Thus, the high duties which it was expected would be levied beginning September 1 are canceled, and the customs officials at Shanghai and Canton and presumably at other ports will continue to collect only the Washington surtaxes of 2½ per cent.

SAVING AND LOAN AIMS EXPLAINED

R. H. Myers of This City Delivers Keynote Talk at Portland Session

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 29. (AP)—Public confidence is the only foundation on which a successful savings and loan business can be built, R. Holtby Myers of Los Angeles said in the keynote address at the opening session of the Pacific States savings and loan conference. Myers made a plea for adoption of a code of ethics which will increase the standards of the business and demonstrate to the public the sincerity of savings and loan-association work.

"The best confidence builder is the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth," he said. "Confidence in an institution is built upon the truth, upon a feeling of security and a certainty that the business is carried on with no unreasonable risk.

"A small and young organization should limit its normal risks to small ones and build slowly until its personnel, policy and surplus are well tried and developed.

"In our business credit is almost synonymous with confidence. A record of carefully selected loans, made without loss and made with a growing percentage of reserves and undivided profits, is the basis of credit. A high percentage of tangible, quick and available assets well distributed certainly aids in establishing confidence."

Myers pointed out the opportunity for building and loan development in Oregon.

"Building and loan investments in this State total approximately $25,000,000," he said. "In California new business of building and loan associations totaled more than $50,000,000 last year. Home building, I am convinced, as much as any one thing has been responsible for development in Southern California."

Myers said there are about 13,000,000 members and investors in building and loan associations in the United States, with aggregate savings of $6,300,000,000.

Roses were given each delegate by the Womens' Advertising Club of Portland. Three hundred delegates from all States west of the Rocky Mountains have registered for the conference.

ASKED SALARY CUT

A request from C. W. Allendoerfer, school board treasurer of Kansas City, Mo., that his salary be cut $50 a month, was approved by the board "with thanks." Mr. Allendoerfer's letter to the board merely said that the service he was giving was not worth the $200 he was being paid.

Trial Witness Accuses Malley

CARSON CITY (Nev.) Aug. 29. (AP) Statement that Ed Malley, former Nevada State Treasurer, charged with embezzlement, once admitted to George Wingfield, Nevada mining man and banker, that he was short in his State accounts, was made on the stand today by George B. Thatcher, who was Attorney-General during the time Malley was treasurer.

Malley is charged jointly with George A. Cole, former State Controller, with embezzlement of more than $500,000 of State funds.

Thatcher, who is attorney for Wingfield, testified that Malley made the admission of his shortage during a conversation in Wingfield's home, and again in his own office in the State Capitol.

SEED CORN SHORTAGE IMPENDS NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Probability of a serious seed corn shortage in some sections next year, if steps are not taken this fall to prevent it, was forecast today by the Department of Agriculture. "Much of the corn in the corn belt and northward is so far behind that it has little chance to mature sufficiently for seed before frost," said the department.

Artificial Teeth Skillfully Made

WHEN you get a set of artificial teeth there is but one thing worth considering, and that is satisfaction. A cheap set, made on the factory plan, will cause endless worry, embarrassment and suffering. Plates that do not fit are little better than no teeth at all.

In offices using the E. R. Parker System are skilled dentists who make artificial teeth exclusively. They do this work exceptionally well because they specialize upon it. The plates they make are guaranteed to fit and to wear for years.

Particular skill is employed to make artificial teeth look natural, and to fit so comfortably and snugly that you can eat and laugh and talk without revealing that your natural teeth are gone.

The price for these satisfactory plates is moderate. You are invited to call and have an examination of your mouth made without charge.

SOUTHLAND JURIST BEFORE FINAL BAR

Judge Sidney N. Reeve

VETERAN OF BENCH DIES IN GLENDALE

Judge Sidney N. Reeve Passes Away After Stroke of Apoplexy

Superior Judge Sidney N. Reeve, 50 years of age, veteran jurist who has served in various branches of the court since 1914, died at his Glendale home last night following a stroke of apoplexy suffered Thursday night.

The judge had not been in good health for some time. He was operated upon in 1924 for the removal of the gall bladder and the following year was absent from his duties for four months during which time another major operation was performed. His fatal illness was due to heart and kidney disease which caused complications that eliminated hope for his recovery.

During the years he presided in the Superior Court Judge Reeve handled many famous criminal-case trials. Among these was the trial of Arthur C. Burch, tried and dismissed on a charge of murder in connection with the death of J. Belton Kennedy. Judge Reeve also sentenced many persons convicted of crime and received threatening letters believed to have been written by underworld friends of the convicted men.

Just a year ago, threats were made against the life of Judge Reeve by a fanatic or maniac, who threw a brick through the window at the home of Clark Reeder, for years bailiff for the jurist. A paper was wrapped around the brick and on it was written threats of vengeance. Subsequent investigation led detectives to decide the act to have been one of a demented person, though actual responsibility for it was not fixed.

More than half of Judge Reeve's life was spent in Los Angeles law circles. He came here twenty-six ears ago. He was born in Sherbrooke, Quebec, Can., and spent his early life in Chicago, where he graduated from the Lake Forest Law School. The University of Montreal also lays claim to Judge Reeves as an alumnus.

Starting his career as a jurist Judge Reeve was a justice of the peace for four years. He was placed in charge of the local Juvenile Court in 1914 and made a special study of child problems in this department until 1920.

The first jury with which he heard criminal proceedings presented Judge Reeve with a silk flag. A leather-bound, hand-engrossed memorial was

"But this is plainly against the law," Payne said yesterday. "It is a misdemeanor for a county officer to pay out funds in any way other than by a warrant on the county treasury. So it has been decided that, beginning September 1, the city's share of tax receipts will be deposited in the county treasury and daily warrants issued for the amounts due the city."

The city, Payne pointed out, is left with perfect freedom of choice between taking the warrants and cashing them, and taking them and not cashing them.

GIVE OUT WARRANTS

"If the city, for whatever reason, is so set on having cashier's checks, it can take our warrants to any bank and buy cashier's checks," Payne said. "But as far as we are concerned all money collected will go into the county treasury first and will be paid out on county warrants, in accordance with the law."

Payne admitted that mandamus proceedings might be brought against the county officers on the ground that they are ex-officio city officials, but this is a theory they are prepared to combat in court, he said.

NAVY TO BUILD EIGHT CRUISERS

Wilbur Says Pacific Yards Have Two Contracts

All Major Warships Being Modernized, He Says

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Aug. 29.—Eight new and modern cruisers will be built at once by the Navy, and two of them, costing $16,500,000 each, will be constructed on the Pacific Coast, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur stated here today. The secretary and his family came to Pasadena from Los Angeles to have luncheon at the home of Mrs. Eldridge M. Fowler, 363 Grove street.

The Navy is going ahead with its building program and plans to make recommendations to the next Congress favoring the construction of still more cruisers to meet what Navy officials consider the needs of this branch of the service, irrespective of armament limitation negotiations, Secretary Wilbur said. He did not comment on the failure of the last Geneva arms conference.

The two new cruisers which will take shape on the Pacific Coast will be built at Mare Island Navy Yard in San Francisco Bay, and at Bremerton Navy Yard, Puget Sound.

"The Navy is being thoroughly modernized," Secretary Wilbur pointed out, citing various examples of this program. "In addition to the cruiser building, one of the finest of the new submarines, a V-6 type, is now being built at Mare Island."

AVIATION STRIDES

Great strides which the Navy is making in the acquisition of aviation equipment, both offensive and defensive were described by Mr. Wilbur.

"A great deal of attention is being paid to aviation," he said, "and in building both aircraft and means of defense against aircraft. Many new planes are being built, but fully as important, although perhaps the public does not realize it, is the building of adequate protection for the ships against enemy planes.

"Six present battleships are being modernized to include proper anti-aircraft equipment, at a cost of $6,500,000 each, and six more shortly will undergo the same regeneration. Battleships and other battlecraft also are being equipped with planes which can take off at sea, both for offensive and defensive purposes.

"A new five-inch anti-aircraft gun also is being developed and we are building special auxiliary ships to carry aircraft."

REGRETS DOLE LOSSES

Secretary Wilbur expressed great regret over the loss of life occasioned by the Dole race and said that Congress should lay down more rigid restrictions for flights of this kind, as Admiral Eberle suggested, with the Department of Commerce administering the laws.

The naval chief will go to San Diego tomorrow, return to Los Angeles on Wednesday to address a Chamber of Commerce luncheon, speak before the Los Angeles City Club Thursday, attend a Chamber of Commerce luncheon at Long Beach Saturday noon and attend a reunion of a Sunday-school class he used to teach at First Congregational Church, Los Angeles, Saturday night at Hermosa Beach. Secretary and Mrs. Wilbur will leave for the East Monday. Their daughter will remain in California, joining the faculty of Lindsay High School.

The luncheon here today was a private social affair. Mrs. Fowler, their hostess, is an old friend of the family.

REALTY MEN PREPARE TO RAISE FUNDS

Colonels Call Conferences to Press Their Campaign for Building Money

Preliminary plans for the campaign to raise funds for the purchase of a site and the erection of a building for the Los Angeles Realty Board were made yesterday at meetings called by Frank H. Brooks, Mason Case, Clem Glass and C. W. Grant, heading four groups into which the membership has been divided for the campaign.

Each group has as its quota a minimum of $40,000, according to Vice-President Brooks, colonel of the first squadron. The entire financing of the project will be completed within thirty days, at which time it is expected that sufficient funds will be placed in the treasury completely to pay for ground and building.

City Hall Air Beacon Sought

A revolving beacon light on top of the new City Hall should be the next forward step in aviation development in Los Angeles, according to the Los Feliz Improvement Association. The association, through its board of directors, yesterday forwarded a resolution to the Mayor and City Council requesting that such a beacon be constructed.

The resolution calls attention to the fact that Los Angeles should be the aviation center of the Pacific Coast.

Suit Dismissal Opens Way for Bank Merging

With the dismissal in Federal Court yesterday of an action brought against the Comptroller General of the United States by various First National Banks in surrounding communities seeking to restrain the consolidation of the First National Bank of Los Angeles and the Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and the use of the name "First National-Consolidated Bank and Trust Company," the way was paved for the final joining of the two financial institutions.

The action in Federal Court was dismissed by the stipulation of attorneys for both parties to the suits. The new name agreed upon and adopted was the Los Angeles-First National Trust and Savings Bank.

SOUTHERN BOOSTERS FETED

Governor and 207 Others Invade Los Angeles on Annual Tour "to Tell World"

Southern oratory from the State of Mississippi was tendered members of the Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon given at the Biltmore yesterday for members of the "Know Mississippi Better" train tour, consisting of 208 visitors on their annual tour to introduce Mississippi to the rest of the country and to foster a spirit of friendship outside the boundaries of that State.

"The South," Gov. Murphree, leader of the party, announced, "has been content in the past to go its own way, but lately we have changed and we are here to tell and show what we are doing. We find the language, customs and all the folks are just the same everywhere, and there is no reason why a State boundary line should separate the interests of the country. We have a two-car exhibit on our train and we invite all of you to come down and see it."

ANOTHER DISPLAY

Evidence that Mississippi has a lot to show besides her agriculture, forestry and other industries, was introduced in the form of three charming Mississippi girls who are champions in an internationally conducted health contest.

Representative Whittington of Mississippi, member of the Irrigation Reclamation Committee, who is familiarizing himself with conditions in the Southwest, gave a talk on the recent Mississippi Valley flood disaster.

"I was going on to El Centro in the Imperial Valley," Mr. Whittington said, "when I learned you were to be in Los Angeles, so I made arrangements to meet you here.

"Los Angeles," he said, "is great not only because of the films, manufacturers and the climate, but because of the generous and open-hearted individuals here. We are proud of the State of Mississippi, but its greatness is not in its manufacturing or material richness alone. The greatness of any city or nation consists in the type of citizens. Our civic bodies are developing the type of people that will make this a greater nation.

"I want to take this time to thank you for your open, liberal heartedness to the people even now in distress, for the generous contribution through the Red Cross.

COOLIDGE LAUDED

"We have had floods before, but this will be known as the great flood. The loss has been estimated at from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 in damage. I want to say on behalf of my people that we thank President Coolidge, who did the right thing by asking Congress to make preparations for the relief of the flooded area and in sending Hoover to do the work.

"The Mississippi Valley offers a national problem and the United States, which has been great enough to build the Panama Canal, must be great enough to care for the problem."

Representative Hull of Illinois, member of the Rivers and Harbors Committee and author of the Hull bill, which provides for connecting the Great Lakes with the Mississippi, told of the work his commimttee is doing in the Mississippi Valley, and cautioned the members of the party who are here to do something for Mississippi, but if not careful will be staying here to help California."

Other members of the party introduced were W. F. Bond, State Superintendent of Education; R. S. Wilson, director of extension, Agricultural and Mechanical College; J. R. Ruff, farmer-extension worker, and Sam E. Woods, supervisor of industries and rehabilitation.

W.C.T.U. TO MEET

Los Angeles W.C.T.U. will meet Thursday at 10 a.m. in the First Methodist Church for the annual all-day meeting and election of officers. Officers' and superintendents' reports will be given and all members are asked to be present. Mrs. Hattie M. Doughty, county president, will preside.

Death Follows Burns Caused by Live Wire

Harry L. Blad, 40 years of age, an employee of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company substation at 518 West Seventy-eighth street, died in the General Hospital yesterday as a result of burns received when he clutched a live wire.

According to officers of the Seventy-seventh police division, Blad was working on a ladder when he lost his balance. In an effort to save himself he reached for a near-by wire. About 15,000 volts passed through his body.

Mr. Blad was married and resided at 1050 South Berendo avenue.

FILM LOVE DREAM COMES TRUE

Eight-Year-Old Romance of Pauline Starke, Actress, and Jack White, Producer, Will Culminate in Marriage During Week-End at San Francisco

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

One of the most romantic and enduring love affairs in filmland, that of Pauline Starke, film star, and Jack White, producer of comedies, will culminate in marriage the coming week-end at San Francisco.

Miss Starke and White, lately renewed a romance which began eight years ago, when both were youngsters.

Pauline Starke

They met at a party and immediately fell in love. Miss Starke was a film star already despite her youth and Jack was a comedian. They became engaged within a few weeks, and were engaged for about four years.

Then a lovers' quarrel came between them and the engagement was broken.

But neither ever became engaged to anyone else, although it is rumored that while abroad recently Pauline could have married an English lord had she desired.

"During the estrangement Jack and I always were friends," said Pauline. "And always at Christmas time we remembered each other with cards and gifts."

JACK WHITE

All the time apparently the old flame burned, and last April when Miss Starke went east to make a picture, accompanied by W. E. Allen and his wife and Miss Starke's mother, Jack White suddenly decided he had business in the East, too.

"Somehow, on that trip, Jack and I made up," smiled Pauline. "We are going to have a very quiet wedding in San Francisco, either Saturday or Sunday. We both feel that the test of time is the thing in a love affair. Anything that will endure is worth waiting for."

Next summer they expect to go to Europe for a trip. They will take up their residence in the Spanish-style house in Beverly Hills recently built by White.

Mrs. Edythe Starke, Pauline's mother, who is extremely young and pretty herself, is leaving with friends for a trip to Honolulu, where she has friends in naval circles.

COURT SUSTAINS JULIAN CHARGES

Stephens Denies Motion to Quash Indictments

Decision Bars Avenue to Prosecution Escape

More Usury Warrants Filed by City Prosecutor

Validity of indictments returned against fifty asserted major pool operators in the Julian Petroleum Corporation crash was sustained yesterday by Judge Stephens in Superior Court.

By denying the motion to dismiss two of the indictments on technical grounds and then overruling demurrers to the true bills, Judge Stephens ended a three-day attack on the indictments by Attorney John S. Cooper, representing Abe Prell and H. Gutterman, both charged with conspiracy to commit usury.

At the same time, Judge Stephens by his ruling absolutely cut off any further attack on the indictments from the same source. It had been indicated that should the action of Prell and Gutterman prove successful the remaining forty-eight men under indictment would seek the same avenue of escape from prosecution.

JURORS ABSENT

In his final plea yesterday Cooper demanded the dismissal of the indictments on the ground that they were improperly returned. Specifically, he charged that members of the grand jury who voted the indictments had not been present at all the sessions of the grand jury during the investigation into the Julian collapse and that the deputy District Attorney was allowed to remain in the room while the true bills were being voted. He contended that members of the grand jury who have not been present should not have signed the true bills.

But Judge Stephens, after hearing the testimony of Francis Gentry, secretary of the grand jury, to the effect that at no time during the eighteen days of investigation were less than fifteen of the nineteen jurors present, ruled that the question was merely one of mathematics.

"I don't believe that a juror has the right to vote on an indictment without having heard some evidence. I do not believe, however, that we have the right to go into the sufficiency of the evidence before the grand jury on which the indictments were returned. However, I think this is clearly a matter of mathematics as to the number of jurors present and Mr. Gentry has testified that fifteen or more of the jurors were always in attendance."

TRIAL DATES SET

Promptly thereafter, Prell and Gutterman were arraigned on the felony charges, pleaded not guilty and their trial set for October 3, as are the trials of nearly all the others in the case. S. C. Lewis, resigned and indicted head of the Julian Corporation, together with ten others, however, is scheduled to go to trial on September 8 on charges of violating the Corporate Securities Act and conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses.

Ben Cohn, chief investigator for the District Attorney's office, yesterday returned from the East, where he had gone to bring back Jake Berman, alias Jack Bennett, whose amazing financial operations constitute one of the chief factors in the Julian Corporation history, and also to obtain further evidence in the case.

Mr. Cohn had little to say. Berman or Bennett was not with him and Mr. Cohn ruefully admitted he had failed to get sight of the fugitive, who is under indictment here. But he did bring back some evidence—whether important or not he did not know—and this has been turned over to Chief Deputy District-Attorney Davis.

THE BANNING COACH

Capt. Banning, as related in a charming story by a Times writer, is probably the last survivor of the ancient sport of coaching. In all probability the coach-and-six will die with him.

It is interesting to remember that his father, Gen. Phineas Banning, was one of the most dashing and expert drivers in the West. The family once owned a stage line that ran between Los Angeles and San Pedro.

And "ran" was the proper name for it. When the driver released the big foot brake, the wild bronchos that were fastened to the coach lit out like a herd of wild jackrabbits. The arrival of every steamer at San Pedro signaled a race between the rival stage lines. Gen. Banning frequently used to drive himself.

GREAT DAYS COMING

The figures in The Times real estate section—as to the rise of population and real estate values—are terrific and staggering; but the next generation will have a more amazing story to tell.

Real estate experts, making surveys for eastern capital, predict that the boulevards reaching from Los Angeles to the sea will eventually become lined with the most expensive chunks of real estate in the whole world.

Just so, Los Angeles will inevitably become the largest city the whole world.

Right now you can travel from Los Angeles to the foothill towns; or turn about and travel to the sea; and you never see where Los Angeles leaves off and the next city begins.

Former Los Angeles Police Head Expects Own Indictment

BAIL BOND HEAD UNDERGOES QUIZ

Ex-Police Chief Questioned by Grand Jury

Attorney for Jacobson Also Before Body

New Angles Developed in Murray Fight

Investigation of Los Angeles bail bond brokers and fixers by the county grand jury, assumed a new air of importance yesterday when W. V. Anderson, attorney for Councilman Jacobson and Charles A. Jones, head of the Charles A. Jones Bail Bond Company, and former Chief of Police of Los Angeles, were called into the jury room to testify regarding certain transactions. The importance with which the investigation is viewed was revealed further when it was learned that Pete Rovegno, a prisoner at Folsom State prison, was brought back to Los Angeles Sunday upon a court order issued by Superior Judge Stephens to testify in the same case. Rovegno was sentenced to Folsom for violation of the State narcotic laws.

Another witness called in the same case was Jean Davis, asserted to be Rovegno's sweetheart. Both she and Rovegno remained in the grand jury room for an extended period.

Attorney Anderson, however, remained in the jury room only a few minutes and it was learned from authoritative sources that he stood upon his constitutional rights, refusing to testify.

Jones, on the other hand, is believed to have answered all questions put to him by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray, in charge of the investigation, for he was closeted with the grand jury for more than an hour.

EXPECTS INDICTMENT

Although the exact nature of the case under investigation could not be established last night, it was presumed to pertain to matters other than bail bonds for Rovegno's name was not contained in the list of questionable bail bond proceedings in the hands of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Murray. Murray, however, made one definite statement in regard to the investigation saying pointedly that it had no connection whatever with Councilman Jacobson's pending case.

Anderson had little to say when he left the grand jury room. Before he went before the grand jury, however, he said, "It is all a frame-up."

The last witnesses in the pending case will be called to testify at the next session of the grand jury which was set for September 7, next, according to Murray.

OTHER CASES REVIEWED

In addition to the Rovegno case investigation, it was learned that an outline of the fourteen questionable bail bond cases was presented to the grand jury. Heading this list was the $15,000 Walter Guest bail bond which, according to the Municipal Court records, has never been declared forfeited.

The question of what action the grand jury will take on the unforfeited bail bond investigation remained a matter of conjecture, but it was predicted freely that the entire matter will be referred to the finance committee of the grand jury at an early date.

Should the matter be referred to this committee, an audit of all records pertaining to bail bonds and their forfeiture may be ordered, according to those in close touch with the situation.

CUT-RATE WAR LOOMS IN BAIL-BOND BUSINESS

A cut-rate commission war among Los Angeles bail-bond firms, some of which are under investigation by the county grand jury for asserted irregularities in forfeitures, looms, the Seaboard Surety Corporation of America having last night announced an unexpected slash of 4 per cent in its customary fee effective September 1.

The usual commission on all bail bonds in Los Angeles, and formerly charged by this concern, is 10 per cent.

In the face of statements from several bail bondsmen recently that they face heavy cuts in their staffs to compensate for business losses caused by the bail-bond investigation, the impending rate war is considered by authorities as the first blow in the fight for business on a new basis.

One argument voiced by a prominent member of the Los Angeles Police Department is that a slash of 4 per cent in bail-bond commissions will eliminate largely the "capping" system because it is believed a bail-bond firm cannot afford to pay commissions to "cappers" if surety bonds are sold on a 6 per cent basis.

In the past year seven times as many American tractors were taken into Spain as in the previous twelve months.

Dahlia Show Opens Friday

In anticipation of the thousands of visitors expected at Buena Park next Friday to attend the fifth annual Orange County Dahlia Show under the auspices of the Buena Park Woman's Club, decoration of the city in flags and bunting was commenced yesterday following a meeting of show committees headed by Mrs. Caryl Snyder, general chairman. The main boulevard is flanked with dahlias in full bloom, planted by members of the women's club, and the town is assuming a festive air.

The largest dahlia show in the history of the club is anticipated this year, and preparations are being made to care for a record breaking attendance. The dahlia queen contest which has been in progress for a month has created widespread interest. Mrs. Albert Launer of Fullerton, president of the federation of women's clubs, will preside at the coronation ceremonies Friday.

Mrs. Chaplin Unopposed in Guardianship Appointment; Divorce Decree Stan

There were two Superior Court developments in the Chaplin divorce case yesterday. Judge Guerin decided not to rewrite the decree of divorce to include in the judgment provision for the payment of the $45,000 fee allowed to W. I. Gilbert and Herman Spitzler, receivers.

Judge Pullen appointed Mrs. Lita Gray Chaplin legal guardian of the two Chaplin boys, so she can administer the funds provided in the property settlement for their support.

Judge Guerin held that while inclusion of receivers' fees might be proper in a decree of divorce it is not necessary and would not make the account any more collectable. As the decree was entered the 23rd inst., any alteration would make the interlocutory year run from a later date, an inconvenience to the litigants without compensating benefit to the receivers, he pointed out.

Mrs. Chaplin was in court before Judge Pullen only a few moments. Her petition set up that the property settlement provides that Chaplin shall within five years create a trust fund of $200,000 for their sons, and that pending the establishment of the trust he shall pay $1000 a month for their support. The order appointing Mrs. Chaplin as legal guardian will enable her to collect and spend these moneys. In behalf of Chaplin there was entered by his attorney, Lloyd Wright, a waiver of objection, so the proceedings were perfunctory.

LEWIS TRIAL DEFENDANTS LOSE POINT

Own Witness Admits Oil Well Flowed Less Than Amount Advertised

Admission by a defense witness that the oil flow advertised by E. G. Lewis and associates as coming from their wells and in which subscribers to the California Illustrated review were to be given interest was much greater than the actual production featured the trial in Federal District Court yesterday. William B. Long, the defense witness, testified that the well was flowing about 50 cents' worth of oil per minute whereas the Lewis interests asserted the flowing oil was valued at $2 per minute.

Total production of the well from March 23, 1923, to May 30, 1923, was given in reports identified by Long as approximately 30,000 barrels. This represented a value of about $24,000, whereas the advertising declared the value to be between $40,000 and $48,000 per month.

The government says that Lewis, W. L. Kramer and William Ahrens misused the mails in their advertising in an effort to get subscribers to pay $10 for a "life subscription" and for interest in the wells. The trial has been in progress three weeks before Federal Judge Jacobs of Arizona, sitting in the absence of Judge Henning, who is on vacation.

Workers Hurt by Explosion in Excavation

While working in an excavation yesterday in the 3500 block on Glendale Boulevard, two Mexican laborers were seriously injured in a dynamite explosion which was caused when a pick struck a detonating cap.

The injured men, who were taken to the Receiving Hospital, are Pedro Malcado, 35 years of age, 1422½ Nord street, and Francisco Quares, 39, of 2225 Davis street. Malcado suffered many deep cuts and bruises on the face and body. In addition, he is thought to be permanently blinded.

Quares also was badly bruised by flying stones and debris from the blast.

According to the foreman of the Green Construction Company for which the men were working, four charges of dynamite had been planted, two of which exploded. The foreman said that he cautioned the men not to approach the explosive for thirty-five minutes. Apparently they misunderstood his instructions, because they returned to work before the proper length of time had expired.

Appeal to Eye to Be Feature of Radio Show

Acting on the belief that the average person "would rather see than hear tell of," it was decided yesterday by the management of the Radio Show Beautiful, which opens Monday in the Ambassador Auditorium, to provide many illustrations of how radio operates.

The show will cover every phase of radio, Lombard J. Smith, general chairman of arrangements, said, and in direct contrast with the simplified illustrations, he said, there will be many displays and discussions couched in such highly technical vein that only a scientist will comprehend.

By adopting these tactics and also maintaining displays of semitechnical nature, the general chairman forecast, the show will play to every person who attends. Virtually every new receiver, loud speaker, battery, amplifying device and cabinet brought out since the last radio exhibit here, he said, will be included in the exhibits.

SCHOOL GIRL CONVICTED IN RUM CASE

Guest in Home Raided by Officers Found Guilty But Owner's Wife Escapes

Though Miss Alvina Cronner, 21-year-old business college student, was only a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Schoenfieldt at 722 North Citrus avenue when vice squad officers raided the place, she was found guilty yesterday of the possession of liquor, while the sister went free.

Policemen Smith and Mulligan testified that they found Miss Cronner in the garage adjoining the residence, where three cases of gin, six cases of wine and seventy-five cases of empty bottles were discovered. Miss Cronner protested her innocence, declaring she was washing clothes in the garage.

Mrs. Schoenfieldt, who was found not guilty of the charge, testified that the liquor belonged to her husband.

Last Rites Today for Mrs. Arnold

Services for Mrs. Lois Ellen Arnold, resident of Los Angeles since 1887, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the University Methodist Church, Jefferson and McClintock streets, with burial at Inglewood. Mrs. Arnold died Friday after three months of illness.

She aided in the organization and building of the Methodist Hospital, and served as a member of its board for some time, and was active in the church and its missionary societies, particularly the local Chinese mission work. She was a member of the Ebell Club seventeen years.

Mrs. Arnold leaves her son, Roy Charles Arnold, and a brother, B. F. Frizzell, both of this city.

Wife Protests Pillow Arsenal

Joseph D. Smith, a war veteran, always slept with two loaded guns under his pillow, Sarah D. Smith charged in Judge Schauer's court, where she was granted a divorce.

"I have those guns all ready now, and if I have to shoot anyone I am ready," she quoted Smith as saying.

Mrs. Smith stated she was the widow of a soldier at the time she married Smith, and gave up her pension for him. They went to live at her house, she said, and he drove out the roomers, thus depriving her of another source of income.

Once when Smith was ill, the wife said, he refused to let her help him, but tried to make love to his nurse.

Smith started the divorce action, but failed to appear to contest his wife's cross-complaint, and the decree was granted Mrs. Smith by default.

ANITA BALDWIN SUED OVER PEAT

Smoldering Beds Cited in Damage Actions

Two Girls and Boy Tell of Burns on Lands

Arrests Over Burning Area Halted by City

Anita M. Baldwin, daughter of the late E. J. (Lucky) Baldwin, yesterday was named defendant in Superior Court in three suits for damages filed by two girls and a boy who declared they received severe burns when they broke through the surface crust into a smoldering peat bed at Hauser and Exposition boulevards.

Plaintiffs in the suits are Dorothy Stamer, 14 years of age, Edmarine Turner, 14, and Bernardine Burke, 16. Each sued for $25,000 damages. Miss Stamer states she was severely burned about the legs, feet and arms July 13, last, while it was on July 20, that young Turner states he broke through the crust into the burning peat. Miss Burke gives the date of her asserted injuries as the 10th inst.

IN BALDWIN HILLS

The complaints state there was no guard or barrier to keep children from walking across the surface of the smoldering bed. Mrs. Baldwin is owner of the property, which is located at the foot of the Baldwin Hills.

The filing of suits yesterday followed on the heels of the issuance of warrants by the City Prosecutor's office last Saturday for the arrest of those held responsible for existing conditions at the peat beds. Arrests were averted yesterday, however, when Anita Baldwin, H. J. Dearborn, her representative, R. E. Heath and Charles W. Cross, representatives of the Sunset Fields Golf Club, which recently acquired part of the property, took steps to protect the public against further accidents in the hazardous area under their ownership or control.

THEY BUILD FENCE

The parties of interest, Walter Mortley and George A. Crawford of the prosecutor's office, said, have built about a quarter of a mile of wire fence along the danger zone, placed a guard on the spot to warn away possible trespassers, and have erected signs warning persons away. In addition, Mortley and Crawford stated, the Pan American Petroleum Company has taken steps to guard against possible bursting of an oil pipe line in the area.

With these steps taken, Chief Investigator Vail said the warrants, announced Saturday, were held in abeyance until the Baldwin and club interests shall have completed a deep trench that they are said to have promised to dig around the smoldering area to prevent its further spread, which means extinction when the entrenched area is burned out.

Mortley reported that the peat beds include about twenty-five acres, of which eight or ten acres have been burned over. The land lies between the Baldwin Hills and that point along the Pacific Electric Railway where Hauser Boulevard extends to the tracks. The fire is said to have been burning for four years and a number of persons walking over the underground furnace in ignorance of its existence have been burned because of sudden cave-ins, Vail said.

"We never received a complaint from anyone in the neighborhood about it, but we acted on our own initiative to put an end to this when we read newspaper accounts of the open danger that existed there," Vail and Deputy City Prosecutor Concannon stated.

THREE HURT AS WALL COLLAPSES

ONE man is in the California Lutheran Hospital and two others had a miraculous escape from death as a result of an eighteen-foot concrete retaining wall collapsing at the rear of 1519 Sunset avenue yesterday. The cave-in left a portion of a large apartment-house without a foundation.

The injured man, who was helping to load a truck beneath the wall when it toppled, is J. W. McPherson, 30 years of age, of 1427 Elwood street. Working on a garage just below the wall were J. Kauffman and Hyman Levin, 1517 Sunset avenue. They were slightly hurt when the heavy wall carried away a portion of the building on which they were standing.

According to Detective Lieutenants Hamilton and Stevenson, who investigated, the crash was caused by the green concrete giving away at its base.

According to attendants of the California Hospital, McPherson is suffering from a badly crushed leg and lacerations on the face and head. The truck near which he was working was wrecked by the tons of falling concrete.

"We were working on top of the roof when we heard a rumbling sound like an earthquake," said Mr. Kauffman. "At the same time there was a crash and we felt the roof on which we were standing swept from beneath our feet. Hyman was beneath a pile of timbers, but I happened to be thrown clear of the wreckage. Then I helped to rescue him."

The home of Mr. Kauffman is located directly below the apartment-house whose foundations were undermined by the landslide accompanying the crash of the retaining wall. While there is no immediate danger of the apartment-house toppling over, Mr. Kauffman admits that he and his family will sleep better if the danger is eliminated by reinforcing the foundation. These steps, according to the police, will be taken at once by the city building inspectors.

The paving of Indiana street from Mines avenue to Cheney street with six-inch cement concrete was yesterday asked of the City Council by property owners.

RECORD LIQUOR FINE GIVEN

Asserted Bootleg King of Hollywood Appeals as Court Assesses Him $15,000

What is believed to be the largest liquor fine in California since enactment of the Wright Act, yesterday was meted out to Louie Chaus, asserted Hollywood "bootleg king," by Municipal Judge Sheldon in the form of a $15,000 assessment, together with a fifteen-month sentence in the City Jail.

Because of five prior liquor law convictions within the past three years, Judge Sheldon imposed the unusually heavy penalty.

NOTICE OF APPEAL

Immediately following the sentence, counsel for Chaus filed notice of appeal after motion for a new trial had been denied. The defense charged that one of the jurors did not hear or understand the testimony and that the verdict was contrary to law and the evidence produced.

Testimony brought out by Deputy City Prosecutor Margid was to the effect that Chaus was transporting five gallons of alcohol on May 23, last, when taken into custody by Sergt. Sweetnam and Policeman McMullin at Fountain avenue and St. Andrews street. Carl W. Bell, alias Jack Moore, who was arrested with Chaus at the time, last week was fined $250 for possession by Municipal Judge Bush.

SHOCKED AT FINE

Chaus evinced noticeable surprise as Judge Sheldon dealt out the sentence and set appeal bond in the sum of $16,000. The defendant was fined $14,500 and one year in jail for possession, and $500 and three months for transportation.

The heaviest liquor fine known to the local courts is $6000, according to Chief Trial Deputy Eberhard of the City Prosecutor's office.

Hymen Chokes on Toothbrush

In Greece, the toothbrush is not one of the essential insignia of academic distinction, as Mrs. Agnes Daniels explained yesterday to Judge Sproul. She was seeking divorce from Mike Daniels.

"Judge, maybe he was a college professor in Greece, as he told me he was," she said. "I do not say he wasn't. Over here he was a waiter, but that doesn't prove anything, of course. But what I object to is that he won't have a toothbrush, and when I mentioned the matter to him he flew off the handle and called me some very hard Greek names."

Judge Sproul held that the toothbrush, however it may rate in the groves of Athens, is absolutely indispensable to American domestic felicity, so gave Mrs. Daniels a divorce.

Wilshire Lots Bring $150,000

Purchase by the Burkhard Investment Company of three lots at the Southwest corner of Wilshire and Crenshaw boulevards for a consideration of more than $150,000 was announced yesterday by H. J. Burkhard. The property was acquired from Fred Luth, owner of the corner lot, and Walter T. Smith, who sold the adjoining pieces.

The property gives the investment company 163 feet of frontage on Wilshire by 193 on Crenshaw. From east to west, across the rear, the property measures 150 feet. The land is purchased for investment.

VARIETY DEMANDED

Wife's Kisses Scorned, She Declares in Petition for Divorce

Fred M. Eggleson has a taste for the latest in wives and for variety in his kisses, Mrs. Mabel Eggleson told Judge Sproul yesterday.

"He chided me because I would not roll my stockings," she said. "I argued that it was no way for the mother of two children to do, and he sneered at me. And he wouldn't kiss me. He said that there must be something the matter with a man who said he found any kick in kissing his wife—that such a man must be a liar or something."

She was granted a divorce.

SUIT SEEKS RETURN OF STAMP TAX

Mortgage Company Files Action Against Federal Government Over Levies

Contesting the right of the Internal Revenue Department to collect stamp tax on first mortgage certificates, first mortgage assignments and policies of mortgage insurance, suit was filed yesterday in United States District Court by the Mortgage Guarantee Company against Galen H. Welch, collector of internal revenue.

The action seeks the return of $16,191.86 "illegally assessed" as stamp tax on first mortgage certificates, and $1430.75 stamp tax assessed on first mortgage assignments and policies of mortgage insurance. Both stamp taxes were paid under protest.

According to internal revenue regulations the stamp tax is assessed on "corporate securities." The plaintiff company asserts their securities do not come under that heading.

The suit, it is said, is the first of its kind to be filed in the country and will involve millions of dollars of taxes collected by the government from various mortgage companies.

MEAT TRADES SCHOOL WILL GRADUATE CLASS

The International Meat Trades School will graduate its first class Thursday, and in honor of the occasion will give an entertainment and dance at Moose Auditorium, 1024 South Grand avenue. Chamber Invites Chicago Mayor

On behalf of the citizens of Los Angeles, the Chamber of Commerce has extended a luncheon invitation to Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago. The invitation, sent in a wire last night by D. F. McGary, chamber president, asked the Chicago Mayor to be guest of honor at a luncheon during his stay here. Following is the wire:

"I learn that you expect to be in California shortly. On behalf of citizens of Los Angeles I extend to you a most cordial invitation to be our guest at a luncheon in your honor during your visit here. We would be glad to have you talk on flood control from a national aspect. We will be grateful to receive your acceptance and if possible the date on which you will arrive here."

Injunction Plea in Country Club Dispute Denied

Holding that the United States District Court has no jurisdiction over the Shoreacres Country Club's property in Mexico, Federal Judge McCormick yesterday refused an injunction prayed for by J. M. Danziger, to whom all the shares of stock in the club had been issued, preventing Al G. Faulkner, L. J. Rose and others said to be investors from reorganizing and taking possession of the club.

Faulkner, Rose and others are seeking to oust Danziger and "protect all members who have subscribed for memberships," according to an announcement.

AUTOS SEIZED IN DRY RAIDS WILL BE SOLD

Six automobiles which have been confiscated for the transportation of liquor will be sold at public auction tomorrow at the Lincoln Heights Police Station, according to an announcement by Lieut. H. A. Hager, police property clerk. The sale will start at 10 a.m. Most of the cars are said to be in good mechanical condition, with good tires. The cars were ordered sold by the Superior Court.

"RETRACT NOTHING"—JONES

Attorney Says Police Commissioner's Name Was Merely Used Without Authority

The following statement was issued yesterday by Atty. Griffith Jones concerning his volunteered attempt Saturday publicly to vindicate, as he phrased it at the time, Police Commissioner Webster in the Ross-Helms-Travis police-court case:

"In my opinion, the statement to The Times to the effect that I had retracted my allegation in the Ross-Helms-Travis affair at the Mayfair Apartment was not correct.

TALK OF DISMISSING

"These parties were arrested for having liquor in their possession and also upon charges of lewd and lascivious conduct. While I was in Capt. Cato's office discussing this matter, a Mr. Humphreys came in and said that 'he did not care what happened to Ross or the others, but Travis had to be dismissed, and unless he was dismissed Commissioner Gilmore would order the dismissal and investigate the matter.' I then said that if one was dismissed the whole bunch ought to be dismissed and that no police commissioner was going to stick my clients and allow his 'pet' to escape the penalty. Mr. Humphreys then said: 'If Mr. Gilmore cannot do it himself I will call Mr. Webster.' To which I replied, 'Call your Gilmores and call your Websters and call your district attorneys and call your grand juries. They are all going to be prosecuted or dismissed or none of them are going to suffer the penalty alone.'"

"I retract nothing. I repeated this statement in court and I never retracted as to Webster or Gilmore. I am satisfied that Webster's name was used without Webster's knowledge. I am quite satisfied that Gilmore's name was used with his full knowledge. While Webster's name was used, it was used without his authority, but I am closing my remarks by saying that these people are all going to be prosecuted or they are all going to be dismissed."

JONES CALLS THE TIMES

On Friday, last, Mr. Jones called The Times and requested that a reporter be present later in the day in court in the Ross-Helms-Travis case because he was going to denounce publicly what he said was a morals-case interference in which Webster's name was used.

In due time the denunciation took place and was reported in The Times Saturday morning. On the basis of Jones's statements in court Webster visited the City Prosecutor's office and as a result a conference in which Mr. Jones took part was held there.

From that office, Mr. Jones called The Times and said he wished to "vindicate" Mr. Webster. In The Times' story of the vindication it was stated that "Attorney Jones retracted all of his remarks regarding the commissioner." In his statement above, Mr. Jones says he is satisfied that Webster's name was used without Webster's knowledge but that he "retracts" nothing.

UNDER RESTRAINT

The big idea is that it is a fine thing to have plenty of armament so long as it is not being used in a warlike manner.

A SUGGESTED CHANGE

If there is to be no deviation from the bromidic diction of the "We-are-having-a-wonderful-time-wish-you-were-with-us" picture post-cards, at least the stamps might be stuck on upside down or cornerwise.

THE SONG BIRD

In musical circles they say that Mme. Schumann-Heink is arranging an American tour of seventy concerts. Ernestine is quite nightingalish for a girl in her sixty-seventh year. Her warble is still one of the wonders of the age.

MISSED THE MARK

A frenzied Frenchman sought to blow out his brains the other day, but was so cross-eyed that he missed his mark. This idea has furnished a comedy situation for the American stage, but nobody expected to find it in real life—or rather in an attempt to take it off.

GREATLY MAGNIFIED

British scientists are playing with a new microscope which magnifies nearly 4000 times and permits them to count the pulse beats of the puniest microbe. This tool would make a grain of sand as impressive as the new City Hall. It would reveal some wonderful fishing possibilities in a drop of water.

PICKING AIRPORTS

Perhaps it would be better if the locations for communal airports were selected by aviators or an aero commission rather than by contractors and land speculators. The Weather Bureau and various chambers of commerce might be consulted in an advisory capacity, but the air service itself should have much to do in making the decisions.

PERILS IN PASSAGE

Gen. Patrick avers that by another ten years travel by air will be perfectly safe. What does he mean by safety, anyhow? Is there any safe travel by any plan of transportation now? The comforting thought in connection with sky-journeying is that there is very little chance of colliding with pedestrians—except when alighting. But there will always be hazards, and plenty of them.

CURTAILING PASTIMES

The British government indicates a purpose to do away with head-hunting and witch-burning in some of the distant colonies. This sounds like a change of policy. Heretofore the empire has never sought to put much of a check upon the popular outdoor sports of its remotest subjects. If the head-hunters may no more harry their neighbors they may take it into their heads to breathe maledictions upon the Home Office.

TAKES TIME

It is nearly six years ago that the proceedings for the widening of Tenth street as a complete cross-town boulevard were begun. Now it is figured that it may be five years more before the project is fully completed. It was a great enterprise in the original planning. By the time it materializes it may be pitifully inadequate to supply the relief that it promised. All this shows the importance of getting action upon any and all plans for the future before changed conditions have made them archaic.

BOOTLEG IMMIGRANTS

Secretary Davis of the Department of Labor asks employees to withhold jobs from aliens illegally in this country. This seems reasonable. Bootleg immigrants have no standing here whatever, and yet many of them sneak in every year. If employers would require all alien applicants for work to show credentials of legitimate entry into the country, and not hire those that could not do so, it would be discouraging to these intruders as well as to those contemplating acts of defiance to our immigration laws.

TREES AND THE MAN

The widespread interest in trees and gardens which has sprung up in the last two years all over the United States is an encouraging comment on the evolution of man himself. In realizing his dependence on the heretofore unrecognized good offices of the trees and in offering his own cooperation and protection, he is fast re-establishing his lost brotherhood with nature. That age cannot be wholly vicious or frivolous in which man tends to become closer acquainted with natural forces. The national order of the Green Cross, the local organizations like the Pasadena Garden Society, the Sierra Madre Arboretum and the California Botanic Gardens of Mandeville Canyon, all show the trend toward that golden age when man loved and revered his brother, the tree.

ONE-MAN STREET CARS

Few persons familiar with Los Angeles traffic and with the limitations of the one-man street car will view with anything but concern the naive suggestion that the Railroad Commission shall establish a system of one-man cars on all lines at all hours as a means of solving the financial problem of the Los Angeles Railway.

The proposal, advanced by the chief transportation engineer of the Railroad Commission and apparently taken under serious consideration by the Public Utilities Committee of the City Council, has raised a storm of protest. Leading the opposition to the plan is the Los Angeles Traffic Commission, a body whose members, individually and collectively, have devoted so much time and effort to a study of our traffic problems as to qualify them to speak with authority on the subject.

The commission sees in the plan nothing more than one insuring chaotic traffic congestion, more accidents, greatly reduced speed both of street cars and other vehicles, more cars and hence a higher car-mile cost and the invalidation of a large part of the tremendous investment already made by the city for the speeding up of traffic.

On the credit side—if there is one—there appears to be nothing except the supposed economy of car operation by one man instead of two. In view of the greater number of cars required under this system to maintain anything like adequate service and the greater accident hazard it is doubtful if there would be any considerable saving to the street-car company. If there were, it would be so enormously overbalanced by the loss to the community through impaired efficiency of transportation as to be hardly worth considering.

Under the one-man system the combination motorman-conductor drives the car, collects fares, makes change, answers questions, issues transfers, takes up hat slips, helps old and infirm people and women with children on and off cars, watches signals, calls streets, keeps the records, replaces the trolley, opens switches and otherwise undertakes to do the things that normally suffice to keep two active men busy—and to do them under conditions where any distraction of attention or failure to act quickly may cause a serious accident and cost lives.

As no one can do two men's work in one man's time, the one-man car necessarily proceeds with little better than half the speed of the two-man car. The motorman-conductor must load and unload all his passengers at the front door, at further loss of time. He misses the "go" signal and must wait for the next one. His car, too-long stationary, helps to pile up traffic behind it and behind the crowds waiting to board it while the harassed motorman-conductor makes change of a $10 bill for a woman with two babies, a perambulator and an inexhaustible thirst for information and transfers. When he finally gets going he is unable to give all his attention to driving because he must attend to the multitudinous needs of his passengers. The result is apt to be accidents.

At steam railway crossings, the Traffic Commission points out, the conductor of a two-man car gets off and goes ahead to make sure no train is coming before the street car crosses the tracks. This has saved innumerable bad accidents, but would not be practicable under the one-man system.

The summation of the evidence indicates that, in order to maintain something approaching efficient service, at least half as many again of one-man cars would be required as of two-man cars. This would mean an increase of 50 per cent in equipment to be offset by a decrease of but 25 per cent in car operators, a combination which, in conjunction with public dissatisfaction, would mean real losses to the company.

Los Angeles has spent a large sum in traffic signals and in police traffic personnel and training for the single purpose of expediting traffic and reducing accidents. To a considerable extent this effort would be nullified by a one-man street-car system.

Undoubtedly there are cities—or at least towns—where one-man cars are adequate But not for cities of 1,250,000 people.

SECONDO GUASTI

Another Caalifornia pioneer, one of the few remaining of the first developers who, ahead of the procession, had faith in the future of our State and visioned its manifest destiny, has journeyed the way of all flesh, leaving behind him a record written large in the annals of Southern California. Secondo Guasti, founder and president of the Italian Vineyard Company, the largest single tract of land in the world devoted to grape culture, passed peacefully away Sunday morning. His loss will be mourned, not only in the Italian colony, but by all American residents of Los Angeles whose privilege it was to meet and know him in business, social or more intimate contacts.

Forty-six years ago Mr. Guasti came to California, bringing with him the best traditions of wine-making from his native Province of Piedmont. At that time viticulturists doubted whether Southern California was adapted to the growth of wine grapes. But the young Italian had faith in the prospects presented by soil and climate of our southern counties and backed his faith with works. The beautiful and profitable tract of 5700 acres of bearing grape vines in San Bernardino county remains as a monument to the confidence, energy and devotion of one who read the possibilities of Southern California and set earnestly to work to realize them.

Before the days of prohibition the products of the Italian Vineyard Company were shipped not only to cities in all parts of the United States, but to foreign countries in all parts of the world. Not only this, but they proved that the wines made conscientiously and scientifically—as Mr. Guasti made them—grown from the soil and sunshine of Southern California—could hold their own with the most famous vintages of France, Spain or Italy.

But it is not as a wine-maker that the people of Los Angeles pay their tribute of respect to the man who represented so much of the best in both California and Italy. It is as a citizen who turned an erstwhile desert into a smiling and fruitful valley and made life fairer and happier for thousands of laborers in the vineyard of life. It is as a loyal supporter of his adopted no less than of his native country that all who knew Secondo Guasti today respect his memory. No better tribute could be paid him than that written in his own hand by Benito Mussolini himself when he conferred on our fellow-citizen the rare title of Grand Ufficiale: "To one who represented Italy abroad with honor."

PAN-AMERICAN PROSPECTS

Since Columbus first made contact with the Caribs in the sea named for them there have been distinct racial as well as geographical divisions between North and South America. North America developed a European population tending toward the Nordic, while South American population has grown upon Latin and native racial stock. Pan-Americanism has no foundation in geographical or racial considerations, but stands upon political and economic grounds. The Monroe Doctrine forms its bulwark. It has done more than any other single instrument to preserve the status quo throughout the New World.

At the Institute of Politics at Williamstown Prof. Shepherd presented a somewhat pessimistic view of Pan-Americanism possibilities. He painted a picture of Pan-American failure both in inter-racial brotherhood and international politics. He pointed to the failure of the United States to effect co-operation between South American disputants—of which the Tacna-Arica negotiations are a good example. He cited the refusal of most of the South American states to join the United States in World War policy—a bit of historical fact easily stated. Only eight of the twenty Latin-American republics joined the United States at that time; only Brazil and Cuba took active part in the war. Yet, after the armistice most of these republics went headlong into the League of Nations contrary to the election of the United States. He notes the lack of unity between the Latin republics themselves.

But far more significant than all these isolated facts are the political and economic bonds between these nations that now exist and constantly will become stronger. Despite the occasional lack of co-operation between Latin republics and the United States it is yet true that collectively and individually they understand that their political integrity depends upon the protection of the Monroe Doctrine. Individually most of them have greater confidence in and more reliance upon the United States than upon any other of the New World republics. While they openly resent the slightest suggestion of paternalism on the part of the United States, as evidenced by protests on the Nicaraguan intervention, they have leaders too smart to deny themselves the protection of the great sister republic, without which they would probably long ago have been gobbled up by some European power.

Greater intercourse between the Latin republics and the United States will inevitably result in better understanding, the only thing needed to insure complete cooperation and lasting friendship, call it Pan-Americanism or what you will. Blood is thicker than water, but gold, which represents peace and plenty, is thicker than both. The United States will continue its policy of free intercourse with its American neighbors. The results will inspire confidence and eventually create between all American republics a spirit and condition comparable to the relation now existing between the forty-eight States of this republic.

The League of Nations is weak because it is founded upon conferences. The United States is strong because it is founded upon the business of living to work and working to live under a system insuring freedom. The difference between the American Congress and the League Convention is essentially the difference between a gathering 'round the family dinner table and a white-flag conference on the edge of the battle-field. The family circle will widen and Pan-Americanism will develop into a peaceful fact by reason of the extension of American good will and co-operation.

THE HOSPITAL BILL

Medical science is taking credit for the fact that the average stay of a patient in a hospital has in the last twenty years been pulled down from six weeks to two. There are several reasons for this. In the first place patients now go to hospitals for minor operations or brief ailments that were formerly cared for in the home. For another matter the patient is likely to run out of money by the second week and be given the gate. In the old days the hospital might be the last resort. Now it is the first. Medical science has made great progress, but it hasn't cut down the country's hospital bills to an extent warranting a gloat.

USELESS LOSS

Real friends of the continued development of commercial aviation are sounding a warning. It is this: That in the enthusiasm created by exploits of experienced flyers like Lindbergh, Byrd, Chamberlin and others amateur aviators are endangering their own lives, public confidence and the future of air progress by reckless and unnecessary exploits. There is nothing to be desired more than that America should take to the air. But it must be in a sane, proven way; not indiscriminately and without due thought.

Certain pioneering feats such as the crossing of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans were needed to awaken the public to the amazing strides which have been taken in the development of aircraft. But wise observers also saw the inevitable result. Flying, when done by men who know their business and in trustworthy planes, is safe. But flying by thrill-seekers in unproven machines is about as risky as anything can be. It is this latter type of air travel that occasions dubious comment.

The recent 6000-mile tour of two Los Angeles men in a proved-type, mail-carrier plane shows the possibilities of safe and pleasant travel in the air, as opposed to the unsafe. The results of that inspection trip also revealed the over-night change which has taken place in the attitude of people at large toward flying. Everywhere it was found that landing fields are being prepared by cities, towns and villages. Each wishes to be in the forefront of development. It is this laudable spirit which must not be stifled by foolhardy and disastrous acts which will undo all the good done by aerial pioneers.

It is just as important to preserve the feeling of popular confidence as it was to develop it. The future of flying is secure. But the day of swift, safe and pleasurable transportation in the air will be hastened if enthusiasm is not permitted to run riot. Increased vigilance of Federal authorities, if necessary, is to be desired if it will save overenthusiasts from themselves.

CALIFORNIA MIRACLES

A man, prominently identified with the Chamber of Commerce of Sierra Madre, declares he has found that California sunshine will produce a new crop which was never before believed possible. This gentleman, who for many years has been very bald, has been working, bareheaded, recently in his garden, and now a new growth of hair has almost entirely covered his bald spot. Being a local patriot he declares that the magic quality of the sun's rays is peculiar to his own locality.

THE EXPLORER TO A MOSQUITO

By James J. Montague

Where'er I roam, o'er hill or dale,
O'er dune or bog or hollow
Or forth upon the long, long trail
You never fail to follow.
At home, in town, across the sea—
Here, there, or over yonder
You always keep close track of me
And dog me as I wander.

But I believed, when I went forth,
Left home and friends behind me
To journey to the frozen north
That you could never find me.
I thought—but oh, the thought was vain—
You'd have no way of knowing
When I embarked upon my train
The place where I was going.

Yet here among the frozen floes
Which I have had to fight through.
Where there are only Eskimos
In furs you cannot bite through,
Where every day in all the year
The gales are chill and stormy,
The very moment I appear
I find you waiting for me.

Outstripping train and ship and sled,
No hazards stopped or stayed you
Upon your northward way you sped
That I might not evade you.
And now an ugly eerie fear
Has come to goad and rack me,
The Devil must have led you here
On purpose to attack me.

LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

A Sea Mystery

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I have been much interested in the accounts of the peculiar "shake-up" which the French liner France encountered a few days ago off the port of New York. I offer the following hypothesis as a possible explanation of that cause:

Beginning somewhere near the upper end of Long Island there is a deep ravine in the bed of the ocean running south to below New Jersey and about twelve miles off shore. In places the walls of this ravine are almost vertical and about 2000 feet high. It is quite possible that some of the recent seismic shocks may have cracked this wall and caused a huge body of earth and rock to slip down into the gully. Such a sliding mass would produce, on the surface, just such a disturbance as Capt. Aubert describes, and it would last just about as long as the one in question and then subside and in addition, unlike an earthquake taking place on the ocean floor, it would cause no tidal wave.

It is believed that the existence of this deep ravine or canyon in the ocean floor, so near New York, may have some influence upon the severity of any earthquake shocks occurring in the vicinity of that city. C. H. R.

Sunday Observance

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your columns the question of church attendance is discussed. This is only a part of the broader question of how the weekly day of rest and worship should be observed. Perhaps no better rules have been laid down on the subject than those of Samuel Johnson. He tells us that he had lived not without an habitual reverence for the Sabbath, yet without that attention to its religious duties which Christianity requires, and he laid down the following rules for that day:

(1.) To rise early, and in order to do it to go to sleep early on Saturday.

(2.) To use some extraordinary devotion in the morning.

(3.) To examine the tenor of my life and particularly the last week; and to mark my advances in religion or recession from it.

(4.) To read the Scripture methodically with such helps as are at hand.

(5.) To go to church twice.

(6.) To read books of Divinity either speculative or practical.

(7.) To instruct my family.

A Christian Service

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am writing you this letter to tell you of a service I witnessed this morning, as I believe it might be of interest to you from the "human" standpoint.

I unexpectedly dropped into an undertaking parlor and was informed by the young lady in the office that they were conducting a funeral service for an unknown dead—a man by the name of Grace who had died in the County Hospital, without relative or friend in the world.

A more beautiful service I don't believe I have ever witnessed. The thing that impressed me so forcibly was the fact that the only people present were the proprietors, together with their employees. I think you will agree this was something unusual, for they were under no obligation to go through the ceremony, and I venture to say that few undertakers would, under similar circumstances, have given this poor unfortunate such a Christian-like funeral. THE SEA-WIND'S SONG

I love to hear the sea-wind's song
When all is stilled at night,
There is a depth within its tones
Ecstatic with delight.

There is a perfume in its heart
Of spices rare and sweet,
And in its eager hastening
The throb of naked feet.

Uncounted nymphs born of the wind
Are dancing there I know,
With rhythmic limbs and flowing hair
As far-off bugles blow.

USHER IN SHOW

The Pastel Trio, instrumentalists, will help entertain on Friday night, while the Saturday evening broadcast will be in the nature of a continuous performance, starting at 8 o'clock, immediately after the reading of the world-wide news, and will continue until 2 a.m. with a grand radio frolic, which will call particular attention to this year's radio show opening of next Monday.

Steps now being taken by the larger power companies to prevent their high lines from filling the air with static and other forms of interference, which frequently has been described as one of the most serious interruptions sustained by radio fans, according to plans announced yesterday, are to be shown in detail at the Radio Show Beautiful, which opens Monday.

POWER EXHIBIT

Waldo T. Tupper, managing director, said the Southern California Edison Company, one of the largest distributors of power in this country, will install an exhibit to illustrate the desire to co-operate with the receiving-set users.

The use of radio equipment on the power line between Big Creek and Los Angeles, a distance of 240 miles, also is to be revealed at the exposition. Executives say the show will embrace virtually every feature allied with radio, and will depict the influence of broadcast on virtually every line of endeavor.

JACOBSON ATTORNEY RETURNS

Says He Has Proof That Councilman's Arrest Was Result of Frame-up

"We're ready for trial right now," said W. V. Anderson, attorney for Councilman Carl I. Jacobson, yesterday afternoon after returning from a week-end trip during which he is said to have obtained documents proving that the Jacobson case is a "frame up."

"I've got the documents and we're ready for a grand jury investigation or anything else," he declared. "There'll be a lot less framing in this town after we get through with this case. In fact, I don't think anybody will be framed for a long time to come. Those documents certainly contain a lot of information that the public will be greatly interested in."

Anderson, who heads Jacobson's defense counsel, left the city Friday and returned yesterday. He did not say where he obtained the documents, but friends of Jacobson said it was in an Arizona city, where they were being kept in a safe deposit vault.

Dr. E. J. Lickley, City Prosecutor, also left the city over the week-end. He is not expected to return before Thursday, and is said to be making a trip in connection with the Jacobson case.

Vera Reynolds Back at Studio After Illness

Vera Reynolds, motion-picture actress, was back at work yesterday at the Cecil B. De Mille studio in Culver City, following her mysterious illness Sunday night at her home, 1332 North Orange Drive, following which she was taken to the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital, 1446 North Gower street, where surgeons used a stomach pump.

The actress yesterday at the studio reiterated her denial that she swallowed poison in an attempt to commit suicide. Physicians who attended her said there was no trace of poison in her stomach. It is believed by the doctors that she suffered from food poisoning.

Los Angeles Foreign Trade gains 72% in two years!

BANKING SERVICE for TRADE and TRAVEL

DURING the first five months of 1925, exports out of Los Angeles harbor were valued at $29,000,000.

For the same period this year they had increased to over $50,000,000! A gain of 72% in two years!

This astounding growth has come not alone through the entry of new firms into foreign trade. A large part of it represents the substantial, sometimes phenomenal increase in the business of firms already established in overseas markets.

It is this latter phase of growth that most interests YOU. Because it indicates the possibilities for your company if you vigorously push the development of a demand for your products.

When you go after overseas markets, be sure you have the right kind of banking support. In the Farmers and Merchants National Bank you have an institution with connections in every part of the world—connections it can put to your service on an hour's notice.

$3,000,000 Increase in Capital and Surplus

On July 11, 1927 the Farmers and Merchants National Bank added $1,000,000 to its capital, making the capital $3,000,000, and $2,000,000 to its surplus, making the surplus $4,000,000. The Bank's capital, surplus and undivided profits are now $7,800,000.

All "Pure" Water is Not Healthful

Only Those That Comply With Three Tests Are the Best For You

MANY drinking waters are pure—but they may not be healthful. Nature demands that water must contain two other requirements—minerals and that it must be "good to taste."

1. Purity,
2. Minerals,
3. "Good to Taste."

Authorities say this is Nature's formula for the most healthful water you can drink. Any water that will measure up to these three tests is good and good for you. And water that will not conform with these standards is below par for drinking purposes.

Pure water simply protects health. It is your guarantee against harmful bacteria, injurious chemicals and other impurities.

Minerals in water are your assurance that the water will neither add nor detract from the mineral supply of your body. Authorities agree that the best drinking water should contain from 6 to 10 grains of mineral salts per gallon.

Good to Taste—This is Nature's final stamp of approval on drinking water. Some waters taste "flat." Others are "hard." They are below par for drinking purposes. Their taste is Nature's "warning" to you about this deficiency.

Arrowhead Springs is water headquarters. We sell many kinds for many purposes. We offer distilled water to those for whom doctors prescribe it. But we do not recommend it for healthy persons. At the Springs, we also have highly mineralized waters which physicians may prescribe in certain cases. To those who are in normal health we recommend Arrowhead Spring Water, which we think is unexcelled as a drinking water.

Arrowhead Spring Water comes from melted snows high in the San Bernardino Mountains. It seeps through 15 miles of virgin granite to Arrowhead Springs. In this way it absorbs many healthful minerals—7 grains to the gallon. As it bubbles to the surface at this famous spring, it is placed in huge glass-lined tank cars, rushed to the Los Angeles bottling plant, and delivered to your home the same day. You drink it as if you were at the spring, miles away!

Thus, Arrowhead Spring Water is pure, mineralized and good to taste. It fulfills these three recognized requirements of good drinking water. Order a 5-gallon bottle delivered to your home or office today. It costs but 50 cents—less than ½ cent per healthful glass! We furnish stand and cooler free—and we guarantee immediate, regular delivery.

Try a bottle today!

Arrowhead Springs Hotel, Arrowhead Springs, Cal. —The home of famous Arrowhead Spring Water.

These huge glass-lined tank-cars rush Arrowhead Spring Water to various bottling divisions where it is certified pure and bottled for consumption in your home.

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the loveliest weddings of the month was that of Saturday afternoon when Miss Mildred Rutherford Crews, formerly of Birmingham, Ala., became the bride of James Goodhue Littlejohn, the ceremony taking place in the beautiful gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Tuttle, neighbors of the bride, Rev. Theodore P. Smith of Angeles Mesa Presbyterian Church officiating.

Clusters of pink amaryllis and white asters held aloft on tall white wands outlined the flower-bordered pathway down which the bridal party passed from the sun parlor to the altar, which had been arranged under the vine-covered gateway dividing the lawns. The music on the organ in Mr. Tuttle's den was played by Miss M. M. Whipky. Following the wee ring bearer, Gladys Tuttle, and the dainty flower girl, Carol Blach, the bride entered on the arm of her eldest brothers, W. D. Crews, who gave her in marriage.

She wore a becoming gown of white satin with veil held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried lilies of the valley, rosebuds and orchids.

The wedding is the culmination of a romance which started at Manual Arts High School, which the bride attended when she came from the South some five years ago. Mr. Littlejohn is a native Californian, and after the wedding trip will take his bride to Santa Barbara, where they will make their home temporarily.

Following the ceremony there was a reception at the home of Mrs. Lily Girard Crews, after which Mr. and Mrs. Littlejohn left for their honeymoon. Mrs. Crews received her guests in a gown of lavender silk, while Mrs. James D. Littlejohn, mother of the bridegroom, wore silver gray georgette and Mrs. Alice Goodhue, grandmother of Mr. Littlejohn, was charming in a gown of orchid tones.

Engagement Announced

Of much interest in college circles was the announcement made Saturday afternoon by Miss Mary Alice Shryer, daughter of Frank W. Shryer of 2611 West Adams Gardens, of her engagement to Lawrence Livingston Henderson of Indianapolis, the news being told to a small bevy of intimate friends at a luncheon at the Jonathan Club.

The decorations were effectively carried out in pink and blue, with late summer flowers centering the table, and the secret was revealed by "special delivery" letters to each guest, which served as place cards and inclosed were gold-edged cards with the names of the betrothed engraved. These letters came through the mail and were delivered at the club early Saturday morning.

Corsage bouquets of Cecile Brunner rosebuds and delphinium with a single red rose in the center were place favors, and those included were Miss Virginia Adkins, Miss Isabel Arnold, Miss Phyllis Posgate, Miss Lucia (Billie) Ramsauer, Miss Janet Wiley, Miss Marian Wiley and Mrs. George Dailey.

The wedding will be an event of November in the Church of the Angels, Garvanza Way.

Miss Shryer is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority at the University of California at Los Angeles, where she is a sophomore student, and Mr. Henderson is an alumnus of Dartmouth College, and is affiliated with the Delta Theta Pi fraternity.

Home Wedding

The marriage of Miss Lola Artill Fesler, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Fesler, to Dr. Carl Frederick Rusche was solemnized Friday evening, the ceremony taking place at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Alpine Drive, Beverly Hills, with only the immediate family being present. The bride wore her going-away costume of Napoleon blue crepe romaine, with gray hat, shoes and gloves, and carried an arm shower of roses, lilies of the valley and orchids.

There were no attendants, and Mr. Fesler gave his daughter in marriage. After a buffet supper Dr. and Mrs. Rusche left on an extended motor trip through the State, and after the middle of October they will return to make their future home in Hollywood, where they are building. Mrs. Rusche was graduated from the Bishop's School of Detroit, Mich., while Dr. Rusche's alma mater is University of Nebraska.

For Visitor

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mosher entertained with a bridge party at their home in honor of the former's mother, who is visiting them from Belleville, Kan. Those included were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hazard, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Audry Riddleberger, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Ogden, Mrs. B. G. Rorabough, Mrs. Litta Chapman, Mrs. Effie Chappins, Mrs. Edith Garrett, Mrs. Jane Baxter, Miss Alice Brown, Miss Alice Chappins, Miss Anna Jane Chapman, Miss Jane Arbuthnot, Kay Garrett, Garrett Ariseman, Don Riddleberger, the hosts and honor guest.

Betrothal Luncheon

At a beautifully appointed luncheon given by Mrs. Ralph Clark, Mrs. Harry L. Harrison of 3025 East Ocean Boulevard, Long Beach, formally announced the engagement of her attractive daughter, Miss Helen Kathryn, to George Ormsby Higgins of Los Angeles, the wedding to be one of the events of the early autumn.

At Del Monte

The grill at Hotel Del Monte was transformed into a beautiful Venetian garden Thursday evening for the edification of Hotel Del Monte guests at the seventh "international night" fete, a "Night in Venice." Robert Carmen-Ryles directed a brilliant program of Italian folk dances and songs, there were street singers and accordion players. Rudy Caffaro, noted Italian tenor, and Mrs. Eva Gruninger Atkinson thrilled the gay audience with their solos.

Many Angelenos were included in the audience, among them being Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Schoolcraft and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jackson of Chicago; Mrs. George E. Hallett and Mrs. George E. Orme; the Misses M. and Dorothy Kaye of Beverly Hills, will remain over for several weeks; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wesbrook, who will remain over for the State golf tournament; Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. J. Clark Smith; Mrs. D. Botiller, Mrs. Agnes Lindsey, Miss Cecilia Botiller and J. Young, who will remain for a week; Mrs. Mary Doyle and Miss Doyle.

Del Monte has saved the crowning event of the season for the final international night, Thursday, September 1. This will be "A Night in Carmel," better termed the "Carmel Follies," under the direction of Byington Ford. Eight prominent young debutantes from Pebble Beach and Carmel are training for the chorus of this entertainment, which will be on the order of a New York night club production.

The largest crowd yet to be seen in the grill this year is predicted for the night of the follies.

Mrs. James Hubert Scruggs

AMONG the charming southern visitors who enjoyed a delightful sojourn in Los Angeles this summer are Mr. and Mrs. James Hubert Scruggs of Birmingham, Ala., and their two sons, Richard and James Hubert, Jr. Mrs. Scruggs is a sister of Thomas Jefferson Douglass of the Brandon Apartments, who with Mrs. Douglass gave several attractive affairs in honor of the visitors. Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs have been touring the Coast before coming to Los Angeles, and are now on their way to Chicago, stopping off for several days in Salt Lake City en route. They will arrive in their southern home late in September.

STUFFED CABBAGE

Remove the stalk end of a head of cabbage, leaving a hollow shell of ample size. Chop fine one and one-half pounds of round steak, with one-fourth inch slices of bacon, and one onion; add one cupful of bread crumbs, soaked in water to cover and wrung dry; one beaten egg. Season highly with salt, pepper, cayenne, and mace; mold into balls the size of small eggs and arrange in cabbage shell; cover with shreds of green pepper and steam until cabbage is tender; place on serving platter and surround with tomato sauce.

FROZEN FRUIT PUDDING

To two well-beaten eggs add two and one-half cupfuls of milk and one-half cupful of sugar; put on the stove and add one tablespoonful of cornstarch dissolved in a little milk. Heat until it has the consistency of a thin custard; when cold add chopped crystallized cherries, pineapple and walnuts, and flavor to taste; then set it in a pail of ice and salt for four or five hours.

SPANISH STEAK

Take three pounds of round steak, cut two and one-half inches thick, season with one level tablespoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of pepper and butter the size of an egg. Place in the oven in a sheet-iron baking pan with half a cupful of water, and cook thirty minutes; then cover with a layer of sliced raw onions and cook three-quarters of an hour; add a layer of sliced tomatoes, cook until tender, sprinkle with grated cheese, and when brown serve with a gravy made from the liquor in the pan.

ORANGE FROMAGE

One tablespoonful gelatine, one-quarter cupful cold water, one-quarter cupful boiling water, one-half cupful sugar, one and one-half cupfuls strained orange juice, one-quarter tablespoonful lemon juice, one and one-half cupfuls heavy cream lady fingers.

Soak gelatine for five minutes in cold water, dissolve in boiling water and add strained lemon and orange juices, also sugar. Set dish containing the mixture in a pan of crushed ice and stir until it commences to thicken. Fold in cream beaten until stiff. Line mold with lady fingers, pour mixture into center and set on ice to stiffen.

Other Woman Sued for Balm

Charging another woman with stealing the affections of her husband, Mrs. Sarah E. Foster yesterday brought suit for $50,000 damages against Mabel Carter. The husband in the case is Cornelius D. Foster, to whom the plaintiff asserts she was married December 1, 1921, in Okmulgee, Okla. Mrs. Foster declared she lived a happy married life until late in 1925, when the defendant was said to have won Foster's affections by means of "wiles, designs, blandishments and persuasions." Attorney Lorrin filed the complaint.

Burglars Take Passports and Bar Europe Trip

Plans for an extended trip through Europe were halted as the result of the unkind activities of burglars, who entered the house of Edward Le Febvre, 1615 Genesee street, Hollywood, Sunday night, it was learned yesterday.

Mr. Le Febvre reported that it was bad enough that the burglars took a gold clock, a "sister" to the one stolen from Pola Negri, took nearly all of his spare clothes, which were packed for his trip, as well as some diamonds and jewelry, but they also took his passports to England, France, Italy and various other countries.

After several weeks of preparation, Mr. Le Febvre had obtained his passports and booked passage to leave Los Angeles on Saturday. He says he will forgive and forget if the burglars will return his passports, as he cannot duplicate them in time for his trip.

PARADE of FASHION

HERE AND ABROAD

TAILORED COSTUMES LESS IN EVIDENCE

PARIS, (AP)—Everything is being done to make it hard for women to continue in their easy way of dressing. Tailored clothes are as hard to find as sport clothes in the new winter collections.

Few houses show more than one or two tailored suits and some show none at all. Velvet has invaded the tailored woman's world and there are some models with velvet three-quarter length coats.

One of them has a fawn-colored coat with black velvet tailored collar and cuffs. It is worn over a black dress, which is far less tailored than the coat. Silk and velvet dresses worn under long coats of velvet, wool velours and broadcloth coats are what Paris is suggesting for winter.

PALE YELLOW VELVET FOR EVENING FROCKS

PARIS, (AP)—Yellow, long heralded as due for popularity, has arrived with the winter styles. Almost every collection shows some shade of yellow for evening.

Sometimes it is almost lemon green in tint, but oftener it is a rich but pale shade of banana color. Old ivory tints—the yellow of time—are among the loveliest and are often produced in rich lustrous satins. Chiffon velvets are another beautiful form of the new yellows.

FEW SPORT CLOTHES IN WINTER SHOWINGS

PARIS, (AP)—The scarcity of sport clothes in the new winter styles is one of the surprises of the season.

Not all dressmakers have abandoned the modern woman's pet costume. But nearly all of them are showing a preponderance of afternoon dresses in place of sport costumes.

What sport clothes there are run to wool jerseys with matching pull-on sweaters. Often there is a cardigan of the same material and color, making a three-piece suit.

ASTRAHAN LEADING AS COAT TRIMMING

PARIS, (AP)—The leading fur on coats for street wear next winter will be astrahan judging from Paris showings. Gray astrahan, toning to deep gray, blue tints or black, is used on many black, gray or blue coats.

Shaded gray fabric coats usually have gray astrahan collars and cuffs. Collars are shawl shaped as a rule and narrower than they were last season. Beaver is another short fur that is in high favor.

For evening the long-haired pelts, notably fox, are preferred. Much ermine is used for day and evening wraps.

FLOWERS ARE WORN IN DIFFERENT WAYS

PARIS, (AP)—Nowhere is the swing away from masculine fashions more evident than in the new accessories Paris is showing.

There is no let-up in the popularity of flowers. Formalized organdy and chiffon flowers, both in long and short petals are important notes in many evening and afternoon dresses.

The way of wearing flowers has changed somewhat. There is a tendency to place them higher on the shoulder and two large flowers, back to back or a small mound of flowers are often seen. The dahlia of satin with long spidery petals is among the newest offerings.

HATS OF CALFSKIN FOR SPORT COSTUMES

PARIS, (AP)—Sports hats of soft calfskin are being made by most of the leading milliners. They are close fitting as a rule and many of them are cap-shaped, without brims.

VELVET VESTS WORN WITH SPORTS SUITS

PARIS, (AP)—One of the touches that makes winter sport clothes different is the velvet vest or sleeveless jacket. Sometimes it makes a fourth piece to a three-piece ensemble of skirt, sweater and straight short jacket.

More often the velvet touch is a vest or bolero worn over a one-piece dress of jersey, flannel or silk. Above it is a short jacket of the same material as the dress.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr. Frank McCoy
author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of the Los Angeles Times. Enclosed stamped, addressed, envelope for reply.

CURING EPILEPSY THROUGH DIETING

Almost all "falling fits" may be classed under the name of epilepsy. Outside of those caused from accidents, the majority of cases are caused by a definite intestinal toxemia to which certain people are especially susceptible. The cure depends upon keeping the colon thoroughly clean so that this toxemia will be eliminated, and afterward keeping the intestines clean so no further trouble develops.

In order to get the quickest results, it is advisable at the start to take a fruit fast for two or three weeks. Only one of the acid fruits may be used, or a different one used each day. With this disease, as with many others, the orange or grapefruit seems to be the best fruit to use to assist in producing the greatest elimination of toxins. Sometimes the spells increase in number during the first few days of the fast and then abruptly disappear, while in some cases the seizures stop at once, as soon as the fast is started.

I recently met a child at one of my lectures who had been completely cured by a two weeks' grapefruit fast. She had had as many as twenty-five spells a day for over two years, but has not had a single one since starting the eliminative treatment with the fast.

Two or three enemas should be used daily all during the fast, and at least one each day for a month or two after starting on the regular diet regimen. The diet following the fast needs to be well balanced, but with a complete elimination of carbohydrates for several months. The good combinations which I advise in this column should be used, leaving out those meals where starches are suggested, and substituting a meal of fruit or nonstarchy vegetables.

The enemas will guarantee a clean colon until such time as it seems wise to wait for the bowels to move normally. This should not be attempted for at least a month or two after the fast.

If the patient has been taking luminal, bromides, nitroglycerin, chlorin, or other sedative or depressing drugs, such treatments must be discontinued at the start of the fasting treatment, or no good results can be expected. While these drugs are excellent in warding off attacks and have proved a great relief to sufferers from epilepsy, their action seems to interfere with a real cure through dieting.

Treatment by manual manipulation of the bowels will prove helpful in stimulating peristaltic action, and will assist in intestinal elimination. A prolapsed or kinked colon should be corrected by suitable physiotherapy treatment. Otherwise, it will be necessary to continue the enemas indefinitely.

If you have been a sufferer from epilepsy, I suggest that you follow the advice I have given in yesterday's and today's articles; or, cut them out and hand to any friend who needs help.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: Mrs. K. S. asks: "Will you please tell me what I can do for my nose, as no matter how much cream or powder I put on it, it is always red as a beet at the point?"

Answer: A red nose is an evidence of continued intoxication, either from the overuse of alcoholic stimulants or from dietetic errors which produce autointoxication. The latter is the most common cause of red noses, and even our most sincere prohibitionists often carry around red, shiny noses that, in the old days, we used to think could be acquired only by the "town drunkard."

Q.: C. W. S. asks: "What is the cause of sweating feet, and what is the cure?"

A.: The feet sweat more than most parts of the body because they are inclosed in the leathery covering of the shoes. This holds in the heat and produces the excessive sweating. Those who are too much troubled with sweating feet should be careful to change their socks at least once daily, and take also two sponge or shower baths daily to cleanse the skin all over the body and keep the pores clean and the sweat glands more active in other parts besides the feet. It is also a good plan to have several pairs of shoes so that any one pair is not used more than once or twice weekly. Do nothing to stop the feet from sweating, but keep them as clean as possible.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

A Sugar Bin

An old bread box is an excellent receptacle for the fifty pounds of sugar which you will use during the canning season. Buy a few extra pounds with each order from the store and dump them into the box.

Save On Sugar

Cook the acid fruits, cranberries, currants, etc., until they are nearly finished before sweetening. They will not require so much sugar. A pinch of bicarbonate of soda is also well added as a sugar saver.

Didd You Ever Know That?

Cold tea is a good fertilizer for house plants.

Flour should be fully covered in a cool, dry place.

It is better to remove print butter from the cardboard container once it has been opened.

Soak an orange in boiling water for five minutes before peeling. The white lining will then come off with the skin.

A teaspoonful of cold water added to the egg white will cause it to stiffen quickly besides adding some to its quantity.

Keeping Hams

To prevent large hams from molding after they have been cut, spread lard over the cut portion and put away as usual. When you cut another slice the meat will be fresh and free from mold.

Quite a Bouquet

If you only have a few flowers in the vase and they look a bit straggly, put a few corks in the water. They will hold up the flowers and keep them in place without making them look stiff.

Last Year's Velvet

Soon we will be getting out the velvet of yesteryear and see if anything can be done about it. To raise the pile on velvet, cover a hot iron with a wet cloth, holding the velvet firmly over it. The vapor rising will raise the nap of the material, with the help of a light whisk-broom.

In the Scrapbook

Children should have some fruit every day.

The centerpiece on the dinner table should be low enough for the guests to see each other across the table.

Always put the egg-beater and potato-masher in cold water after using them. It will help greatly in the washing process.

If the family is large, use two pans when cooking fritters or pancakes. They will save time and always keep a supply on hand.

Green Vegetables

If a small pinch of soda is added to the water in which green vegetables are cooked it will keep their bright green color. Boil with the lid off.

Washing the Surbase

It is well to arm oneself with a small piece of tin or a thin piece of wood when washing the baseboard of a room. It can be slipped along as the woodwork is scrubbed and save many a nasty smear on the wallpaper.

Will Stay Fresh and Sweet

One way of insuring a neat bathroom by having all the washcloths hung so they may be dried out and stay sweet is to buy some small ivory rings and sew one of these firmly to one corner of each cloth. They are easy to find and no one will find it a trouble to hang theirs up to dry.

Regular Physical Habits Have Their Mental Counterparts

In order to build a house we must be careful of each tiny detail. Misplacing one brick; a mistake in one small calculation will throw the whole edifice out of joint.

The baby is a potential house of habits. Each day he adds to his habits, either good or bad, the perfect adult structure being the result of these early ones included in infancy.

The tiny baby's habits are purely physical ones. He is wakened from birth, at regular hours so that he will learn to waken at these hours and his nursing hours will become established and undeviating. This must be started from the first day of his life. If he is allowed to sleep for five hours one period and is then nursed in two hours, because he is awake and crying, he can never learn regularity. He must be wakened every hour or every three hours after the first two days (during this time a six hours' nursing period is usually held to) and shortly he will waken exactly on these hours.

Bathing should come at a regular time. His hours of recreation will gradually become habitual. Every hour of his day will fit into the schedule his mother has outlined if she will only stick to this schedule conscientiously until it is established. Even if some illness breaks up this schedule the baby will go back to it as soon as he is well and sick babies whose habits are regular are much more easily taken care of and cured because of these fine habits.

Habits of regularity in these matters carry over to mental ones. The person who eats at all hours, who never knows when he is going to do anything and has to expend time and energy thinking about it is going to have mental habits that are just as slipshod. So much of our lives is taken up with the doing of trivial things which deserve no wasted mental effort. One arises and takes a morning bath, eats breakfast at a regular hour and starts the day's work without a thought as to the doing of these things. They are habits which if left undone would cause one discomfort, so much are they a part of daily routine.

Luncheon and dinner should be at regular times because digestion is better when they are. The digestive juices, ready to work at certain hours, will flow more readily than when they are called into duty at any old time.

The most restless, unhappy and dissatisfied persons are those who have no regular habits whatever. They think they are free because of these lack of habits, but they waste their time thinking about when they shall eat, when they shall do this and that, and their freedom from habit gives them no satisfaction.

Along with a lack of system in one's daily habits goes a lack of system in one's thoughts. The artists who get somewhere, the writers who accomplish something are persons with the ability to stick regularly to their tasks, not the ones who work intermittently.

Train the children to have good habits in their daily living and rest assured that one has done all one can to insure them having sane, orderly habits of mind.

The Right Breakfast for Workers

Eat Food that Supplies "Balanced" Ration After Night's Fast

IF you feel tired, hungry, "fidgety" hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start days with breakfasts lacking in certain food elements.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 65% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamines and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning.

Get Quaker Oats today. Grocers have two kinds: Quick Quaker, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes, and Quaker Oats.

VICTIM OF TOY SHOOTING DIES

Police Book Neighbor on Murder Charge

Quarrel Begun by Children Ends in Tragedy

Woman Admits Loan of Gun to Mar Vista Man

A murder charge was booked by police last night against Thomas J. Christian, who is asserted to have shot Walter E. Galloway in a quarrel over children's toys. Galloway died in the Culver City Community Hospital yesterday, after battling for his life since Friday evening. Galloway was 37 years of age and lived at 3715 Barry avenue, Mar Vista. Christian, 52, was his neighbor.

THOMAS J. CHRISTIAN.

When Detective-Lieutenant Fure, of the Sawtelle police division, together with Detective Captain Armstrong and Policeman Mole, of Venice, questioned Christian on Friday, he admitted firing the fatal shot, they say. Christian told the officers he had come to Mar Vista from Kentucky, where he was a farmer, about ten months ago. Ever since he arrived here with his family, the Kentuckian stated, he had feared Galloway.

Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Cassidy of 4040 East Boulevard, neighbors, bore him out in this assertion at the Venice police station, where Christian had surrendered to Lieutenant McCaleb, following the shooting. Mrs. Cassidy told of loaning Christian a 38-caliber revolver belonging to her husband, when Christian came to her house during the final trouble with Galloway. "He borrowed the gun to protect himself," Mrs. Cassidy told the police, and declared that she had advised Christian to stay away from Galloway. "I didn't know it was a crime to loan him a weapon when he wanted it to protect himself," she told her questioners.

FIGHT ON LAWN

Preceding the shooting Cassidy fought with Galloway on the lawn of the Cassidy home, witnesses told the officers. Galloway, they related, came there looking for Christian, whose wife and Mrs. Galloway had been drawn into a dispute over an exchange of toys by their children. Mrs. Christian came to her home crying, Mrs. Cassidy said, and stated that Mrs. Galloway had slapped her face three times during the quarrel. When Galloway came, Mrs. Cassidy asserted, he used language to which her husband objected. Cassidy is then said to have intervened, and to have subdued Galloway in the fight that followed.

Christian told officers when asked why he had borrowed the gun, that he was afraid Galloway would injure him.

"I knew he could whip me," Christian is reported to have said. "Cassidy had whipped him, and I was afraid he would try to get revenge on me."

Just how the trouble started, ten months ago, police did not learn during the questioning. The reiterated statement that Christian feared his neighbor was all that could be elicited.

Sawtelle police were visited by Galloway the night preceding the shooting, they reported. He sought to place Christian under a peace bond, they said.

At the hospital Galloway told police that Christian had threatened to kill him, his wife and children. Christian said, according to Galloway's dying statement: "When I shoot, I shoot to kill."

Christian admitted shooting just when Galloway opened the door of his car, after having driven up to Christian's house. "When he opened the door," Christian said, "I shot him," police report. In spite of the wound, the bullet having completely penetrated his body, Galloway retained consciousness. He is said to have instructed his wife to drive him to the hospital.

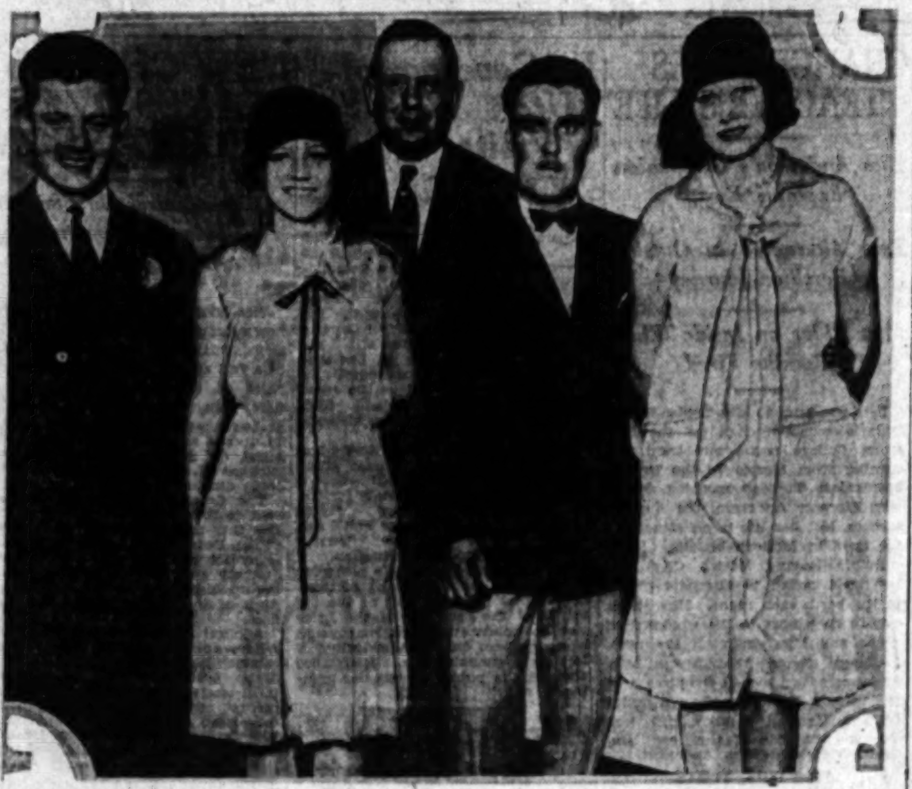
Prisoners Join in Cheering as Ceremony Concludes



Principals in Court Double Wedding

TWO deaf and mute couples halted a heavy calendar of cases in Municipal Judge Russill's courtroom yesterday long enough to have nuptial knots tied.

Romances that had their inception at chance meetings in the clubrooms of the Oral Deaf Club here culminated with the marriage of George W. Aiken, 23 years of age, 3371 Laclede avenue, to Beatrice L. Versalovich, 21, 1052 Calzona street, and William Richards, 26, 1236 South Flower street, to Gwendolyn H. Arnold, 19, 133 North Broadway, Redondo Beach.

Double Investigation Into Hit-and-Run Charge Faced by Benny Zeidman

Benny Zeidman, Hollywood film studio executive remained at liberty yesterday pending a double investigation, by the Sheriff's office and the District Attorney's office, after he had been arrested on a hit-and-run charge.

According to the report to the Sheriff's office, Zeidman was driving a car which crashed into one in which Betty Finer, 1121½ East Park avenue, was a passenger on the Malibu Road Sunday night. Miss Finer was injured severely and taken to a hospital for treatment.

The report stated that after the accident, Zeidman continued on his way until stopped by A. Howe, 156 West Manchester avenue, who was passing. Zeidman later was released by orders of Dist.-Atty. Keyes to the custody of John W. Considine, Jr. Pending the outcome of the investigation the case is held in abeyance.

Twenty-four grand pianos will be used in an ensemble rendition of some of the selections, the director stated, while the Norma Gould dancers also will present several interpretations.

ARRESTS FOLLOW BANKRUPTCY

Charged with illegally shipping a carload of merchandise to California from their bankrupt store at Ebensburg, Pa., Antonio Falchini, 55 years of age, and his daughter, Josephine, 21, were yesterday held by United States Commissioner Head under $5000 bond each for hearing September 9 on a charge of misappropriating assets listed by the Federal courts in Pennsylvania.

Officers Seize Large Supply of Moonshine

Three hundred gallons of moonshine, most of it in barrels being aged by electricity, was seized yesterday in a raid by Detective Lieutenants Hoy and Leslie at 759 East Thirty-first street, according to their report. Louis Hacker, 27 years of age, was arrested on Wright Act charges.

"This is a disappointment," the detectives quoted Hacker as saying. "I hoped to have this stuff all aged by Saturday, when the fleet comes in."

The seizure, according to police records, brings the total score of Detectives Hoy and Leslie up to $50,000 worth of liquor confiscated in the past seven days.

OLAND PLANS EARLY MATINEE PRODUCTION

Warner Oland, prominent screen character player now under contract to Warner Brothers, is hoping to do his announced matinee production at the Belasco Theater some time within the next two months. Mr. and Mrs. Oland claid to be the originators of the Little Theater movement in this country, as their productions at the Berkley Lyceum in New York in 1911 antedated any similar plays by several years.

Oland has been completely occupied by the screen for many years. Some months ago Messrs. Belasco, Butler, and Davis of the Belasco asked him if he would consider the production of one or two plays for special matinee performances playing the leads. Oland, pleased with the opportunity to appear on the stage, again consented, but of course had to delay the productions until his screen engagements would permit. He has just finished the role of the Cantor with Al Jolson in "The Jazz Singer" and if he can arrange the time with Warner Brothers, will start on the Belasco plays soon. His first play will probably be the "Brothers Karamazov," which had a long run in New York.

YOUTH ACCUSED IN CHEST OFFICE THEFT

Asserted to have stolen a registered letter from the offices of the Community Chest at 112 Weller street, Walter Stonequist, 17 years of age, is charged with vagrancy in a petition filed yesterday in Judge Vicini's department of Juvenile Court. The youth is being held in the County Jail pending disposition of the case. Stonequist, according to the petition, is the son of Mrs. Minnie Stonequist of Chicago.

Nevada Doctor Sued Following Goiter Operation

Charging Dr. E. R. Lambertson, Nevada physician, with a "careless and negligent operation," suit was filed in Federal District Court here yesterday by Leon Bayard and his wife, Dora, seeking the collection of $130,000.

Dr. Lambertson is charged with having operated on Mrs. Bayard for goiter without "previous diagnosis." As a result of the operation Mrs. Bayard is asserted to have suffered injury to her vocal nerves so that her speech was seriously impaired.

Gardner Seeks Delay in Court

Rev. Karl Gardner of the Rosikrucian Church, who is seeking a mandate in Judge James's court compelling the Federal prohibition administrator to issue him a liquor permit, is in no way connected with the Ancient and Mystical order Rosae Crucis of North America, according to E. E. Thomas, master of the local chapter of the order.

POPULAR COMEDIENNE IN "WILD WESTCOTTS"

Lydia Dickson, who is appearing in "The Wild Westcotts," the comedy now at the Vine-street Theater, has had a most interesting career on both stage and screen.

Miss Dickson was a young Denver society girl when the footlights lured her to New York. She has been featured opposite such stars as Robert Edeson, Wilton Lackaye, Walker Whiteside, and others equally famous to the older generation. Most of the present-day motion picture celebrities were unheard of when Miss Dickson was a featured screen played for the Fox Company.

Probably her best known and greatest stage characterization was her role opposite Raymond Hitchcock, in the long and successful tour of Don Marquis's "Old Soak." She will also be remembered by local theatergoers for her excellent portrayal of the scrub woman in "Chicago."

BOULEVARD STOPS ON PICO ORDERED

City Attorney Stephens yesterday was instructed by the City Council to present an ordinance making Pico street a boulevard-stop thoroughfare from Western avenue to the western city limits.

POINT LOST BY DYSINGER

Judge Overrules Demurrer to Complaint Which Seeks to Oust Lutheran Pastor

Rev. William S. Dysinger lost the first point in the suit to oust him from the pulpit of the First English Evangelical Lutheran Church of Los Angeles yesterday when Judge Wood of Superior Court overruled a demurrer to the complaint and set the case for trial September 20.

Plaintiffs in the suit are F. M. Runkle and others purporting to constitute the board of trustees of the church as authorized by the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of California. In their complaint they charge Mr. Dysinger and other defendants with conspiring to "cheat and defraud" the church out of its property after Mr. Dysinger was suspended by the synod. It is charged the defendants sought to perfect the asserted conspiracy by causing the congregation to pass a resolution amending the church's constitution so that it is no longer under the authority of the State synod.

The defendants answered that the plaintiffs are representing a minority of the members of the congregation and that the synod is without authority to regulate the affairs of an individual congregation to the point of removing its pastor.

Mr. Dysinger also charged the group seeking to oust him has been harrassing him and the majority of the church members for more than five years and finally conspired with the synod to remove him from the pulpit of the church.

MRS. HOWARD TO FIGHT INSANITY

Attorney Declares Client Ready for Trial

Insists Child's Death Due to Accident

Suspect Being Held for Lunacy Hearing

In spite of the District Attorney's office declaration that they will file a murder complaint if Mrs. Minnie Howard, accused of the murder of her infant in a Main-street hotel, is proven sane, Attorney Milton Golden, representing Mrs. Howard, announced last night that he will combat attempts to prove his client insane.

The lawyer's statement was made after Detective Eddie King, homicide investigator for the District Attorney, yesterday filed an insanity complaint against the woman with the Lunacy Commission. A hearing on her mental condition was set for September 5.

"Mrs. Howard is not insane," declared Golden. "She accidentally rolled over on the child in her sleep and caused its death. If the District Attorney's office wants to file a murder complaint we are ready to go to trial."

CONFERENCE HELD.

The insanity complaint was filed after a conference yesterday morning between police officers working on the case, representatives of the District Attorney's office and Dr. Victor Parking, alienist. Dr. Parking is declared to have diagnosed Mrs. Howard's mental state at the time of the death of her child as "confusional insanity."

"It seems the only human thing to do," declared Dep. Dist.-Atty. Dennison, commenting on the filing of the insanity complaint. "If Mrs. Howard was insane at the time of the death of the child from various troubles she was known to have had, we have no right to prosecute her. It is the duty of psychopathic experts to determine this for us."

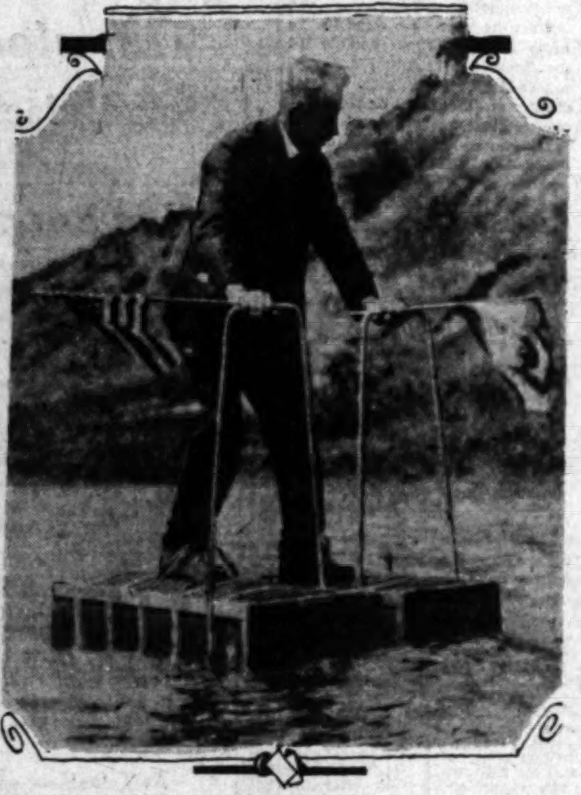
UNDER OBSERVATION

Immediately after the complaint was issued Mrs. Howard was removed to the psychopathic ward of the County Hospital, where she will be under observation until the day of her hearing.

At the hearing, according to Dennison, all of the witnesses will be subpoenaed to appear, and every phase of the case will be related for the benefit of the insanity commission. Early yesterday Attorney Golden obtained a writ of habeas corpus, returnable Thursday, seeking sanity action automatically dissolves these proceedings. the release of his client, but the in-

WATER WALKING MAY BE NEXT

Bay City Man Devises Floating Shoes



Off for Stroll Over Waves

IT IS NOT improbable that someday men may walk upon water nearly as easily as they now tread upon land, according to Paul Reinwald, San Francisco inventor, here recently upon a visit.

Reinwald believes he is well on the way toward solving the problem of water-walking with his invention of a pair of floating shoes. He has worked upon the idea for the last two years, recently completing models for the purpose of experimentation. In time he hopes to perfect them.

The shoes are four feet in length, a foot wide, of wooden framework with a shellac covering, and contain a bag which is inflated with air from an automobile tire pump. The feet are inserted in waterproof canvas uppers, which are laced. A waist-high metal hand-grip aids the water-walker in balancing himself.

SCRIBBLERS TO ENTERTAIN

The Los Angeles Scribblers' League will open the new club year with a program consisting of Indian lore, music and tradition in the music-room of the Artland Club, 811 West Seventh street, at 7:30 o'clock Saturday. Princess Tsianina will talk on "Indian Lore." Mrs. William Maybee will take for her subject "What We Owe to the Indians." James Walker will play Indian musical instruments. Among others on the program will be Annette Kyser and Mrs. Mary Whitworth, pianist.

CHANCE SAVES TEACHER'S LIFE

Miss Anderson's Companion Explains Escape

Two Alternated in Outside Berth on Journey

Miss Rider on Inside When Bandits Fired

Fate was kind to Miss Louise Rider, Ontario school-teacher, on the Pomona College travel-tour train returning from Mexico to the United States last Tuesday morning, when Miss Florence Anderson, Los Angeles teacher, lost her life in an attack on the train by Mexican bandits.

Before leaving Mexico City the two girls agreed to alternate places in the berth each night. Miss Rider was to sleep next to the window one night and Miss Anderson the next.

Chance decreed that it was Miss Anderson's turn to take the place next the window Tuesday night. A bullet from a Mexican bandit's rifle tore through the side of the car and fatally wounded Miss Anderson.

FILE WILL TODAY

Appointment of Mrs. Jean Garrison, 3414 Third avenue, cousin of Miss Anderson, as executor of the slain girl's estate will be asked today when Warren E. Libby, Mrs. Garrison's attorney, files Miss Anderson's will in the Probate Court.

Mrs. Garrison left Los Angeles Sunday evening to escort Miss Anderson's body to Denver, where it will be laid to rest alongside that of her mother.

The threat of Charles H. Anderson, Spokane newspaper man and father of the dead girl, to contest the right of Mrs. Garrison to name the burial place of his daughter has not yet been carried out. Press dispatches from Spokane yesterday indicated he is undecided as to whether he will press the case. He is quoted as saying that had his daughter told him of her desire to be laid at rest beside her mother he would have assented.

WILL PRODUCED

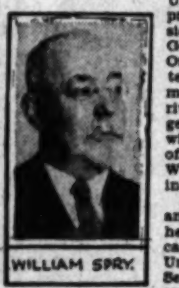
Communications received from Mr. Anderson by local authorities on the arrival of his daughter's body in Los Angeles requested that the body be given into his care for burial. He stated that it was his desire that the body be interred in California near that of his relatives.

When word was received from the father, Mrs. Garrison produced a holographic will, signed by Miss Anderson before she left on her trip to the Mexican capital, which bequeaths her personal property and accident insurance to her cousin, with whom she had lived for the past two years. Mrs. Garrison also produced affidavits to show that the girl was estranged from her father and had expressed the wish that her burial be arranged by Mrs. Garrison.

Mrs. Garrison is understood, prior to leaving Los Angeles for Denver, to have filed a claim through the State Department on the Mexican government for reparations as the result of Miss Anderson's death.

Ex-Governor of Utah Will be Visitor Today

On an inspection tour of government-owned land in the Southwest, William Spry, former Governor of Utah, and at present Commissioner of the General Land Office in the Interior Department, will arrive in Los Angeles today. He will be the guest of Roland Rich Woolley, his son-in-law.



WILLIAM SPRY.

Mr. Spry has announced that he will be a candidate for the United States Senate and will oppose Senator King of Utah for the nomination.

The former Governor is a recognized authority on land-grant matters. Last winter he came west at the instance of the Secretary of the Interior to confer with cattlemen and sheep growers on the advisability of leasing approximately 190,000,000 acres of the public domain for grazing.

Airport Offer for Lindbergh

The days when he was an air-mail pilot before he became an international hero, will be recalled by Col. Lindbergh on landing in Los Angeles, if an offer to place at his disposal the facilities of the coastwise air-mail field of the Pacific Air Transport is accepted.

Lindbergh is tendered the use of the local field and hangar of the Pacific Air Transport while here in a letter to Maj. Hines, chairman of the Lindbergh aviation committee, from J. L. Mushett, division superintendent of the air-mail and passenger line operating between this city and Seattle.

Asserted Badge Robbers Seized

Sergt. Johnson of the vagrancy squad arrested three men yesterday who are accused of using spurious police badges to affect robberies. They are Stanley Rossi, 28 years of age; Joseph Stapleton, 32, and John W. White, 26, all giving the same address, 320 South Rampart Boulevard. Badges which so closely resemble the real article that it took a close examination to detect the difference were found on the prisoners, police say.

The men were taken into custody at Ninth and Los Angeles streets and booked at the County Jail on charges of suspicion of robbery.

NEW CHIEF TAKES OVER FLEET SOON

Vice-Admiral De Steiguer Will Assume Command of Warcraft September 10

Vice-Admiral Louis R. de Steiguer, now commanding the battleship divisions, will hoist his four-star flag as a full admiral and commander-in-chief of the United States battle fleet, aboard the flagship California at Los Angeles Harbor on September 10, it was announced yesterday. Admiral de Steiguer relieves Admiral Richard H. Jackson, who goes to shore duty at Washington.

The fleet, now paying its annual visit to San Francisco, will leave the Bay City on September 2 and arrive at San Pedro the following afternoon, ready for eight months of intensive gunnery and tactical training winding up with the cruise to Hawaii next April of the combined United States fleet.

Admiral Henry A. Wiley, who is to relieve Admiral Charles F. Hughes as commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, will not raise his flag until early November, according to present advices, the ceremony being conducted at this port. Admiral Wiley's new flagship, the modernized U.S.S. Texas now is enroute here from New York to relieve the old cruiser Seattle.

Plans are being perfected by the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce for a series of "welcome home" celebrations for the officers and men of the fleet.

Phoenix Seeks Return Visit by Angeleno Party

Cordial messages received here yesterday from Phoenix officials and civic leaders, who were here last week on the good will excursion to cement better business relations between Arizona and Southern California, formally invited Los Angeles to send a return delegation to Phoenix next Saturday.

Mayor Jefferson of Phoenix, P. G. Spillsbury, president of the Arizona Industrial Congress, and H. B. Watkins, general manager of the Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, signed the telegrams, which stated that arrangements have been made by the Santa Fe Railroad to run two special trains leaving here Friday night to arrive in Phoenix early Saturday, and to reach Los Angeles on their return trip about noon Sunday.

Arizonans plan to give Angelenos as warm a reception as they were accorded during their recent visit here. Two hundred automobiles will form a caravan to give the Angelenos a day of sightseeing, including a barbecue luncheon on the site of the Lake Pleasant dam.

Mrs. Rachel Starbuck of Wilmington, O., bakes on an average of 41,000 pies a year as a side-line business, besides washing, ironing, cleaning and cooking for a family of four.

Aid Offered to Select Airport

Local aeronautical organizations are co-operating with city officials in the task of selecting a municipal airport for Los Angeles.

The Warren School of Aeronautics has offered the services of Lieutenant Commander Clarence S. Williams, instructor at the school, and its engineering department to investigate meteorological conditions at any proposed site, a letter received by the City Council yesterday, stated.

TRAFFIC EVIDENCE MISSING

Trial Delayed in Case of Santa Clara Officers Accused of Kidnaping Attorney

Missing twenty minutes after it had been offered in Municipal Judge Baird's court for identification, a speed tag yesterday caused postponement of the preliminary hearing of Constable W. L. Skeels of Morgan Hill, and his deputy, John Jorgenson, on charges of kidnaping George Sanders, local attorney.

Sanders himself, who had taken the stand and told of being kidnaped from the streets of the city and taken to the Santa Clara county municipality to face three traffic charges, identified the tag as the one given him by a county traffic officer on December 22, last.

TAG VANISHES

Later, when Dep. Dist.-Atty. Clarke sought to introduce the tag as evidence, it had suddenly vanished. A search of the entire courtroom failed to reveal its presence. With the tag missing and official records of the arrest resting in Morgan Hill, Judge Baird granted the motion to continue the case until September 6.

Sanders charged the officers with forcibly taking him from Los Angeles streets by appointment, driving him to Morgan Hill and throwing him into jail when he was unable to furnish $225 bail, set at 2 o'clock in the morning by a justice of the peace.

CALLS FOR HELP

Policeman Ursi, who was directing traffic at Seventh street and Central avenue when the asserted kidnapers' car was driving north, testified that Sanders called to him for help, but that he refused to intervene when Skeels produced the necessary papers. The officer admitted, however, that he did not see the attached signature of any local judge permitting the officers to extradite Sanders to the northern county. Albert Wickenden also testified that Sanders yelled to him for assistance while the machine was passing through Santa Maria.

Ever taste anything Better than these Deep Fried Tomatoes?

BESIDES being a treat that you and every member of the family will enjoy, these Fried Tomatoes will demonstrate to you what a remarkable fat Mazola is for deep frying.

Being a pure vegetable oil—pressed from the hearts of golden corn kernels—Mazola fries foods so that, when ready to serve, they are greaseless and easily digested. And after frying, merely strain the Mazola, using it over and over again—as it never carries odors or flavors from one food to another.

Fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg
Mazola

Wash and dry the tomatoes and slice crosswise to make three thick pieces. Dust with salt, pepper and a little sugar and roll in fine dry crumbs. Beat the egg, add the milk, dip the slices in this, dip again in crumbs and fry in deep Mazola, hot enough to brown a bit of bread in one minute, 350 degrees F. Drain the tomatoes on crumpled paper and serve plain, or on toast with white sauce.

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS

SWEET PICKLED PEACHES

A. A. P., Glendale, Cal.: Select six pounds of clingstone peaches (medium size) firm, but not too ripe. Put in a preserving kettle six cupfuls of sugar, and two cupfuls of water. Bring to a boil, and drop in the peaches. Boil fifteen minutes, remove from the fire, and stand in a cool place three hours. Drain syrup from the peaches, and return to the fire and add to it two cupfuls of vinegar, two tablespoonfuls of whole cloves, four ounces of stick cinnamon, and one ounce of whole ginger cut fine. Let boil fifteen minutes, add the peaches and boil thirty minutes. Remove from the fire, and let stand overnight. Drain off the syrup, return to the fire, boil fifteen minutes, add the peaches and cook fifteen minutes. Cool and let stand four hours, or overnight, return to the fire and cook until the peaches are tender and clear. Pack the peaches in clean jars, divide the spices so that each jar will have an equal amount. Fill with the syrup, seal, and place in a hot water bath and process for twenty minutes. Have the water simmering or about 180 deg. F.

POPOVERS

H. A., Glendale, Cal.: Place two eggs in a bowl, and beat well with a rotary egg beater, beat into them one cupful of milk, one cupful of flour sifted twice, and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. According to the size of the chicken. Turn frequently and brush with butter. Remove thedd skewers, place on a platter, and garnish with fried bacon. Serve with it in a sauceboat a deviled sauce.

DEVILED SAUCE

Put half a teaspoonful of dry English mustard in a bowl, add a quarter of a bottle of A. I. sauce and stir till it is formed into a smooth paste. SWEET CUCUMBER PICKLES

J. R. D., Redlands, Cal.: Select small green cucumbers and rub each one with a wet coarse towel. California Fig Rolls

M. R., Hollywood, Cal.: Butter a square layer cake tin and spread over the bottom in an even layer one and a half cupfuls of chopped walnut meats. Bring it to a boil, and boil until it will form a soft ball, when a little is dropped in cold water. Pour over the finely chopped walnut meats. Remove the stems from three-quarters of a pound of dried figs, and put through the fine knife of a meat chopper. Roll the fig meat in a cylinder, one and a half inches in diameter. Fig Jam

S. B. B., Pasadena, Cal.: Cover five pounds of nearly ripe figs with a brine made with two quarts of water and two cupfuls of salt, and let stand three days. Change the brine every day. After three days, cover them with fresh water, add two or three fig or grape leaves and cook until the figs take on a green color. Now place the figs in fresh water, and let stand three days, changing the water twice daily. Drain the figs, and place them in a preserving kettle, with five pounds of sugar, two lemons cut in thin slices and a small piece of ginger. Bring to a boil and cook five minutes. Let stand overnight. Add three pounds of sugar and cook slowly twenty minutes. Pack while hot in clean glass jars. Seal and store in cool, dark places. This recipe is for white figs.

INQUIRY TO BE MADE IN DROWNINGS

Foul Play Possibility in Deaths of Two Men at Beach Investigated

Fearing a possibility of foul play, Assistant County Chemist Abernathy yesterday ordered an analysis of the stomach of Mark Fry, 30 years of age, 1936 Sunflower avenue, Edendale, who was drowned at the foot of Santa Monica Canyon, and of C. P. O'Brien of 1909 West Adams street, who lost his life in the Ocean Park plunge.

Though O'Brien was found by lifeguards at the bottom of the plunge, the possibility of poisoning is being investigated. O'Brien was at the beach with his wife, mother and two little daughters at the time of the drowning. The body was removed to the Sharp & Nolan undertaking parlor at Venice.

FAMILY PINNED BENEATH HOUSE

Mother and Baby Killed When Wind Razed Home

Father Crushed and Held Till Calls Bring Aid

Building Carried 150 Feet by Small Cyclone

CALEXICO, Aug. 29.—Pinned beneath his cyclone-wrecked house near Brawley, this county, with the dead bodies of his wife and 11-months-old boy Manuel near him, Gavino Cabrillo called for help from 6 o'clock last night until 8 o'clock this morning before his cries were heard. When a passing Mexican, attracted by strange cries, found him, he was partly demented from the night-long exhaustion and pain.

Unable to free Cabrillo, the Mexican notified officials in Brawley and Constable William O'Brien removed the debris which imprisoned the farmer. It was found that one leg was broken at the hip, and one arm was crushed. Only his powerful physique, physicians believed, prevented his death. He was taken to the hospital at El Centro, where it is believed he will recover.

The twister lifted the house into the air, carried it 150 feet into the barnyard, and dropped it on top of the family's motor car. The Cabrillos lived on the Frank Krumer ranch. The wind lasted about five minutes and was accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain. It struck again a quarter of a mile away, demolishing a large vacant house. No other damage was done in the county, so far as known here.

Officer Crushed Between Trucks Expected to Die

MONTEREY PARK, Aug. 29.—William A. Guidera, 34 years old, local police officer, sustained possible fatal injuries early today when he was crushed between two trucks that crashed on Garvey avenue.

He is suffering from concussion of the brain, his leg is fractured in two places, and he has many bruises about the body. It is feared that his skull may be fractured. He is at the Alhambra Hospital.

The officer was in a police car on Garvey avenue when he stopped a truck which showed no tail light. He got out of his car and stood at the rear of the truck while the driver attempted to repair the light. A truck driven by Traxedis Ortegon, Los Angeles, approached from the rear and attempted to pass the two cars. A fourth car coming in the opposite direction forced Ortegon to turn his machine into the parked truck, pinning Guidera between the two trucks.

The injured officer joined the Monterey Police Department the 13th inst. He lives at 403 North Huntington avenue.

Santa Barbara Schools Opened; Set New Record

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 29.—More than 4000 pupils faced 202 teachers at the opening of the grammar and high schools here today. Fourteen buildings house the twelve grammar schools, two high schools and a junior high. The total enrollment today was 4464, as compared to 4252 for last year. This represents a gain of 212 on the first day, which will be increased materially before the end of the week.

Night schools also opened tonight with a good attendance. Sessions will begin at 7 o'clock and special attention will be paid to a business course including book-keeping, typing and business arithmetic.

Citizenship classes and courses in English for foreign residents will be started in the Lincoln school building September 20.

Home-making courses will begin as soon as a schedule is worked out. Sessions will be held during the afternoons.

Admissions to Pomona Fair Placed on Sale

POMONA, Aug. 29.—With the placing on sale today in many Southern California communities of several thousand advance sale tickets to the Los Angeles County Fair, to be held in this city from September 20 to 24, announcement was made by C. B. Afflerbaugh, fair manager and secretary, that all arrangements were going ahead as scheduled on a scale that exceeded any like exhibition in this city in many years.

The tickets were distributed today by J. M. Paige, secretary of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce, and A. R. Brown, assistant superintendent of the agricultural and horticultural department of the fair.

Of especial interest in this connection was the announcement made today by W. K. Kellogg, nationally-known cereal manufacturer, from his ranch just west of this city, that he would exhibit a string of ten of his full-blooded Arabian horses at the fair. He will also exhibit at the Orange County Fair to be held at Santa Ana, September 5-9.

INVESTIGATION PROPOSED

Long Beach to Investigate Asserted Waste of Fuel Gas and Contract for New Supply

LONG BEACH, Aug. 29.—Just why Long Beach, through a now defunct administration, should enter into a contract with the Petroleum Securities Corporation for delivery of millions of cubic feet of gas to the city-owned gas mains, when, it is charged, Long Beach already has so much gas that it blew 392,142,000 feet of it into the air in June, is a question which newly-elected city officials are determined to have explained to them, it was revealed here today.

In the explaining, W. A. White, superintendent of the Municipal Gas Department, may find himself out of a job, it was said at the City Hall. White is a holdover from the old administration.

Under instructions from the City Council, City Manager H. S. Callahan and City Attorney Reid are investigating charges made by Councilman Alexander, that on June 28, last, former City Manager C. S. Henderson and Supt. White, contrary to law, entered into a contract on behalf of the city, for the delivery of an unlimited supply of gas.

The contract was awarded without advertising for bids, with no emergency existing, Councilman Alexander charges, and was entered into at a time when the surplus gas supply was so great that more than 392,000,000 cubic feet of commodity that the city charges 50 cents a thousand feet for, was blown into the air.

It was said today at the City Attorney's office that the charges have been investigated and that executive meeting of the City Council will be called soon, at which the report of the investigating officials will be submitted.

Reports that State Gas Administrator Brown, who visited Long Beach Saturday and who conferred with Supt. White, was engaged in an investigation of the charges of wasted fuel supply, was denied by city officials.

White and the State official conferred, Mr. White said, but declared that no mention was made of the charges contained in Councilman Alexander's resolution.

No other city officials were interviewed by Administrator Brown, it is said.

It was hinted today that Supt. White will appear before the Council at an early date for a hearing on charges brought by Councilman Alexander. White will have a full and complete hearing before any action is taken looking toward his dismissal from city service, it was declared today by Walter P. Fleming, new director of public service, under whose administrative jurisdiction the city gas and water departments are placed.

Tulare Asks to be Placed Upon Air-line Route

TULARE, Aug. 29.—Recommendation that the government air-line now planned to fall several miles west of Tulare in conformity with plans effected by government aviation officials, be changed to a point nearer the city limits in order to include the Tulare municipal airport in its route, has been sent to officials at Washington, D. C., by W. T. Miller, district aviation extension superintendent, with headquarters in San Francisco.

Announcement to this effect was made by Miller before a meeting of the aviation committee of the Tulare Chamber of Commerce and a number of other citizens.

This recommendation of the change was made contingent upon agreement of the Tulare Chamber of Commerce, supervising construction of the airport, to erect boundary lights, remove hazards and fit the field to conform to government requirements.

The Tulare airport will not become a government field, as thus it would not be available for commercial purposes, it being declared by Miller that government fields are for the use of government planes only, except in unusual cases.

Erection of a beacon light at the Tulare airport will be the first step toward establishment of Tulare position on the air-line map and it is believed will be an inducement for commercial air-transport companies utilizing the local field as a central stop between Fresno and Bakersfield. Miller left for San Francisco this morning, accompanied by P. D Nowell and E. R. Spear.

Back of Oil Field Foreman Broken by Giant Wheel

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 29.—Henry Field, 35 years of age, foreman for the International Derrick Company, an oil rig building firm operating here, is at Mercy Hospital with a broken back and numerous fractured ribs, as the result of an accident Sunday near Delano.

According to reports from Delano, Field was crushed beneath a three-ton bullwheel which he and other workers were removing from a new rig being built for the North American Oil Company. As the wheel was taken from the rig, it overbalanced and rolled across his body. Dr. Charles Mills of Delano gave first-aid treatment, and the injured man was then brought to the Bakersfield hospital in a Beale ambulance.

According to reports from Delano, the rig which is being built on the Walter J. Wallace ranch, was almost completed when the accident occurred. The main derrick is up, boilers have been erected, a water supply has been brought to the well site and sumps have been made for storing.

The average price per box for the latest pool amounted to $4.12 F.O.B., Spennetta reported, one of the highest averages for a second pool ever recorded and according to Red Fox officials, higher than other second pools out of Orange county.

The total receipts for the two pools disposed of at this time amount to $319,897.85, all of which has been distributed through Orange county. It was said about sixty-five growers in the county participated in the dividends.

Brigham, who lives with an aunt, Mrs. M. C. Rich, wandered away from the cabin of Kenneth Rich, a relative, without hat or coat, it was stated. DRY CHIEF'S KIN JAILED

Brother-in-Law of Squad Head at San Diego Arrested for Attack on Under-Cover Agents

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 29.—M. M. Dillon, under-cover agent of the Sheriff's prohibition squad, is in Mercy Hospital today and J. W. Rodney, another of the under-cover agents, is nursing bruises as results of an attack last night by A. H. Collins, brother-in-law of King J. Powell, chief of the prohibition squad that numbers Dillon and Rodney. Collins is held in the County Jail for investigation, placed there by Powell.

Collins, according to the story of the affray by Powell today, started the proceedings while under the influence of liquor and first attacked Dillon after he, Dillon, and Rodney had gone to dinner together, placing Dillon and Rodney under "arrest," and taking them to the County Jail, where he began beating Dillon some more, but was pulled away by other officers and the three of them sent on their ways.

Collins made his way with that of the two under-cover men, to their rooms in a local hotel, entered Dillon's room, beat him again and then started an attack on Rodney, who barricaded himself in his room and stood guard with a revolverd, according to the story of the affair. Hotel employees sent in a call for deputy sheriffs to come and quiet the row and made an effort to get the dry agents out of the hotel by a rear entrance, but Collins disappeared before further trouble occurred.

Powell, returning to the city from a trip out of town, was notified of the affair and went to the hotel, but, failing to find his brother-in-law, went home, where Collins was a guest, and the latter soon after arrived there. Powell immediately placed him under arrest and took him to the County Jail.

PIONEERS WEDDED SIXTY YEARS

Most of Married Life Spent on Frontier

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Davis

HUNTINGTON PARK, Aug. 29.—Having been wedded just sixty years ago today, a reception was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Amos Davis, prominent members of the Friends church in this city tonight. A special program has been arranged by the members, several vocal and instrumental selections being given, and short talks made by their friends.

The marriage of Mr. Davis and Miss Charity Reynolds, who became his bride, was solemnized in Eagle Town, Hamilton county, Indiana, on August 29, 1867. Mr. and Mrs. Davis continued to reside in the Hoosier State for a number of years, taking up ministerial work with this denomination, a few years after they were wedded. Later they were transferred to North Carolina, and then to Virginia, where they were in evangelistic work. Following their stay in these States, they were sent to Oklahoma, which was known then as Indian Territory. For seven years they did missionary work among the Indians. Later they located in Inyo county, where they resumed their religious work. From there they went to San Joaquin Valley, and then Eagle Rock. Following their work at the latter place, they went into Arizona, where they continued their work for seven years. Then they returned to Eagle Rock for a stay, and five years ago located in this city, where Mr. Davis has been doing supply work for the Friends churches.

Many friends were present this evening at the anniversary, extending congratulations.

Old Airplanes at Clover Field Ordered Burned

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 29.—Instructions to destroy the seven J. N. 4 "ferry" airplanes now in the equipment at Clover Field, Santa Monica, have been received from the War Department at Washington by Lieut. Walter K. Burgess, commander. The ships are to be "junked" September 1, according to the instructions, and they will be replaced immediately with the most modern equipment.

Officers at Clover Field and many reserve flyers in and around Los Angeles, expressed satisfaction today with the order. It was said to be a part of the government's program of replacing old equipment, unsafe and antiquated, with new planes for the thousands of reserve officers throughout the country. Clover Field ranks as one of the largest training camps in the United States. No definite word regarding the new ships to be received was forthcoming today, but fuller information was expected at an early date.

Griffith Given Police Tribute

D. W. Griffith, pioneer motion-picture director, was presented with a police captain's badge and commission yesterday by the Police Department and was sworn in as an officer of the department by City Clerk Dominguez. The ceremony took place in the City Clerk's office at City Hall.

He then went East for several years and now has returned to make his home. He is one of the supervising directors with United Artists Corporation. Throughout his long career in motion-pictures he has been known as a staunch friend of the Los Angeles Police Department.

Sixty on Patrol in Blaze Area

Sixty men still are patrolling the edges of the smoldering scar left by the forest fire which ravaged the mountains east of the Ridge Route near Sandberg's Inn last week, according to a report from Federal and county officials yesterday.

Only Federal men now are guarding against any possible flare-ups of the controlled flames, the county forces no longer being needed, the foresters say. Federal officials state that the remaining crew will stand watch for another week as stumps containing embers still are rolling down canyon slopes and present a fire hazard. No new brush fires were reported in Southern California yesterday.

San Bernardino Launches Plans for City Airport

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 29. — A campaign with the establishment of a municipal airport as its objective was launched here today by the San Bernardino Realty Board at a luncheon attended by 300 including army, navy and commercial flyers as special guests.

An air meet was held in conjunction with the program, army and navy aviators flying over the city and the Ford all-metal ten-passenger plane carrying up a number of citizens for a view of the valley.

W. M. Fox, representing the Maddux air lines, spoke on the progress of commercial aviation, pointing out that San Bernardino, located on the transcontinental airway, particularly needs a municipal airport for flyers.

Maj. H. D. Harmon, commandant at March Field, likewise advised the establishment of the airport as did Commander D. A. Radford of the navy flying base at North Island, San Diego.

Petitions containing the names of the 300 guests at the dinner were presented to Mayor I. N. Gilbert and it was announced that the Chamber of Commerce and Realty Board were preparing a program to finance the establishment of the airport, probably by bond issue to be submitted to the City Council.

Police stated that Joe Faulkner, 124 North Pasadena avenue, a witness of the accident, declared that Scallings was driving about thirty-five miles an hour, while the other machine was traveling at a rate of about fifteen miles an hour. Scallings was released after questioning.

CALEXICO, Aug. 29.—The canal water was this morning shut off at Andrade where it empties into the Alamo River to enable a more thorough search for the body of Raymond Stewart, drowned when his car missed the bridge at Holtville Saturday night. Twenty-five men searched the river bed all day today but have not yet recovered the body.

JEALOUS WIFE KILLS SELF

Woman Who Recently Left Hollywood Shoots Self in San Bernardino Home for Fancied Wrongs

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 29.—Jealous of fancied relations by her husband with motion-picture actresses following the finding of several photographs in his car, Mrs. Eva McConwell, 35 years of age, shot and fatally wounded herself early yesterday, according to the Coroner's office.

With her husband Mrs. McConwell had moved to San Bernardino only three days ago from Hollywood, where she had worked in the movies. The suicide followed days of argument in which she asserted she felt she was "in his way" in his desire to become a scenario writer, it was explained to Deputy Coroner Emmett Waters who was told Mrs. McConwell had made previous threats to take her life.

Her husband, F. S. McConwell, 38 years of age, former eastern newspaper man and orchestra leader, denied there had been any jealousy or quarreling.

Springing from his bed when he heard the shot, McConwell rushed to the living-room and found his wife stretched unconscious on the floor with a bullet wound in her temple. The bullet was lodged in the ceiling.

For several months Mrs. McConwell had been on the verge of a nervous breakdown, her husband told Deputy Coroner Waters. Hoping to improve his wife's health, McConwell moved to San Bernardino last Wednesday from Hollywood where they had been residing. With them was Mrs. McConwell's mother.

At about 3 a.m. Sunday, according to the story told Mr. Waters, McConwell was awakened when his wife arose from the bed. In response to his inquiry she stated she was going after a drink. It was only a few minutes later that the pistol shot was heard.

A trail of blood from the center of the living room, revealed that the wife had attempted to get back to the bedroom after firing the shot. She was unsuccessful, however and collapsed near the door.

The mother, sleeping in another room said she did not hear the shot but was awakened shortly thereafter.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29.—According to a survey recently made by the largest commercial poultrymen in San Fernando Valley the amount invested in poultry units in the valley, the number of laying hens and the annual income from all sources have doubled since January 1, three years ago.

Since that time, according to the survey, nearly 1200 new plants have been constructed, large and small, by 422 new poultrymen who have added nearly 500,000 more laying hens. Building permits in the aggregate show that these additional plants have cost $420,000.

The investment in poultry in the valley as it is today is given at $4,932,000, and the annual income is $3,388,000. Makers of the survey report that by the first of the coming year the figures now shown will be materially added to.

POMONA, Aug. 29.—Apprehended after an exciting chase which took her captors through alleys, streets and finally into the basement of a downtown ladies' ready-to-wear shop, Mrs. Margaret Foley, 25-year-old wife of a vaudeville performer, today pleaded guilty to shoplifting charges before Justice U. E. White, and was fined $50 and sixty days in jail. The latter was suspended upon her promise to leave the city.

According to Constable A. B. Chambers, the woman purloined a dress from a local store, secreting it in a local auto camp where she and her husband were located.

Changing her clothes frequently to throw pursuers off her trail, the woman was finally halted in an alley by officers. Before the officers could reach her, however, she fled into the rear door of a local store and ran into the basement, where she was caught. Charged with petty larceny, she pleaded guilty and was given a fine and suspended jail sentence.

Oil Lease Offer for Kern Airport

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 29.—An offer to lease the new Kern county airport for oil development was revealed to the Board of Supervisors in session today by Supervisor J. O. Hart, who stated that Charles Bloemer of Bakersfield had made the offer of $75 an acre bonus with a one-eighth royalty for the 200 acres comprising the airport four miles northwest of the city.

The Supervisors will take the matter under advisement, with Chairman Ira Williams authorized to investigate the matter. The Supervisors have included in this year's budget a sum of $60,000 for the purchase and improvement of the new airport here. No definite action has been taken by the board. Supervisor Hart said he did not know what company Mr. Bloemer might be representing or whether he was representing himself in the suggested negotiation.

THRESHERS HUM IN LIMA BEAN FIELDS

SIMI, Aug. 29. — The harvesting of lima beans is at full tilt in the Simi and Santa Susana sections, with scores of fields to seen and hundreds of men at work cutting the beans and gathering them into piles ready for the thresher. According to estimates of the largest growers, the yield this season will be above the average, with quality exceptionally good. In the west end of San Fernando Valley near here, bean harvesting also is at full blast. In San Fernando Valley, near here, bean harvesting also is at full blast. In some of the fields the hum of the threshers is to be heard. In San Fernando Valley this year alone, more This is slightly smaller than the previous season, because ranchers have diversified their crops. In both the Simi and San Fernando valleys there has been an excellent peach crop this year, most of which has been gathered and shipped. In some of the orchards peaches are lying bountifully under the trees. Tourists have been invited to help themselves as they have traveled through the valleys on their way to Los Angeles.

San Franciscan Pays for Having "Irish" Nature

FULLERTON, Aug. 29.—J. A. Blackford, 38 years of age, a steel construction worker of San Francisco, paid $50 in Judge Halsey I. Spence's court this morning for the satisfaction his "Irish" nature took yesterday afternoon in a fistic encounter with Traffic Officer Gus Barnes and Desk Sergeant Jim Pearson of the Fullerton police department, according to reports today.

Blackford, when stopped by Barnes on a downtown street corner, resented the officer's questions and protested verbally and physically against being taken to the station. Once inside the jail he opened an attack against Barnes and Desk Sergeant Pearson and the free-for-all lasted some minutes before the angry Irishman was subdued. Barnes had a couple of swollen knuckles today as mementoes of the fray.

Blackford gained his release on payment of $50 cash bond and this morning, when he appeared before Judge Spence, was fined that amount on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting an officer.

AUTOIST RUNS DOWN PICK-BANDIT PAIR

REDLANDS, Aug. 29. — A new brand of hold-up man is at large in this section, a fellow who uses a pick for a weapon. Dr. John McCauley reported to the police today that while on his way to the desert Saturday night he was held up on the road between Redlands and Beaumont, at a point where there is a detour and it is necessary to slow down. He was in second speed when the bandit stepped out to flag him. Dr. McCauley "stepped on it" and knocked the banuit down with the fender, but looked just in time to dodge a pick that another bandit aimed at his head, but which smashed into the side of the sedan and tore a great hole in it.

There have been several reports of an attempted hold-up in this road recently and the officers intend to clean it up.

McDILL PERMANENT JUDGE AT VAN NUYS

VAN NUYS, Aug. 29.—Municipal Judge McDill, recently appointed by Gov. Young, and who has been serving in the branch of the Municipal Court here for the last three weeks, has been assigned permanently, it is learned today. Within the last two or three weeks there has been some discussion whether the branch court would remain permanently at Van Nuys. Its quarters are in the Holly Building on Sylvan street, the space having been donated by Van Nuys business men. Since its inception several months ago, the court has had jurisdiction over misdemeanor cases originating in the San Fernando Valley parts of Los Angeles. Thousands of dollars in fines from auto traffic and liquor cases have been collected.

ROCK PIT YIELDS MYSTERY

Corona Hunter Finds Decomposed Body of Man Thought to Have Been Slain Months Ago

CORONA, Aug. 29.—The decomposed body of a man was found yesterday in the old Phillips rock quarry, about three miles east of this city, and the indications are that the man was murdered.

The mouth of the victim was stuffed with rags, which were held in place by a strong rope wound around the head. Another rope was around the neck. The pit in which the body was found, contains about six feet of water.

Rex Johnson of this city was out hunting with his dogs and one of them led him to the pit, which is about fifteen feet deep. Looking into the pit Johnson made out the form of a man and immediately notified the police, who in turn notified Sheriff Sweters.

Evidently the body is that of a white man between 35 and 40 years of age, five feet, six inches tall, has several gold teeth. A three-quarter karat diamond ring was found on the left hand.

Two pairs of trousers, a good overcoat and a large quantity of rags, such as are found in tailoring establishments, were found close to the body.

The rock quarry is inaccessible except to those familiar with the winding road through the hill.

From the conditions of the body the authorities are of the opinion that it had been in the water for several months.

Comedian's Role Fits Him Like Glove; Play Rates as Comedy-Drama

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

It's something of a hybrid—this "Going Crooked," which opened at the Playhouse last night. It strikes a more or less happy medium between being a crook drama and a farce comedy.

There are those who might suggest that inasmuch as it was written by Winchell Smith and William Collier, those estimable gentlemen might have done a better job of it. "Going Crooked" has much that is worth while, however, and if you are reasonably charitable, the unworthy parts can be glossed over without causing any undue anguish.

Edward Everett Horton has a role which fits his comedy abilities with almost glove-like perfection. The play really doesn't matter with this star. His followers, and they are legion, judging by last night's audience, flock to the box office to see him and not his play. In many respects "Going Crooked" offers him a greater acting opportunity than "In Love With Love," his last play. I have seldom seen him do better work.

As the William Ward of the play, Horton appears as a young man wallowing helplessly in dire financial straits. With the help of a friend he concludes to pose as a notorious thief of rare paintings. With his conviction a reward will be paid which will meet pressing financial obligations. Ward is quite willing to spend a year or two in the penitentiary to gain financial independence, anyway, "jails are just like men's clubs now." The ruse works, but not in the expected way. The real thief comes to light, and the hero gets the reward without the jail sentence—which is exactly the way all good plays should end. There is a nicely worked-out mystery as to the identity of the real thief.

Many of the lines are clever, and laughs are generously sprinkled throughout the three acts of the play. There are one or two examples of it that are hoary with age. The hero can't decide what trade he will adopt during his proposed prison sojourn. He has never worked, nor has he any particular desire to work.

"I know," he declares brightly. "I shall be a traveling man."

That joke was retired on an old age pension when Santa Claus only wore a mustache, and it is the remark which brings down the curtain at the end of the first act.

Making all allowances for a natural first night nervousness on the part of cast, and uncertainty of lines, there is a lagging of interest in the second act. Action should be speeded considerably.

In the supporting cast, Stewart Wilson scores as the friend of the hero—his role being an important one. A little more assurance with lines and Wilson will give an excellent performance. Irving Mitchell shows a nice sense of comedy values as the devoted valet of the prisoner-elect. George La Mont is very good as the hard-boiled detective.

Rhea Mitchell does the best she can with the heroine's role, although it is a meager one. She received quite an ovation last night, however. Helen Brooks is satisfactory as the ingenue, and makes a most attractive stage appearance.

J. Anthony Smythe, Robert Stone and Maria Bryar pleased, Stone particularly contributing a clever character bit.

The entire action of the play transpires in the living-room of Ward's apartment in less than twenty-four hours' time. The setting, designed by Ben Klutcher, is excellent.

McWade Joins Cast of Play in Hollywood

I bert McWade, character actor of the American stage, arrived from New York today. He will go into rehearsal at the Hollywood Playhouse for the forthcoming production of "Home Towners," which opens September 12, next.

Pursuant to his policy of securing the best of dramatic talent, Ed W. Rewland, managing director, spared no efforts to bring McWade across the continent to appear here. McWade will interpret the original "home-towner," a role which he filled with George M. Cohan's New York and Chicago companies. The part was written especially for him by Cohan.

"If I Was Rich?" is forced to close its successful run by the contracted premiere of "Home Towners," September 12. It is announced that there will be a special Labor Day matinee, September 5. This is in addition to the regular Sunday matinee performance at the Hollywood Playhouse.

Capitol Club Fetes Party

Feted at a reception accorded by the Press Club of Washington, D. C., Richard Wallace, who is to direct Will Rogers in "The Texas Steer," shared honors with the comedian and Mayor emeritus of Beverly Hills upon the arrival of the party at the national capital, according to a message received from Wallace yesterday.

"The Press Club gathering for Will Rogers was a huge success. The entire cast of the forthcoming production was introduced and Rogers made Congressman-at-large," read a portion of Wallace's telegram.

Two Injured at West Point

WEST POINT (N. Y.) Aug. 29.—Joan Crawford and William Haines, who are making scenes here for a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "The West Pointer," were slightly injured when their automobile crashed into an ice truck this afternoon. Miss Crawford suffered a scalp wound requiring several stitches. Haines had an arm wrenched.

The two actors were driving through a heavy rainstorm to make some interior scenes in the academy barracks when their chauffeur failed to avoid a truck ahead. Miss Crawford and Haines were in the rear seat, and both ducked to avoid a shower of broken glass.

Outdoor Romance Claims Her

Renee Adoree

"PASSION" RANKED AS GREAT

"Passion," the Ernst Lubitsch production made in Germany a number of years ago, and starring Pola Negri and Emil Jannings, is the feature picture at the Pantages this week, and a feature, indeed, it is.

Although it is a number of years since this glamorous and epochal romance of the famous courtesan of France, Du Barry, and her kingly lover, Louis XV, was screened, and although there have been marked improvements in technique, in lighting, in the whole business of picture-making, since then, this film still deserves to be ranked among great screen achievements. It served to introduce Negri to America, and certain it is that her portrayal of Du Barry is superb.

The accompanying vaudeville bill has its bright and snappy highlights. Chief among them is the work of the California Night Hawks, jazz performers extraordinary, who combine skill at the horns and drums with nimble footwork and clever pantomimic efforts.

They have some pleasing songs, too. Their performance partakes of a revue nature, what, with the assistance of several comely feminine performers. Noteworthy among the efforts of the Night Hawks proper, however, was the imitation of the steam engine and train to which Jerry Eby, musical director, contributed the best of his ability.

Paul Gordon is a tight-rope performer who is as much at home in the air as a small boy in a park swing. He does a "drunk" pantomime which is rare.

Belle Derex and Mazie Clifton, billed as "Late of the Greenwich Follies," are two gals dressed in the height of Bowery fashion of days gone by. If they could snap up their jokes to compare with their footwork and the racy angles of their costumes they should be a wow. As it is, they are pretty good.

Frank Stafford in hunter's costume imitates the birds, puts his trained dog through some stunts and indulges in by-play with a diminutive partner.

Russell and Marconi play the accordion and violin, respectively, presenting such old favorites as "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms." They don white caps and do the "Dance of the Wooden Soldiers," which is good for a laugh.

Mariska Aldrich, billed as "the mother superior of the Miracle Play," has a pleasing voice and is heard in such as "My Rosary," "Annie Laurie" and "Sky Blue Water."

WESTERN ACTOR FOR POLA

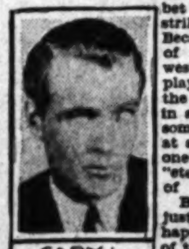
BY GRACE KINGSLEY

If you had ten guesses as to who would play the male lead opposite Pola Negri in her next picture for Paramount, I'll bet you wouldn't strike it right. Because the idea of an actor of western types playing opposite the exotic Pola in an exotic play somehow doesn't at all fit in with one's idea of the "eternal fitness of things."



GARY COOPER

But that is just what has happened. A man of the great open spaces, both professionally on the screen and in reality, will have the lead in Miss Negri's picture, "Rachel," based on the life of the great French actress of that name.

Gary Cooper, not to keep you in suspense any longer, will play the part of John Mitchell, a young hero who "falls for" the fascinating actress.

This young actor has had a remarkable career. He is just finishing a dashing role in "Beau Sabreur," following a starring career in a number of westerns.

Cooper is the son of a Montana judge, and spent all his youth on a ranch near Helena. He had much talent as an artist, and came west to make his way as a newspaper cartoonist, but not meeting with any luck he began to besiege the casting offices of the picture studios. One day a casting director called us up and said, "I've got a young man here that I believe is a comer. I do wish you'd use his picture and a little story about a part we've just given him. His name is Gary Cooper." We used the story, and we have been using stories about him ever since for the simple reason that that casting director was right. He played a part in "The Winning of Barbara Worth," and B. P. Schulberg of Paramount saw him. Schulberg at once put him under contract, and he appeared in "Children of Divorce," and in subsequent pictures.

While abroad, Pola Negri did much research work in Paris on the life and adventures of Rachel, the great actress who passed tragically at last, the victim of consumption.

Roland V. Lee will direct, and it is understood that the production is to be one of the most lavish Paramount has ever made.

Polan Banks Busy

Even before the printer's ink is dry on this copy, it is quite possible that Polan Banks, that young writer of 21 years who was acclaimed when his novel, "Black Ivory," was published, will have signed a long-term contract to write for one of the big picture firms.

In the meantime, Banks has sold a new story of his, based on early days of the California Missions, to another big firm, and a very important director—sometimes called the master of them all—is very likely to direct it. An interesting angle of this story is that Banks's eastern publishers have commissioned him to write a novel based on the screen story, with illustrations made from the stills of the picture.

A film version of "Black Ivory" is to be one of the most pretentious of the Warner Brothers' productions. It is to have a Vitaphone accompaniment, according to the word of Jack Warner.

Alan Crosland, who succeeded so admirably in putting "Don Juan" on the screen, will direct "Black Ivory."

As though all this were not enough glory for one young author, an operetta written by Banks will open on Broadway in New York this fall. It is on the cards that Janet MacDonald, star of "Yes, Yes, Yvette," and Dennis King, of "The Vagabond King," will play the leads.

Dorothy Gish With U

If present negotiations succeed, Dorothy Gish and Tom Moore will be signed by Universal to play the leading roles in "Anybody Seen Kelly?" it was learned on good authority yesterday.

DOROTHY GISH.

The proposed production is not inspired by the song, but is an original by Leigh Jacobson. It is now being put into scenario form by James Gruen under the supervision of Charles Logue, who has half a dozen or more units at Universal under his wing.

"Anybody Seen Kelly?" as a story is started in the Army of Occupation and ends on the sidewalks of New York. Dorothy Gish if signed will play the role of a German fraulein, while Tom Moore plays another Irishman. William Wyler will direct.

Rudolph Schildkraut in It

We aren't at all surprised after seeing him in "The King of Kings" to receive an enthusiastic report from the Cecil B. De Mille studios to the effect that Rudolph Schildkraut is proving himself to be one of the most valuable players that Cecil B. De Mille has under contract, as well as one of the most versatile players in Hollywood.

VERA REYNOLDS

Latest proof of this is his being cast for a featured role in "The Main Event," Vera Reynolds's latest De Mille picture, which William K. Howard is directing.

Victor Fleming to Direct

Since "The Way of All Flesh" and Emil Jannings made a hit, nobody is going to be surprised to hear that Victor Fleming has been again assigned to direct the star in the latter's next picture. Such is indeed the case, although the name of the story is still in abeyance.

LILA LEE GETS TITLE STAGE ROLE

Winsome Actress to Have Lead in Production at El Capitan

Henry Duffy announces the signing of the charming and demure Lila Lee for the leading feminine role in his next play, "What Ann Brought Home," which is due to open at El Capitan Theater on Sunday afternoon with Miss Lee in the role of Ann.

"What Ann Brought Home" attracted during its run at Wallack's Theater, New York, where it appeared a part of last season. Henry Duffy made a bid for the Coast right to the piece. It will be the first time the play has been offered in the West. The cast he has been able to secure numbers, in addition to the Duffy players who appeared in "Laff That Off," his initial offering, John Junior, last here in "The Dove;" Clarence H. Wilson and Margaret Wesner, who complete the trio of newcomers. Kenneth Daigneau, Joseph De Stefani, Frank Darien, Olive Cooper and Helen Keers, who have already won their spurs in the Henry Duff Players productions, fill the balance of the roles. Edwin H. Curtis is directing the piece.

A special matinee will be played on Monday, Labor Day.

Twenty-four Pianists to Play Tonight

Tonight is the "California night of music" in the Hollywood Bowl by Adolf Tandler's Little Symphony, featuring the following California artists: Calmon Luboviski, master violinist; Corleen Wells, soprano; twenty Norma Gould Dancers and the clavier orchestra, comprising twenty-four leading pianists.

The music to Rachmaninoff's "Prelude Militaire;" Liszt's "Love Dream" ty Norma Gould dancers and the Pattison, is arranged by Adolf Tandler to be played in eight different parts like the instruments in a regular orchestra.

Skit Feature of Cast Night

Two special events will take place at Grauman's Egyptian Theater during the current run of "College," Buster Keaton's newest United Artists comedy.

Wednesday will be "cast night," with members of the cast presenting an original skit on the stage, and Thursday night will be celebrated by the appearance on the stage of a number of the outstanding athletes who are featured in "College." Among them will be Lee Barnes, pole vaulter; Bud Houser, discus winner in the last Olympic Games; Charles Borah, Kenneth Grumbles, Morton Kaer, Leighton Dye and others.

The members of the cast who will be present Wednesday night, named by the management, include Ann Cornwall, Grant Withers, Snitz Edwards, Harold Goodwin, Florence Turner and James Horne, who directed.

Pan-American Night is Set

On the night of September 7, the aCrthay Circle Theater will be a social mecca when more than two-score consular representatives of nearly every foreign country in the world will attend a special Pan-American consular night in their honor and witness the presentation of "Seventh Heaven" with Carli Elinor's concert orchestra and Jack Laughlin's prologue, "Paris."

It is estimated that the consular representatives who will see "Seventh Heaven" represent more than 400,000 residents in Los Angeles, and reservations have been pouring into the Circle box office from friends of the consuls who wish to make this a representative gathering.

Music Box to Honor Guests

One thousand Legionnaires and their friends will fill to capacity tonight the Hollywood Music Box Theater, where Will Morrissey is starring in "Exposures." The occasion will be American Legion Night, sponsored by the Hollywood Post No. 43, in honor of Morrissey, who was in command of overseas entertainment committee during the war.

The theater will be decorated with the insignia and banners of the seventeen Legion posts in the county, and the Legionnaires have been invited to wear their caps and battle colors. Morrissey has written several special sketches and numbers for the occasion, while Roy Cummings and Harry Downing, the two leading comedy principals, will also deviate from their usual lines and antics.

Marine Corps Goes to Show

Los Angeles' own Three Hundred and Seventh United States Marine Corps Reserve Company will be mobilized Wednesday evening to see "The Big Parade" at the Criterion Theater.

A formal invitation to the reserve company was extended to Maj. F. M. Reno, inspector-instructor of the Three Hundred and Seventh, and Lieut. John W. Colton in behalf of Capt. Guy Lewis, commanding officer of the company, yesterday at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, by Karl Dane, Slim of "The Big Parade." The invitation included the complete personnel of the Three Hundred and Seventh Company.

A special program for the marines is being planned.

MAYAN'S SPECIAL MATINEE

The Mayan Theater, where Elsie Janis is holding forth in the musical comedy, "Oh, Kay," will have a special afternoon performance on Monday, Labor Day, it is reported. Miss Janis's contract calls for only the regular two matinees weekly, but because of the capacity business which the musical show is doing, she has consented to appear at the one extra performance.

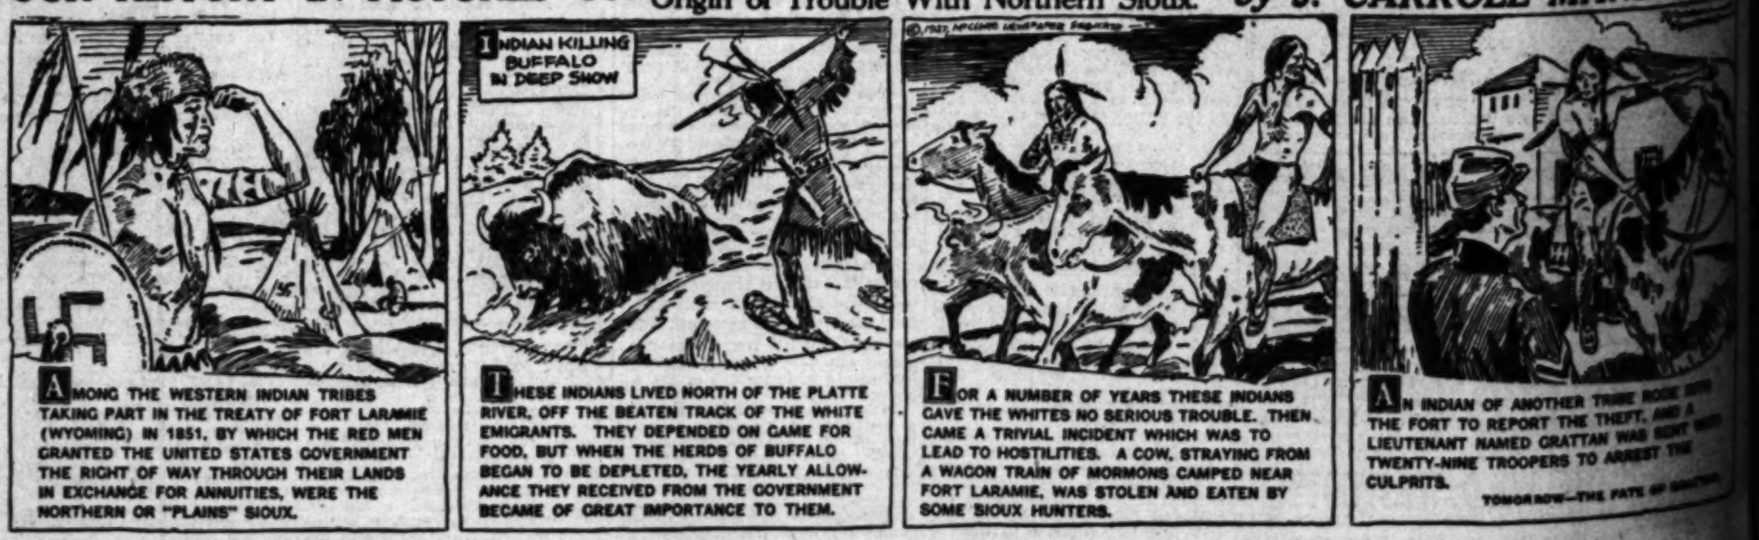
OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 807 Origin of Trouble With Northern Sioux. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



AMONG THE WESTERN INDIAN TRIBES TAKING PART IN THE TREATY OF FORT LARAMIE (WYOMING) IN 1851, BY WHICH THE RED MEN GRANTED THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT THE RIGHT OF WAY THROUGH THEIR LANDS IN EXCHANGE FOR ANNUITIES, WERE THE NORTHERN OR "PLAINS" SIOUX.
INDIAN KILLING BUFFALO IN DEEP SNOW
THESE INDIANS LIVED NORTH OF THE PLATTE RIVER, OFF THE BEATEN TRACK OF THE WHITE EMIGRANTS. THEY DEPENDED ON GAME FOR FOOD, BUT WHEN THE HERDS OF BUFFALO BEGAN TO BE DEPLETED, THE YEARLY ALLOWANCE THEY RECEIVED FROM THE GOVERNMENT BECAME OF GREAT IMPORTANCE TO THEM.
FOR A NUMBER OF YEARS THESE INDIANS GAVE THE WHITES NO SERIOUS TROUBLE. THEN CAME A TRIVIAL INCIDENT WHICH WAS TO LEAD TO HOSTILITIES. A COW, STRAYING FROM A WAGON TRAIN OF MORMONS CAMPED NEAR FORT LARAMIE, WAS STOLEN AND EATEN BY SOME SIOUX HUNTERS.
AN INDIAN OF ANOTHER TRIBE RODE INTO THE FORT TO REPORT THE THEFT, AND A LIEUTENANT NAMED GRATTAN WAS SENT WITH TWENTY-NINE TROOPERS TO ARREST THE CULPRITS.

TWO SIDES TO WEALTH TALES

Stock Promoters Tell Only What Lures Suckers

Buyer Must Always Observe Reverse of Medal

Better Business Bureaus in Death Fight on Evil

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Aug. 29. (Exclusive)—Next to having Lady Luck smile upon himself, the average American is said to enjoy hearing about the "easy" or "quick" money that has been made by others. This is not so much because he derives a vicarious pleasure from the good luck of others, but because he is strengthened in his hope that some day things will break his way.

And while he "eats up" stories of the sudden wealth or sudden success that come to others, this same average American is equally avid for details of the misfortunes that have visited others. He relishes almost as much learning of what he has escaped as he does the "kick" he gets out of thinking that some day he may have Lady Luck where she will "feed right out of his hand!"

So it is that the fakers and crooks in the underworld of finance bait their prospective victims with tales of some of the many miracles that have happened. Their advertisements will tell of the school-teacher who invested $100 in the stock of a certain oil company and who sold out a year later for $100,000, or of the man who put $1000 into an apparently bottomless hole in the automobile industry only to have his investment returned to him ten thousand fold.

Both stories may be absolutely authentic and susceptible of proof. Quite possibly they have first been told in the news columns of the daily press. Obviously they are luring as well as convincing to the person who has a few hundreds or a few thousands that are earning merely a beggarly 3, or 5, or 7 per cent, and of course nothing is said about the unfortunate who invest their savings in similar and apparently as attractive speculations and lose their all.

As Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford said to the trustful youth who was handing him $10,000, "Now, as I understand it, all you want for this is an absolutely safe investment that will bring you in anywhere from 10 to 100 per cent a month?" the youth replying that of course he wanted to make as much as he could and he would trust Mr. Wallingford to do the best he could for him. What a perfect proceeding from a crook's viewpoint!

LOSSES POINTED OUT

So it is that the Better Business Bureaus of the country, in undertaking to safeguard your purse, tell and reiterate the stories of the misfortune that has visited so many people who were trying to find the quick and easy road to wealth. They paint the other side of the picture.

They point out, for example, that purchasers of 1000 shares each of thirty-one stocks listed on the Boston Curb Exchange, at the "highs" during 1925-27, would have paid $114,402.50, and if they had sold at bid quotations on June 22, last, would have received only $15,022.50 for their holdings. None of those stocks had paid a dividend.

Through a bulletin the Boston Better Business Bureau has told a few facts about the promoters of these stocks. These facts are such that no one who investigated would risk a dollar upon the representations made by these promoters—unless the investor were one of the fatuous individuals who think they can "outsmart" the crooks and fakers.

CROOKS SHOWN UP

Interestingly enough, one of the most graphic stories of operations of this kind is taken from an article written by one of the promoters who evidently believed that by exposing the inside of the game he would win faith in his own reliability.

"In jobs of this kind," he wrote, "the promoters have at heart no pretense of permanent investment, or a permanent deal, or even a square deal. They take a crude mining or oil prospects or some new industry, raw and untried, that would be a crass gamble at genuine prospect price, at a few pennies a share. Often the properties are not even owned; only options are held. The object is to unload in a quick job a great quantity of the stock at high prices. Then the promoters and the whole 'market' quietly disappear like the proverbial Arab who silently folded big tent in the night and stole away."

Unloading the stock, it is explained, is done largely by the "dynamiter" working by telephone, who is not legally responsible for anything he says or promises.

"He can say or promise anything," says the article. "The sky is the limit. His conscience is his guide, and oh, what a conscience he has, if any!"

How the dynamiters work was illustrated strikingly while the writer sat in the office of the Washington Better Business Bureau. A telephone inquiry came from a local banker who wanted to know about a certain stock offering. He was told succinctly and definitely just what was going on. It was this:

Jones, a high explosive salesman in Washington, called Mr. Smith, a prospective sucker in, say, Frederick, Md., on the phone and told him that if he would act at once he could get a block of stock at $5 a share that was absolutely certain to go to $10 within a week or ten days. "I'm so certain you want to be in on this that I've wired New York you're taking 2000 shares," said Jones. "This is inside stuff. Send me a telegram before 3 o'clock this afternoon and confirm your order for the 2000 shares."

An hour or so later Mr. Smith received a telephone call from New York. "This is Getum and Nickum, brokers," said the voice on the wire. "We represent clients who are in a market fight for control of So-and-So Company. We have learned that a large block of that stock has just been allocated to you. We don't know what you paid for it, but we'll give you $9 a share for all you can deliver to us within five days. Give us a quick answer."

NOT PERFECT SUCKER

That all shaped up like a fine deal in which Mr. Smith could make $8000 overnight. Perhaps, if his friend Jones could get him more of the stock, he could make more. Happily, Mr. Smith was not the "perfect sucker" that the promoters are always after. He went to his local banker and told him about it. The local bank called the Washington banker, who called the Better Business Bureau, the manager of which was completely informed about that particular promotion. That little game was spoiled.

RADIO PLEADS FOR TRAFFIC HELP

Make Life Easier for Man in Uniform, Bureau of Safety Urges

Quoting liberally from an editorial in a publication issued by the Los Angeles Railway Company, Sergt. E. L. Johnson of the police bureau of public safety, in a talk over KHJ, yesterday urged co-operation with the traffic police. Their work is difficult, he said, and, the more that drivers help them the better service they will be able to give.

A traffic policeman is in a position to make life a burden to motormen and automobile operators, the speaker remarked, but, on the other hand, he can do much to lighten their labors and send them on their way rejoicing. If his work is made as easy as possible for him, he will be able to return the favor in good measure.
